TWO DIE IN RIOT WHEN STRIKERS BATTLE POLICE

Third Union Man Is Shot as 2,000 Attack Cars in New Orleans.

MOB TEARS UP RAILS; BRICKS ARE WEAPONS

Vehicles Taken From Their Guards; One Pushed in Door of Building.

SERVICE IS STOPPED; DISORDER ALLAYED

Company Ordered by Officials of City to Cease Efforts at Height of Trouble.

New Orleans, La., July 5 (A.P.).—Historic Canal street was turned into a battle ground today as striking street car men and their sympathizers fought it out with nonunion workers and policemen.

The day's casualties showed two dead union men, one union man shot through the shoulder and hundreds of bruised and injured on both sides, from the brickbat, club and gun fights precipitated by attempts of the New Orleans Public Service, Inc., to operate street cars.

Starting early today with the launching of the first street car from the Canal Street Barn, mob fury rapidly rose until 2,000 men and a few women were engaged in attacks on the street cars. Finally the crowd captured the third and last street car to put out from the barn, chased the nonunion men and police guards off, tore the car to pieces and burned it down to the tracks in front of the Louisville & Nashville passenger station.

Trouble Car Is Burned.

Previously they had overturned and burned a company motor trouble car sent to rescue the street car, and set upon the starters and attacked the tool shed in the middle of Canal street, demolishing it and applying the torch.

Several hundred men then righted the burned trouble car and pushed it a quarter mile to the general offices of the public service and shoved it into the doorway, smashing the jams and creating panic among the women employes and customers. A police riot squad drove them off and dragged the car to headquarters. Farther up Canal street the strikers tore up a section of track, and spiked rails, heavy timbers, concrete and other obstacles were placed cross the tracks.

Police admitted they could not control the mob and firemen had their hose jerked out of their hands when they attempted to stop the fires.

Company Ordered to Stop Cars.

After receiving reports of the disorders, the city commission council formally ordered the Public Service to cease attempts to operate any more cars for the time being and instructed the police to break up any street gatherings other than authorized picketers allowed for each car barn. These orders served to quiet the disturbances somewhat, although sporadic trouble continued to break out over the city late in the day.

Sylvan Thibodaux, union motorman, died this afternoon from a bullet wound through the head received during the volley from the inside of one of the street cars, and Joseph Monierio, 60 years old, car washer, died from a bullet wound through the neck in the riots of last night. William T. Foret, union conductor, was in the hospital for treatment of a bullet wound through the shoulder.

All of the operators and police guards on the cars were injured by brickbats, which fairly rained on the cars during their brief trips in the street. The police reported approximately 200 arrests.

Child Seriously Injured As Automobiles Colldie

William Kidwell, 7-year-old son of Arthur Kidwell, of Cherrydale, Va., was seriously injured last night in an automobile collision on Lee highway. The child was brought to eorgetown Hospital and treated for a possible skull fracture and oher injuries.

The car which collided with the automobile in which the Kidwell child was a passenger was driven by Galbert Wesley, colored, of Washington. No charge was made against him, witnesses telling police that he was not at fault.

Georgetown Records Heavy Earth Tremors

(Associated Press.)

Two heavy earthquakes were recorded late yesterday on the seismograph at Georgetown University. Both were estimated by Director Tondorf to have been in the same locality, about 4,600 miles south of Washington.

The second began about 4:47 p. m. and continued several hours, with the maximum shocks at 6:17 p. m. The first began at 9:30 a. m. and reached its maximum at 9:55 a. m.

Fight in Air Preceded Stultz Crash, Six Say

Autopsy in Interest of Flying Holds Pilot Was Drunk.

Mineola, N. Y., July 5 (U.P.).—A fight in the air with his passengers immediately preceded the hurtling to death of Wilmer Stultz, transatlantic flight hero, and two aerial "hitch-hikers" in Stultz's speed plane last Monday.

This startling preface to triple death was revealed in a signed statement tonight by six eyewitnesses of Stultz's last flight.

It offset to a degree, comforting at least to Stultz's fellow pilots, the precedent-setting autopsy secretly performed on the body of the famous flier. As revealed by Assistant District Attorney Philip Huntington, the uncovered brain and slit abdomen of the luckless Stultz showed that his vital organs contained alcohol.

"The public is asked and urged to support aviation," said Huntington in commenting on the autopsy that blackened the name and death of Stultz. "If there is any bad spot, the public is entitled to know the truth. The problems of the aviation industry are far more important than the misfortune of any individual, tragic though the misfortune may be."

Huntington then pointed out that Stultz, although rated without dispute one of the ten best pilots in America, was merely "a free lance, employed by the Whitneys, I believe by John H. Whitney, and had the use of the field.

WILMER STULTZ.

He was not employed or in any way connected with the Roosevelt Field organization."

An independent investigation by inspectors of the United States Department of Commerce turned up the hair-raising proceedings that occurred a few seconds before the plane's crash. Earlier testimony had been merely to the effect that Stultz was stunting too near the ground.

Anton Holecek, 31, who operates a gasoline filling station near the scene of the tragedy, was the first to say that he saw a struggle in the plane be-

HUGE INCREASE IN U.S. BUILDING FUND IS SOUGHT

HooverWants $25,000,000 More for Program of Construction Here.

APPROPRIATION NOW TOTALS $50,000,000

President's Plan Would Make $12,500,000 Available Every Year.

CONGRESS AID ASKED IN EXECUTIVE'S PLAN

Remodeling and Resurfacing of State, War Structure Is Also Proposed.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

President Hoover intends to ask Congress for an additional $25,000,000 authorization for the Federal building program here. The authorization would be spread over a ten-year period at $2,500,000 a year with a view to completing the program within that time.

This additional authorization is needed for the Justice, Labor and Independent office buildings, for which there is now sufficient money or authorization available for the sites but not enough for construction.

Aside from these projects and having no relation to the additional $25,000,000 to be sought, the President is also to ask for the resurfacing or remodeling of the present State, War and Navy Building to make it conform architecturally to the Treasury and to remove what are described as its architectural monstrosities. It is estimated this work can be done for $2,500,000.

Expands Original Program.

The $25,000,000 authorization to be sought is for expansion of the original $50,000,000 Federal program here, although it is not for expansion of the work originally contemplated in the program.

Of this $50,000,000 the Secretary of the Treasury has already been authorized to contract up to approximately $48,000,000 and the following projects are provided for:

Purchase of an economics building, $350,000, of which only $325,000 was found to be needed.

Center portion of the Agricultural Buildings, $2,000,000.

Purchase of land and construction of an Agricultural Building, $5,750,000.

Purchase of site and construction of an Archives Building, $8,750,000.

Construction of Commerce Building, $17,500,000.

Purchase of land and construction of an addition to the General Postoffice Building, $1,250,000.

Purchase of portion of site and construction of an Internal Revenue Building, $10,000,000.

Construction of a Liberty Loan Annex, $375,000.

Purchase of a site for the new Supreme Court Building, $1,768,741.

Diversion of water mains, other utilities and the like, $225,000.

Liberty Loan Annex Completed.

Of this program, the Liberty Loan Annex has been completed and work is now proceeding on the Agricultural Building center portion, the Department of Commerce and the Internal Revenue Buildings.

It is the President's view that by obtaining an additional $25,000,000 the construction of the Justice, Labor and Independent Office Buildings may be done more cheaply. The idea is to have the entire building program carried out by rotation. This insures steady building throughout the ten-year period and reduces the cost all around. Contractors, knowing definitely the total amount of work to be done, shape their bids accordingly, and with this knowledge are, of course, prepared to offer

ENDURANCE RECORD EXCEEDED AS CLEVELAND FLIERS ROAR ON TOWARD 200-HOUR FLIGHT GOAL

DAMAGED FUSELAGE MAY FORCE LANDING

Turtleback Bumped by Oil Cans in Transfer, May Be Blown Off.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 5 (A.P.).—The endurance fliers Roy L. Mitchell and Byron K. Newcomb tonight equalled the world record for refueled flights when they passed the mark of 172 hours 32 minutes 1 second at 11:10:52 o'clock (Eastern standard time).

The must exceed the old record by one hour to obtain official recognition for a new one.

The endurance plane, the City of Cleveland, was running strongly as it passed the old record, although damage to its fuselage threatened to end its long flight. However, Newcomb and Mitchell continued to force it onward.

Though fatigued by their long grind, Newcomb and iMtchell intend to stay aloft as long as possible. The big Wright whirlwind motor was running smoothly and there was plenty of fuel to last through the night, but the turtle-back, a part of the fuselage of the craft, was liable to be torn off by the wind at any time. It had been damaged during the repeated transfers of oil cans, which bumped as they were landed from the end of a cable, dangling below the supply ship.

Pilots Getting Sleep.

The fact that the pilots could stand erect in the big, special-built Stinson-Detroiter, giving them relaxation of muscles, was a big factor in their hope to continue the flight many hours beyond the time of a new record. They also have been able to get frequent periods of sleep. Nevrtheless, both of thm were awfully tird and nearly deaf from the roar of the motor.

"Everything O. K.," the pilots messaged tonight as the ship was refueled for the twenty-fourth time, but they added: "Watch us tonight. Be ready to turn on flood lights. Any time we may lose turtle back."

As the City of Cleveland drew close to the record, the crowds at the airport became jubilant and milled around excitely. At least 10,000 persons were at the airport waiting for "Newk" and "Mitch" to reach their record goal.

Airport Well Lighted.

All the lights of the airport were lighted as requested by the fliers in the event an emergency landing is necessary, but backers of the flight expected Newcomb and Mitchell would be able to remain aloft at least until morning.

After the fliers were able to fight through the violent storm of all last night, ground crews believed there would be no weather hazards sufficient to force them down tonight. There was not much wind at the airport tonight and the atmosphere was clear.

The blue ship, with a big "13" painted on its fuselage, had been in the air since 6:38. p. m. a week ago tonight, having been piloted safely through fog and storm in the attempt to break the world's refueling flight endurance record of 172 hours 32 minutes, and 1 second established at Fort Worth, Tex., by James Kelly and Reginald Robbins.

Goal Is 200 Hours.

Newcomb and Mitchell, however, had their goal set at 200 hours or more and were not expected down even

K. K. K. ABANDONS HEADQUARTERS HERE

EVANS STAYS IN CAPITAL

The Ku Klux Klan has abandoned Washington as a national headquarters and is now back in Atlanta, Ga., the place of its birth. Two reasons are given for the transfer, one having to do with politics and the other with efficiency.

News of the transfer leaked out yesterday about the same time it was being announced that the Washington branch of the klan would hald a big mass meeting tonight in a field at Forestville, Md., about 4 miles from the District Line on the Marlboro pike.

The klan pitched its national headquarters here a year or so ago, one official explained, principally on account of the presidential campaign. It was believed that this was the best place to direct its fight against the Democratic candidate, Alfred E. Smith.

"Well, the campaign is over now," this official said. "Will we move back again? That may depend on who the candidates are."

The other reason for the removal was that the klan has just erected two new buildings in Atlanta, one a factory where the regalia is turned out and the other an administrative building for the officials and clerks of the organization.

The officials and employes who were here and who are now back in Atlanta, occupied the Dahlgren mansion at 1325 Massachusetts avenue northwest. This had once been used by devout Catholics, the family of Admiral Dahlgren, and still was adorned with pictures and statues of saints when the klan moved in. Across the street from the mansion is the headquarters of the National Catholic Welfare Council.

Among klan officials who were located in the Dahlgren house were H. J. Ramsey, the imperial secretary; the editor of the klan organ, the Courier, who identity is a secret; the imperial

POINCARE OUTWITS QUIZZING DEPUTIES

French Premier Ends Interpellation When Cabinet Appears in Danger.

SEA FLIGHT SUGGESTED

Paris, July 5 (U.P.).—A day of tense excitement, during which the cabinet of Premier Raymond Poincare seemed in almost constant danger of being overthrown, ended quietly tonight as the opposition attack simmered out and the premier's position remained secure for the immediate present, at least.

The premier's wishes, however, have been overridden by the foreign and finance commissions in regard to the war debt accords with the United States and Great Britain. Both commissions have voted to insert in the accords reservations making payments dependent on reparations from Germany.

A bit of timely humor on the part of the deputies, who proposed Premier Poincare as an aspirant for transatlantic flight honors, aided materially in averting a crisis which had risen over a relatively unimportant issue.

Deputy Maurice Dormann, leader of the war veterans in the chamber who have been menacing the government, and Deputy Jean Goy caused the tension by their announced intention of questioning the government.

Dormann's interpellation was in regard to the minor issue of whether Police Chief Chiappe had been slapped by a war veteran during recent demonstrations, and Goy's questions concerned the important issue of ratification of the war debt accords with the United States and Great Britain.

With the stage apparently all set for the opposition forces to attempt to overthrow the government on the minor issue of whether Chiappe was slapped, Goy suddenly changed the menacing mood of the chamber to gayety by heckling Poincare on the debts issue.

"At the moment of asking ratification of the debts," said the deputy, "the people are not sufficiently informed of what it all means. The

ONE KILLED, 9 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Four in One Family Seriously Injured by Crash in Nearby Maryland.

HIT-RUN DRIVER SOUGHT

One person was killed and nine injured, four seriously, in automobile accidents in nearby Maryland yesterday. Six of the injured are Washingtonians.

An entire family returning from a Fourth of July outing was injured, three of the members seriously, while the entire group narrowly escaped electrocution. Another man was injured while saving his dog from death or injury under the wheels of an automobile, while the one death was due to an alleged hit-and-run machine. A hit-and-run automolle also figured in another accident.

Buck Freeman, colored, 40 years old, an employe of Judge T. Van Clagett of Upper Marlboro, was found dead on the Crain highway about a mile north of Upper Marlboro early yesterday morning. Nearly every bone in the man's body was broken, and a coroner's jury, summoned by Justice of the Peace H. W. Gore at Upper Marlboro, decided that the man had been killed by an automobile, the driver of which was unknown to the jury. Maryland State Policeman L. E. Dutrow is investigating the death.

Running in front of a moving automobile to rescue his pet poodle dog early yesterday, Arthur S. Halsey, 45 years old, of 1336 Quincy street northwest, is in a critical condition at Casualty Hospital from injuries received when he was knocked down by the car.

Halsey, who is assistant chief engineer in the Bureau of Ordnance at the Navy Department, was walking with friends yesterday morning at North Beach, Md., when the dog ran into the path of an automobile driven by Clyde Jones, colored, 23 years old, of 1110 Columbia road northwest. Halsey dashed into the roadway and attempted to drag the dog to safety. He was struck by the car, the wheels passing over both Halsey and the dog. The dog was not hurt.

Jones placed Halsey in his machine and brought him to Casualty Hospital, where he was found to have a fractured skull and hip and a fracture of the

Rome-Bound Plane Set For Hop-Off Early Today

Old Orchard, Me., July 5 (A.P.).—The monoplane Pathfinder was flown from Scarboro Airport, 6 miles from here, to Old Orchard Beach late today in anticipation of a takeoff for Rome tomorrow morning between 5 and 6 o'clock.

Lewis A. Yancey, navigator, said he had received reports of favorable flying conditions over the ocean from Dr. James H. Kimball, New York weather forecaster, and that the plane would be put in readiness tonight for the hop. Yancey said a takeoff attempt might be abandoned early tomorrow if it was found the beach was too rough or that unfavorable cross winds endangered the start.

DISARMAMENT TALK CURBED IN LONDON

SOVIET STATUS AT ISSUE

London, July 5 (A.P.).—Three of the principal issues in foreign policy which the Labor government must meet were outlined in the House of Commons today by Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson.

Disarmament conversations with the United States were briefly disposed of with an exchange of cordial good wishes and thanks between Sir Austen Chamberlain, late Conservative foreign minister, and his Labor successor. On behalf of the Conservative opposition, Sir Austen said:

"I believe myself we can best contribute by refraining from public discussion at this stage in matters which must be treated privately in the first instance if they are to produce full results. I therefore confine myself to wishing from the bottom of my heart success to the task."

Mr. Henderson committed himself no further in the matter than by thanking Sir Austin for his generosity in dealing with the subject.

On the questions of recognition of Russia and evacuation of the Rhine-

NEW CONSTITUTION PRESENTED IN SPAIN

CITIZENS' RIGHTS UPHELD

Madrid, July 5 (A.P.).—A new constitution of the Spanish monarchy was presented in the National Assembly today for study and examination by the assemblymen during the summer.

The project contains 11 sections and 104 articles detailing various concepts of the nation, state, nationality, individual rights, the monarchy and the succession to the throne.

Paris, July 5 (A.P.).—The new constitution of Spain, which was presented in the Spanish National Assembly today and will come up for plenary action in October, became known tonight in Paris.

By this constitution Spain is made a constitutional monarchy with Roman Catholicism as the state religion. The rights of free speech and publication by all Spanish subjects are guaranteed, with certain exceptions.

The executive power of the state is vested in the king, who, however, must consult the responsible ministers on important affairs. The legislative power will lie in a single body called the Cortes.

One-half of the Cortes will be elected by universal suffrage, 30 members appointed by royal decree and the rest elected by special classifications or professions as laws later enacted may establish.

There will be on member of the Cortes to each 100,000 inhabitants of Spain, and there will be no distinction between the sexes in it. Women as well as men may become members.

The king, profiting by the advice of his ministers, initiates all laws except those referring to government expenditurs and income which have previously received the approval of one-fifth of the deputies.

The highest judicial functions are vested in a supreme tribunal which is to apply the laws impartially and must limit its activities to judicial functions. The president of the supreme tribunal

Close of Post-Fox Movie Contest Scheduled Tonight

Flurry by Last Contingent to Qualify for Screen Tests Expected.

"Finis" will be written on the Post-Fox screen test contest tonight at 6 o'clock. Contestants who have not presented their ten subscriptions to The Sunday Washington Post at the office of the circulation manager by that hour will be automatically eliminated from the list of those who are entitled to a screen test.

A last-minute flurry of entrants rushing in to deposit their subscriptions is expected, as there are a number participating in the contest who have not yet reported. It is believed they have only delayed bringing in their subcriptions and that several names will be added to the already long list of those to have tests made.

Coincident with the closing of the contest today, a new group of picture tests will be shown at the Fox Theater, where all those entered will have the opportunity to see themselves in the

SELMA BORCHARDT.

Washington Woman Elected Vice President By Organization.

Chicago, July 5 (A.P.).—Teachers should not be kept in fear of losing their jobs because bobbed hair, dancing, smoking, short skirts, card playing, movies and matrimony are frowned upon by many school boards, the American Federation of Teachers asserted today in reaffirming its stand on academic freedom before adjourning its annual convention.

Just because women elect to teach is no reason why they should be subjected to restrictions in their personal lives not imposed upon women in other professions, the federation maintained.

The following vice presidents were elected: W. B. Satterthwaite, of Seattle; Abraham Lefkowitz, of New York; Lucie H. Schact, of Chicago; Florence Fish, of Minneapolis; Carlotta Pittman, of Memphis; A. J. Muste, of Brookwood; Selma Borchardt, of Washington; C. B. Stillman, of Chicago; W. J. Scott, of though they set a new record at 12:10:53 a. m. tomorrow.

They still had obstacles to overcome tonight, but compared with their battle with last night's electrical storm and the fog of last Tuesday which made refueling a hazardous task, they seemed minor. The Weather Bureau predicted showers, but not heavy enough to interfere with the flight.

The new refueling plane, hurriedly purchased and fitted with an extra gas tank after the old one, the "Flying Milk Wagon," was wrecked in last night's storm, made the twenty-third successful contact this afternoon under the guidance of Pilot E. E. Basham.

Fliers Look "Good."

Newcomb and Mitchell, although nearly deafened and fatigued by the long grind and last night's battle with the storm, were reported looking "good" by Eddie Stinson, Detroit pilot, who went up in the refueling plane.

A tense but good-natured crowd was growing anxious at the airport to celebrate the record-breaking hour. Probably two of the most interested spectators were the wives of Mitchell and Newcomb, who for the first time since the flight began, came out to spend the day and evening at the airport. Previously they had made only regular trips for information.

Robbins and Kelly also were expected early in the morning, possibly in time to see their record smashed.

Newcomb explained in a note that he and Mitchell both felt refreshed and recovered from last night's ordeal. They have been taking turns of six hours each at sleeping, he said.

Wife Sues Blacksmith For Limited Divorce

Mrs. Theresa E. Helwig, of 657 E street southwest, instituted limited divorce proceedings in District Supreme Court yesterday against her husband, Charles C. Helwig, of 717 F street southwest, charging cruelty.

The wife's petition set forth that her husband has continuously criticized, abused and maltreated her. She alleged that on June 26 he broke up the furniture and struck her, forcing her to have him arrested. The day following, the petition set out, she was beaten again, and left him. Helwig is a blacksmith, in partnership with his father, and has an income of $200 a month, the petition said. Attorney Milton W. King represents Mrs. Helwig.

Gas Fumes Menace Man Suffering Heart Attack

John Houston, 49 years old, an electrician of 2328 Fourteenth street northwest, was partially overcome in the bathroom of his home at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from illuminating gas escaping from a jet he had turned open, with intentions of lighting, a moment before collapsing with a heart attack.

Fire Rescue Squad No. 2, answering the alarm, found windows in the room open and reported the case as accidental. They rendered first aid before the arrival of Dr. J. Schwartzman from Emergency Hospital, who revived the man. His condition was pronounced as not serious.

Man Fined $10 for Trying To Buy Gin in Avenue Shop

Seeking the novelty of trying to buy a drink of gin in a Pennsylvania avenue novelty shop cost William Brice, colored, $10 yesterday at Police Court.

Brice embarked on a real old-fashioned celebration of Independence Day, according to testimony, and his supply of "liquid fireworks" apparently gave out. Policeman H. H. Prince told the magistrate that he arrested Brice after the latter had entered a novelty shop and demanded a drink of gin. Judge Given imposed the fine on a charge of intoxication.

ANGELENO'S FLIERS IN AIR FOUR NIGHTS

NEARING HALF-WAY MARK

Culver City, Calif., July 5 (A.P.).—Flying conditions for the Angeleno took on a brighter hue today as the biplane sailed on toward the halfway mark in its drive for a new endurance refueling record.

The fog menace disappeared gradually before a bright sun on the fourth day in the air for the plane's pilots, L. W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart.

After a morning refueling, the fliers dropped a message which indicated the first optimism they have shown since the record attempt began Tuesday. It read:

"Think we can beat the record by a good margin."

Fog the first two nights endangered the success of the flight and provided flying which was bumpy, giving the pilots little opportunity to relax.

The clearing weather enabled the Angeleno to hover over its home airport here after having been driven south to Imperial Valley yesterday to escape dangerous fog banks.

The fliers ordered another refueling at 3 p. m. and final refueling at 7 p. m. before beginning their fourth night in the air.

Leonardtown, Md., July 5.—The large 8-inch main which supplies Leonardtown with water sprung a leak underground today on Washington street and crippled much of the town's water supply.

Residents of the North End had water, but those in the South End found great difficulty in preparing their meals and getting enough to drink.

Mrs. Marion Hollander To Prosecute Husband

Chicago, July 5 (A.P.).—Mrs. Marion Taylor Hollander, a descendant of President Zachary Taylor and daughter of the late William Henry Taylor, a wealthy New York banker, appeared in superior court today to aid in prosecuting her divorced husband, George Hollander, of Chicago, once the family chauffeur, on a charge of perjury.

Hollander obtained a divorce last November by default after alleging misconduct on the part of his wife with one Otto Lang.

He said he was ready to go to trial to prove his allegations were not perjury. His attorney said he would introduce letters alleged to have been exchanged by Mrs. Hollander and Lang.

Mrs. Hollander's marriage to the family chauffeur in 1920 caused a stir in Washington society circles and resulted in her father disowning her.

238 Arrested by U. S. Park Police in June

The United States park police arrested 238 persons during June for various offenses, it was announced yesterday. Fines and forfeitures aggregating $2,358 were collected from the prisoners.

The largest number of arrests were for traffic violations, there being 121 of those. Drunkenness was second highest, with 72 arrests. Two other persons were arrested for drinking in public and two others for operating automobiles while intoxicated. The remaining offenses included violation of park regulations, 21; disorderly conduct, 12; mental observation, 3; joyriding, 2, and vagrancy, 3.

"NURSE" PLANE FEEDING GASOLINE

28 DIE IN STORMS RAVAGING EUROPE

Fierce Gales Sweep Through Five Countries Causing Widespread Havoc.

HAIL CUTS DOWN CROPS

London, July 5 (A.P.).—Twenty-eight persons were killed and hundreds injured by a tornado and hailstorms which swept through central Europe last night and early today, causing widespread damage throughout Czecoslovakia, Austria, Jugoslavia, Germany and Switzerland.

Growing crops were totally destroyed and many homes ruined in some districts. Telephone and telegraph wires were destroyed, hampering tabulation of the total of casualties and damages.

The storms, which started in Germany in the form of violent hailstorms tore down through Bohemia and Moravia. Then swinging westward they turned into Austria, raking the republic north, south, east and west. The disturbance divided, one section sweeping down south through Jugoslavia and another continuing westward into Switzerland.

The wind reached a reported velocity of 100 miles an hour in Austria, where it interrupted shipping on lakes and in the Danube.

Near Nurenberg, Germany, the storm was especially violent. One peasant was killed, thousands of windows were smashed by hail, crops were damaged and many homes partly destroyed.

Seven persons were killed in Bohemia and Moravia, ten more in Austria and ten in Jugoslavia.

Hundreds were injured along the path of the storms by falling walls, uprooted trees and flying debris.

A number of freak accidents marked their passage. In the village of Ohrozim, Moravia, the wind wrecked the cemetery and exposed the coffins in the ground. At Pardubice, Bohemia, a passenger alighting from a train was blown under the wheels of a coach and was killed when the train started.

Paris Police Seize Lavish Chicagoans

Two Alleged Members of Capone Gang Toss Money Around at Montmartre.

Paris, July 5 (A.P.).—Admitting that they were spending the proceeds of bootlegging operations in Chicago, two men were arrested here today who gave their names as William MacCherry and Robert Miller. The French police said the men were members of the gang of "Scarface" Al Capone.

The prisoners said they left Chicago because it was getting "unhealthy." They landed in France June 18 from a vessel which sailed from Montreal. The French police had been warned of their coming, and, at the request of the New York authorities, had been shadowing them ever since they set foot in this country.

The authorities assert that both men have a string of aliases and that Miller's photograph appears in the police galleries of New York and Chicago under several names.

The men had been throwing money around the Montmartre resorts and a search of their rooms revealed more than $10,000 in cash, as well as blank checks and several allegedly fraudulent letters of credit. They are held technically under charges of promoting a fake oil company.

"HEX" LINK IS SEEN IN FAMILY SLAYING

MYSTIC WRITINGS FOUND

Detroit, Mich., July 5 (A.P.).—Police tonight believed they had established a connection between the ax slaying of Bennie Evangelista, religious fanatic, his wife and four children Wednesday, and a series of similar crimes committed recently in the vicinity of York, Pa., and known as the "hex" murders. Behind all of the slayings is a background of black magic and weird religious and occult beliefs, officers say.

This link was established today when officers learned that Evangelista and his family had come to Detroit from York in 1921.

The crimes in the East, which police believe may be linked with the Detroit case, included the murder of Nelson Rehmeyer, a prosperous farmer and reputed witch doctor, near York in November, 1928, by three young men who sought to obtain hairs from his head to bury as a method of breaking his "spell." Another "hex" slaying, which came to light following the Rehmeyer killing, was that of Verma Octavia Delp, 21, at Allentown, Pa., last March.

The decapitated body of Evangelista and the mutilated bodies of his wife and children were found in their home Wednesday.

Three men arrested for questioning in connection with the murder were released yesterday. Umberto Tecchio, 42, and Angelo de Poli, 34, were still being held for questioning. Officers discovered an ax buried in a barn behind their home. Analysis of stains on the implement determined they were not blood spots, however. Dr. Paul A. Klebba, Wayne County coroner, stated yesterday a heavy knife or cleaver was the weapon used in the slayings.

Police continued to delve into a mass of religious writings and paraphernalia found at Evangelista's home in the hope of finding clews. The strange beliefs and dogmas espoused by Evangelista and his followers are similar to those which were revealed in the hex slayings in the East, officers say. Followers of the latter faith were attracted to Evangelista who professed similar beliefs.

Laborer Badly Injured By Falling Steel Girder

Sullivan J. Fleet, colored laborer, 24 years old, of Dupont Heights, Md., while working in the cellar of a building under construction at New Hampshire avenue and Emerson street northwest at 1:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon, received serious injuries when a 60-foot steel beam was blown from the scaffolding and across his back.

Fleet was reported in a critical condition at Freedmen's Hospital, where he was treated for a compound fracture of the left leg and possible internal injuries.

President Will Review Rainbow Unit July 15

President Hoover will review the Rainbow Division of the American Expeditionary Forces on July 15 at Baltimore, it was announced yesterday. The parade will be one of the principal features of the annual reunion of the outfit.

The President will make the trip to Baltimore and back to Washington by motor car. Prior to the parade, he is scheduled to be the guest of officers of the division at luncheon.

National Guard Aids Mississippi Search

Man Hunted as Slayer of Brother-in-Law Near Jackson.

Jackson, Miss., July 5 (A.P.).—Maj. Allan McClure and four officers of the Mississippi National Guard left here tonight to command 30 West Point and Corinth National Guard troops assembled at Booneville, to aid in the search for DeWitt Geno, alleged to have killed his brother-in-law, Amy Jumper, near that city yesterday.

Brig. Gen. J. M. Hairston ordered the troops out following Womac, of from Gov. Bilbo, sheriff Womac, of Prentiss County asked for aid. Geno is thought to be hiding in Prentiss County and it is thought that the sheriff knows his hiding place.

Santiago, Chile, July 5 (A.P.).—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday approved the settlement of the Tacna-Arica controversy with Peru. The Senate previously had approved the settlement, as had the Peruvian Senate.

HOOVER POWERLESS IN FRENCH DEBT CASE

President Unable to Grant Any Delay Unless Debtor Nation Ratifies Agreement.

UTTER ACCORD IS NEEDED

By ALBERT W. FOX.

France has been informed in unmistakable terms that President Hoover and Secretary Mellon can not accept a conditional ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt agreement as authority for postponing demand for the $400,000,000 war stocks debt due from France to the United States on August 1 next.

Any reservation incorporated in the resolution of ratification by France automatically makes it mandatory upon President Hoover to demand payment of the 400 ten-year 5 per cent gold bonds of $1,000,000 each which the French government delivered to the United States on August 1, 1919, and which mature and must be paid according to their terms unless the Mellon-Berenger agreement is ratified before the date of maturity. By the terms of the Mellon-Berenger agreement, the $400,000,000 debt becomes merged in the main debt agreement if ratification comes before August 1.

But conditional ratification gives Mr. Hoover no authority in law to postpone demand for the $400,000,000, and the recent action of Congress here absolutely forbids the executive branch of the Government from postponing demand unless there is ratification without conditions before the 1st of next August. Both the Senate and the House voted to authorize postponement of the demand in case France ratifies before August 1 and in case the ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement was "in accordance with the terms thereof."

Congress Forced Action.

President Hoover and Secretary Mellon would probably not have considered postponing the date of demand for the $400,000,000 if Congress here had not acted at all, but with Congress having expressly gone on record in stipulating the terms upon which postponement would be authorized, the executive branch of the Government is naturally bound to refrain from following a course which impliedly is forbidden by the law-making body of the Nation.

Premier Poincare, of France, fully understands President Hoover's position. He knows that there is no legal means whereby Mr. Hoover can avoid demanding payment when the French bonds mature. He is, therefore, seeking to prevent the French politicians from following a course of action which greatly injures French prestige and French credit in the eyes of the world and will necessitate a cash payment by France on August 1 of $400,000,000 to America and a cash payment of approximately $300,0000,000 to Great Britain. Under the terms of the Anglo-French debt agreement cash payments to America call for cash payments in like proportion to the British.

Reservations Now Question.

The specific point now at issue in France is whether or not French reservations will become part of the resolution of ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement or whether such reservations or resolutions will be merely interpreted as separate and distinct from the resolution of ratification.

In case the reservations are part of the resolution of ratification, the action by the French Chamber will be worse than useless, so far as making the agreement effective is concerned. The United States Senate would never accept the French reservations, with the result that action by the United States Senate and the House here would lead to no definite result. It would admittedly be waste of time even to submit the agreement with reservations to the Congress here, and it is doubtful if President Hoover would sanction such submission.

The point of the French reservations would be to stipulate that France would be no longer bound to pay America if Germany defaulted in her payments to France. It would be a linking of debts and reparations in defiance of the policy which the United States has insisted upon since the World War.

French Vainly Sought Merger.

When the Caillaux mission came to Washington to negotiate the first debt settlement the French vainly sought to obtain American consent to the incorporation of the idea of merging debts and reparations. The American delegation persistently refused to consider such a proposal. When the Mellon-Berenger agreement was negotiated, after the Caillaux negotiations failed, the same effort was made by the French with the same result. Finally the French abandoned the idea.

For the French chamber to incorporate the discredited debt-reparations merger plan in the resolution of ratification now would amount to rewriting the debt agreement and incorporating into it a provision which the United States has never been willing to accept. Ratification with such a reservation would throw the debt problem back to its starting point and render void all the work of the negotiators leading up to the Mellon-Berenger agreement.

The situation will be quite different if the French chamber ratifies without conditions but votes in favor of interpretative resolutions to set forth certain French views as to the relation between German reparation payments to France and French debt payments to America. So long as such resolutions are separate and distinct from the resolution of ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement they would be merely interpretative of the opinions of the French chamber and would not make the ratification conditional.

Officials Here Want No Grudge.

Officials here, especially those who are most friendly to France, would regret to see the French meet their solemn obligations begrudgingly and would regret to see French prestige lowered by needless interpretations which would merely represent expressions of the viewpoint of French politicians.

But if the French chamber, after unconditional ratification, wishes to make independent expression of its view as to what ratification should have meant to France, or what it hopes ratification will mean to France, there is nothing which the United States Government can do about it. Once the Mellon-Berenger agreement is ratified unconditionally, America's interest in the matter practically ceases and independent expressions by the French chamber will be of no direct concern to the United States.

FARM BOARD MEETS IN THIS CITY JULY 15

Hoover to Attend; Expects Personnel to Be Completed by That Date.

A. H. LEGGE TO PRESIDE

(Associated Press.)

The Federal Farm Board created by Congress to stabilize the agricultural industry has been called by President Hoover to hold its first meeting Monday, July 15.

Although only six of the board's members have been announced, appointments have been tendered for the other posts and the President expects acceptances in time for the board to start functioning by the middle of the month. He hopes to announce the complete personnel after his return from the week-end trip to his Virginia fishing camp.

Although the location of the first meeting was not named, it was generally assumed in interested circles that the board would gather at the White House before noon Monday. President Hoover is to motor to Baltimore later to review the parade of the Rainbow Division. He is expected to welcome the Farm Board to its task and emphasize to the members the importance attached by him to its work.

The three members still to be named are to represent the dairying and wheat industries and possibly banking and finance, although there is some doubt about the latter selection.

The President has said that a man versed in major financial operations would be named to the board to give the benefit of his experience in handling the $500,000,000 to be made available to the board. Since the selection of Alexander H. Legge, president of the International Harvester Co., however, there has been a question whether he is to represent both finance and business and a second representative of cotton or wheat appointed.

Mr. Legge is to serve as chairman for the first year, at least. Of the other four members appointed, James C. Stone, of Kentucky, will represent the tobacco growers and serve as vice chairman; Carl Williams, of Oklahoma City, is to represent cotton; C. B. Denman, of Farmington Mo., live stock, and C. C. Teague, of Los Angeles, the fruit growers.

Secretary Hyde, the ninth member, is to serve exofficio.

premier himself should go to America to reopen negotiations."

Deputies opposing Goy then shouted: "Do you want Poincare to fly the Atlantic?"

Others began posing the premier as an aviator, and Poincare seized upon the opportunity to demand adjournment of the interpellation until after the finance and foreign commissions have reported on the debt accords. He was granted his demand.

The tension was relaxed, and Dormann's interpellation developed into the mildest statement of facts by Minister of the Interior Andre Tardieu. There was no heckling, and apparently the questioning had been arranged beforehand, for the explanation was accepted and the government remained secure.

The premier indicated that he will now await the reports of the two commissions which have appointed secretaries to draw up reservations to be inserted in the ratification of debt accords, making French payments dependent on German reparations.

U. S. Squadron Chiefs Visit Naples Officials

Naples, Italy, July 5 (A.P.).—Rear Admiral Harris Laning with his staff of the battleship squadron No. 2 comprising the Utah, Arkansas and Florida, now in port here, visited the city authorities and provincial governor today. The visit will be returned tomorrow morning.

The battleships will be opened to the public and will remain here until July 11. The officers will leave for Rome tomorrow.

An Open Book on Banking

LENDING money to Tom, Dick and Harry is a ruinous practice for both borrower and lender.

Such loans destroy friendships more surely than a refusal of the loan.

The man who is entitled to borrow money should be able to borrow it from a bank and thus make a business transaction out of it. As one never knows when he will want a little help, he should prepare himself as soon as he can—he should begin to establish himself with a good bank.

15-Year-Old Slayer of Boy Hopes to Be Gangster at 30

Lad Who Struck Second in Fight Over 'Sissy' Habit of Wrist-Watch Wearing, Philosophical as He Contemplates 15-Year Jail Term.

Paterson, N. J., July 5 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—"He got wise and I smacked him one. I missed his chin and got him in the neck."

That was 15-year-old Louis Torzella's story to police today in explanation of the killing of John Nolan, also 15, who strangled and bled to death from a ruptured windpipe sustained in a fight with Torzella after John had been called "sissy" because he wore a wrist watch, a graduation gift from his widowed mother.

"The most they can give me," the youthful prisoner was quoted as telling detectives who asked him if he was not sorry, "is fifteen years. Well, I'll get out for good behaviour before I'm 30. Then I'll be a regular gangster."

Recorder Harry Joelson sent Louis to the county jail here to await the action of the grand jury. There will be no bail set, the recorder said. Three companions of the boy, who, like him, have all served terms in either the Rahway Reformatory or the Jamesburg Home for Boys, were held at material witnesses. They are Joseph Hebda, 15; Tony Patton, 17, and Michael Baskinger, 14, all of Paterson.

Members of the Nolan boy's graduating class at St. John's Parochial School will be pallbearers at his funeral. Services will be held Monday in the small flat maintained by his mother with her meager pay earned in a Paterson silk mill.

Woman Badly Wounded In Vain Try to Save Mate

Atlanta, Ga., July 5 (A.P.).—Mrs. Warren Sanders deliberately took two bullets intended for her husband last night, but when she dropped, the next shot killed him. Today she was near death.

Hayward Sanders, 18, brother of the 28-year-old husband, confessed in jail today, police said, that he fired the shots during a trivial quarrel. They had been bickering all afternoon, Hayward said, and he obtained his brother's gun. "Don't shoot," screamed Mrs. Sanders and ran in front of her husband.

Noted German Composer Dies.

Berlin, July 5 (A.P.).—Prof. Otto Taubmann, 70, widely-known musical critic and composer, senator and member of the Prussian Academy of Sciences, died here today. His musical compositions included a number of suites for orchestra, choral works and an opera, "Porzia," based upon the character of Portia in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice."

PUBLISHERS ELECT PARKS PRESIDENT

Southern Association Pays Honor to Arkansan; Succeeds Ewing.

SCORE POWER PURCHASE

Asheville, N. C., July 5 (A.P.).—J. S. Parks, publisher and manufacturer, of Fort Smith, Ark., was chosen president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association at today's business session of the twenty-seventh annual convention at Grove Park Inn.

He succeeds Col. Robert Ewing, of New Orleans, who was elected chairman of the board of directors. John A. Park, of Raleigh, N. C., is the retiring chairman. Walter C. Johnson, of Chattanooga, was reelected treasurer, and the selection of Cranston Williams, of Chattanooga, as secretary-manager, will be made by the board of directors tonight.

Four Added to Board.

Four new members were added to the board of directors, and ten members of the present board were re-elected. K. A. Engle, of Little Rock, was selected to succeed President Parks as Arkansas' representative of the board, W. B. Hager, of Owensboro, Ky., was chosen for Kentucky; J. H. Long, of Huntington, for West Virginia, and Clark Howell, jr., of Atlanta, for Georgia.

The following directors were reelected: Alabama, Victor H. Hanson, of Birmingham; Florida, L. C. Brown, of St. Petersburg; Louisiana, L. K. Nicholson, New Orleans; Mississippi, L. P. Cashman, Vicksburg; North Carolina, W. C. Dowd, jr., Charlotte; Oklahoma, E. K. Gaylord, Oklahoma City; South Carolina, F. C. Withers, Columbia; Tennessee, J. G. Stahlman, of Nashville; Texas, J. L. Mapes, Beaumont; Virginia, J. P. Fishburne, Roanoke.

William La Varre, who was associated with Harold Hall in the purchase of four Southern newspapers with $870,000 loaned them by the International Paper & Power Co., reached Asheville yesterday afternoon for the convention. He stated today that he did not confer with Archibald R. Graustein, president of the International Paper & Power Co., who was in Asheville for eight hours yesterday.

Resolution Flays Power Purchases.

A resolution condemning the purchase of newspapers by interests affiliated or identified with the power and newsprint or similar industries was passed unanimously by the association.

The resolution was introduced by John D. Ewing, of the New Orleans State and Shreveport Times, at the request of his father, Col. Robert Ewing, who was unable to attend because of illness. It was seconded by W. T. Anderson, of the Macon, Ga., Telegraph.

The resolution follows:

"Be it resolved by the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, in convention assembled, That the purchase of newspapers by interests affiliated or identified with the power and newsprint or similar industry is contrary to sound public policy and to sound journalistic policy, and is a menace to a free press and free institutions of these United States."

Man to Serve 20 Years For Killing His Brother

Martinsville, Va., July 5.—Ernest Hairston, colored, has been sentenced to serve twenty years in the penitentiary for killing his brother, Henry Hairston, near here last Easter. He was convicted of first degree murder by a jury and was sentenced by Judge Turner Clement. Court remained in session here throughout yesterday despite the national holiday, the court being anxious to make inroads on a crowded docket within a limited period.

The Listening Post

By CARLISLE BARGERON

IT was unfortunate that Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran should have been linked with his chief, Mr. Lowman, in the recent reports discharging him and in the vociferous White House and Treasury denials. The original reports concerned only Mr. Lowman, but they gathered such momentum and such scope that Mr. Doran was swept in and the denials, trying their best to catch up, of necessity embraced him.

It is not now a question of whether these reports were true or not and whether their publication has simply postponed the dismissal of the two men. It is that Mr. Doran was treated unfairly in being linked with his chief in the predicted prohibition enforcement clean-up.

* * * *

THEY are not men alike, in stature, mental make-up, general appearance or in their attitudes toward life. It is doubtful, in fact, if the two were not now engaged in the same work that they would have a thing in the world in common.

The most striking contrast is that Mr. Doran has not the "headline" complex. Mr. Lowman decidedly has. And it is because of this contrast that it is hard to see why Mr. Hoover should view them in the same light; why he should think of dismissing the two of them in the same mental process.

It is his proclivity for getting in the newspapers that causes Mr. Lowman to be in disfavor at the White House. Prohibition enforcement can never be carried on quietly or its discussion cease to be the paramount public topic if the newspapers every day or so are to flamingly announce Mr. Lowman's plans.

* * * *

MR. DORAN has no such thoughts as these. He has no "headline" complex. He is neither fantastic nor fanatical. He would, were the reporters never to ask him questions, seldom get his name in the newspapers. He is red-headed and freckle-faced, and a man who does not hesitate to swear if it is necessary to give force to his thoughts.

He is not a reformer in any sense of the word. He is not a crusader. He is simply a worker who has been the Government's expert on liquor for many years, and who, as a result, knows most of the time what he is talking about.

As a chemist, as a scientist, he will tell you quite bluntly and frankly, if you ask him if the present bootleg stuff hurts you, that it will take at least 10 years from your life. And as a chemist and as a scientist with this knowledge, he personally can not see why in the name of goodness anyone should drink it, but then if anyone does he is not of the kind that would want that person shot at sunrise.

* * * *

DORAN'S name has figured frequently in the headlines as the wets and the drys grappled at each other's neck. It would be impossible for one in his position not to be the target at times. A year ago he was quoted widely as saying that it would cost $300,000,000 a year to enforce prohibition. He did not say this at all. He said that if the Federal enforcement policy contemplated taking over all the local police work, which, of course, it does not and never will, it would cost that much. And it is true that his name was prominently identified with the educational posters which the guileless Miss Sutter was to take down to Atlanta, but it has not yet been established that this was Doran's own brainchild.

Taking everything into consideration, there seems to be no reason why Doran should not fit in with Mr. Hoover's plan of quieting prohibition down. He seldom speaks unless he is spoken to—and then he speaks with a scientific positiveness.

DRUNKEN MOTORIST MUST SERVE YEAR

Prnice Georges Court Gives Severe Sentence; Girl Companion Fined.

TRAFFIC CASES HEARD

The most severe sentence ever imposed in Prince Georges County Police Court for driving while under the influence of liquor was meted out by Judge J. Chew Sheriff, in Upper Marlboro branch yesterday to Charles Broy, colored, of Washington. Broy was sentenced to serve twelve months in the House of Correction.

Broy and Dorenda Brown, also colored, of Washington, were arrested Saturday by County Policeman Frank Prince, at Forestville, following an alleged attempt to force the policeman's car from the road. Broy also was charged with resisting arrest, failing to keep to the right of the road and reckless driving. The woman was charged with resisting arrest and interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty and with being drunk and disorderly.

Prince and Justice of the Peace Thomas D. Griffith testified that a car passed them while they were taking a prisoner to jail and that the car attempted to force them from the road. They gave chase and stopped the car when Prince fired a shot into the rear tire. When he attempted to arrest the man, the woman fought him off and attempted to stab him with a spark plug, Prince said. The pair was finally subdued and placed in the Marlboro Jail.

Broy was fined $40 in addition to the jail sentence and the woman was fined $35, both being committed to jail in default of fine.

Elmer Diggs, colored, charged with assault with intent to kill and carrying a concealed weapon, was held for action of the grand jury on the assault charge and fined $25 on the concealed weapon charge. Bond was fixed at $500. He is alleged to have shot Charles Driver, also colored, July 2, in an argument near Marlboro.

Herman M. Sanders, 511 K street northwest, who said he was a butler to Secretary of Agriculture Davis, was fined $25 on a charge of speeding. He was arrested by State Policeman L. E. Dutrow, who charged that the man was driving 50 miles an hour through traffic.

Dr. Harvey S. Nicholson, colored, 1935 L street northwest, charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was fined $100. He was arrested by Policeman Dutrow.

The court tried approximately 30 cases yesterday and collected fines totaling $736, court being kept open until after 6 o'clock in the evening.

ROADHOUSE TO DEFY COUNTY DANCING BAN

Club Marlboro Says It Is Not Affected by Law Passed in Prince Georges.

BASED ON FREE PRIVILEGE

Contending that the establishment is not affected by the county roadhouse law because no charge is made for dancing, the Club Marlboro plans defiance of the edict of the Prince Georges County Commissioners that roadhouses in the county will not be permitted to hold dances more than once a week.

H. L. Ludwig, proprietor of the club, declared yesterday that his counsel had informed him that the Club Marlboro does not come within the provisions of the law passed at the last session of the Sate Legislature giving the county commissioners the right to control roadhouses in the county. The commissioners announced last Tuesday that they were planning to exercise the privilege given them in the law to grant or reject any application for license by refusing to grant a license to any such establishment.

Club Marlboro had applied for a roadhouse license, but withdrew the aplication several days before the date of the public hearing announced for last Tuesday by the county commissioners.

Ludwig declared yesterday that he is running a clean establishment and that great care is exercised in permitting guests to enter the club in order that the rowdy element can be eliminated. He said that by advice of counsel he plans to continue permitting dancing by the persons who are served meals at the Club Marlboro. He is not running a dance hall, but merely furnishes dinner music, Ludwig said, and if the guests wish to dance that is their business and does not compel him to submit to the roadhouse law edict.

James C. Blackwell, clerk to the county commissioners, yesterday declared that the commissioners will not be able to detail police to see that the more than once a week and that those persons who are interested in closing the roadhouses will have to observe the infraction of the law and exercise their civic rights of swearing out a warrant.

Sheriff Charles S. Early declared that which are issued, but that it would be impossible for his small force to maintain an adequate supervision over the dance halls and roadhouses to see that the law is enforced. He has four men to protect the entire county, he said, and they can not be spared from the more important duty of protecting life and property to stand around dance halls.

Roadhouse managers are discussing a plan whereby one of the resorts will violate the law deliberately in order that a test case can be brought before the circuit court. They claim the law is a clear violation of their rights and believe their contention will be upheld if it is taken to court.

William Ramage, 41, Dies In Wolf Summit Mishap

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 5.—The death was reported today of William Ramage, 41, of Wolf Summit, as the result of a hammer blow. He was removed to a hospital but a surgical operation failed to save him.

Ramage was hit in the abdomen by the head of a sledge hammer which flew off its handle when he and others were engaged in laying off a baseball diamond at Wolf Summit. Surviving are the widow and six children.

Deputy Uniforms Asked By Sheriff of Harrison

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 5.—Announcement was made today by Sheriff Wilford B. Grimm that he had made formal request of the Harrison County court to place all deputy sheriffs, engaged in police work, in distinctive police uniforms. The court has the request under consideration.

A movement is being fostered by sheriffs throughout the State to have all county police officers uniformed. So far Marion and Logan counties have adopted the plan.

HOUSE-WARMING SET FOR HEALTH CENTER

Clarendon Building Near Completion; Plans Are Made for Celebration.

ROAD WORK TO BEGIN SOON

ARLINGTON COUNTY,
BUREAU OF THE POST,
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

With the new building which will house the Arlington District Health Center in Clarendon rapidly nearing completion, plans are now under way by the various organizations which made the building possible for an open house celebration.

There will be a special meeting of the Mothers Health League, of which Mrs. Frank Kelley is president, leader of the movement a year ago to have in Arlington district a county-owned health center, Wednesday night in the Clarendon Library Building. At this meeting plans for the celebration will be completed.

Following the organizing of the county health department under the supervision of Dr. Cox, who opened the first county health center in Jefferson district, and later in Cherrydale, a room was rented in Clarendon and up to a few months ago it was used as the Arlington District Health Center.

When the firm of George H. Rucker Co., owners of the building, announced plans for the razing of the building, the Clarendon Health Center was moved to the Woodrow Wilson Schoolhouse, where it is still located.

While the building is not just what the woman's organizations had planned for the Arlington District it is of the bungalow type, and according to Dr P. M. Chichester, county health officer, it will be modernly equipped throughout.

The building is located on Lorton avenue, just off Wilson boulevard; and setting back well off of the building line, ample room has been provided for parking space and for any additions when found needed.

With all plans laid and bids called for for the widening and resurfacing of Wilson boulevard from Military road to Clarendon avenue, County Engineer C. L. Kinnier yesterday announced that he has advised Arlington County public utilities that all underground work must be completed before work is started. He said the county water department will have made all its connections.

The bids will be received and opened by the county board of supervisors at its meeting Tuesday, July 30, and indications are that the contractors will start work by August 15.

The boulevard will be 28 feet in width, with two 3-foot concrete shoulders. Starting from Military road, for a distance of 900 feet the entire width will be of solid concrete due to roadbed conditions.

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, in accordance with the request of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission that a representative be appointed to represent the county on the Washington regional water committee, announces the appointment of W. F. Pierce Reid. The committee will hold its first meeting Friday, July 19, at 2:30 o'clock, in room 1613, Navy Building, Washington.

Under the act of Congress which established the Park and Planning Commission, the body is charged with the duty of preparing, developing and maintaining a comprehensive plan for the National Capital and its environs, which plan shall include recommendations to the proper authorities as to traffic, drainage, sewerage, transportation and water supply.

With the view of carrying out the provisions of the act as regards to water supply, the commission, at its meeting held June 21, decided it would request the following bodies to name representatives to a Washington regional water supply committee—Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission, supervisors of Fairfax and Arlington Counties and city manager of Alexandria.

Miss Virginia McDonnell, of Clarendon, was named "Miss Arlington" at the carnival being conducted here by the Arlington Post of the American Legion, and will represent the county and the post at the State legion convention at Petersburg.

Miss Irene Sheehan was awarded second place. Miss McDonnell was presented with a silver loving cup and Miss Sheehan was given a silver wrist watch.

American Legion officials announced that owing to inclement weather during this week the carnival will be continued through next Wednesday night.

L. H. Armstrong, charged with operating an automobile with an improper license plate, was fined $14.25 in Police Court yesterday by Police Judge Harry R. Thomas.

Hammond Smith failing to answer a charge of violating the county speed laws forfeited $15 in Police Court.

Election of officers will be the principal business to come before the meeting to be held Tuesday night by the Great Falls Street Civic Association at Falls Church.

The newly elected officers of the Cherrydale Volunteer Fire Department assumed charge of the department last night. Jack A. Spates is the new chief.

Boy, 9, Crushed to Death As He Hops on Thrasher

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., July 5.—Charles Lewis Foster, 9, who lived on the Archer Farm in Chesterfield County, a short distance from Petersburg, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon after he and several small companions had hopped aboard a thrashing machine being towed by a tractor on a highway near Blackstone. The boy's right leg was crushed. The injured boy and a brother had gone to the home of their uncle Joshua David, near Blackstone, to spend the Fourth of July. The boy was brought to the Petersburg Hospital, where he died of his injuries last night. Besides his mother, he is survived by two sisters and one brother.

Man Seriously Injured As Lift Falls Six Stories

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., July 5.—One man was seriously injured and several others escaped when an elevator employed in construction work by Quigley Hafer, Chambersburg, Pa., contractor, fell from near the top of a six-story addition at the plant of the Winchester Cold Storage Co. late today.

Charles Seal, an employe was taken to a hospital unconscious and suffering from what doctors thought were one or more fractures and probable internal injuries.

Detached Sidecar Kills Its Occupant

John Compton, 22, Pinned Under Machine When It Overturns.

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., July 5.—John Compton, 22, of Elkwood, 10 miles north of here, was instantly killed when a sidecar in which he was riding broke loose from the motorcycle, at noon today.

Edward Wheatley, who was running the motorcycle, said that it felt to him as if the sidecar suddenly let go and when it did, he lost control of the whole outfit and ran up the bank at the side of the road. It fell back to the road pinning young Compton underneath, fracturing his skull and shattering his collar bone. Death was instantaneous.

Wheatley was scratched and Dewey McDonald, of Alexandria, who was riding tandem with Wheatley, escaped without injury. Compton is survived by his father, Charles Compton, of Elkwood.

BROKEN GLASS WINS EVENT AT CULPEPER

CLASSES ARE CROWDED

Special to The Washington Post.

Culpeper, Va., July 5.—The second day of the Culpeper horse show was marked by crowded classes, some of the contests having as many as 53 entries. Many of yesterday's contestants were back today in new classes.

The touch and out class aroused the highest enthusiasm of the day. Miss Amelia Woodward, of Richmond, rode the Corley entry, Princess Royal, beautifully, defeating a field of 26.

In the most spectacular class of the show, the Corinthian class, in which riders in hunting colors take their mounts over 4-foot jumps, only 31 feet apart, Mrs. D. N. Lee, of Middleburg, captured the blue with her unbeatable thoroughbred, Broken Glass. Dixie's Child, the entry of Miss Margo Couzens, gave a splendid performance but could not come up with that of the Lee jumper.

Has String of Victories.

This horse, Broken Glass, has swept the board at the horse shows in Virginia and nearby States for three years, having won every time he has been shown.

Baby Ben, the largest horse in the show, took the free-for-all handicap for jumpers. Performance only counted in this, and Baby Ben's size was all in his favor instead of against him as it was yesterday, in the events where conformation counted.

Broken Glass fulfilled the expectations of every one by taking the hunter championship, giving Mrs. Lee the first win on the new Culpeper challenge plate, which must be won by the same horse three times to secure permanent possession. This is the third time in succession that this horse has won this championship and the fourth time the Lee entries have won it in as many years.

As usual, the races proved the drawing card of the day. The mule race and first two flat races went off without much excitement. The attention of the crowd was riveted on an approaching storm which broke before the fourth race could be started. The fourth race was run in water, while the following ones were through heavy mud, horses and jockeys becoming unrecognizable before the quarter pole was reached.

Rosy Jester took the fifth in a finish so close that spectators five feet from the wire could not tell whether he or the Leith entry, Leesburg Lass, had won.

In the special race Newt passed the wire first, but the judges disqualified him for a foul and gave the race to Maid of the Valley.

Favorite Comes in Easily.

Before the start of the steeplechase rumors were spread that the favorite, Radio, had strained a foreleg in yesterday's chase, but Howard Leith brought him through a nine-horse field to win with plenty of space between him and Burton, second.

ALEXANDRIA LEGION POST ELECTS HEADS

H.L. Arnold New Commander; Report Shows 316 Are Enrolled in Unit.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria, 523.

Howard L. Arnold was last night elected commander of Alexandria Post No. 24, American Legion, succeeding W. Milton Glasgow. Other officers chosen were Sidney Weil, first vice commander; Miss Laura C. Anderson, second vice commander; Hannan Norris, adjutant; Jones Cox, finance officer; Harry Davis, sergeant-at-arms; Miss Willie Fairfax, historian, and Executive Committeemen Downham, Wright, Rooerts, Dudley, Hoffman, Knight and Lemon.

The report of the retiring commander showed the affairs of the post in satisfactory condition, with no indebtedness, and a paid-up membership of 316 with 206 members yet to be heard from. The membership committee is to interview these and endeavor to enroll them prior to the State convention in September. This post ranks third in the State in point of paid-up membership, the first and second ranking posts both being in Richmond, and these only exceeding Alexandria by a few memors.

An organizaton of the members of the post into a relief committee in case of any local disaster by flood, fire, riot or other causes, was adopted, providing for the assembling of the members at Gadsby's Tavern at a signal to be given by the gong of the city hall and fire bells.

A report on Gadsby Tavern indicated that the restoration of that building is expected to be completed by August 1, when it will be thrown open to tourists.

Howard Arnold as chairman of the American committee of the Americanism committee of the post, presented a medal to Leonard Jackson, Alexandria High School cadet, as the best drilled private in the cadet corps.

in the 400 block, North Alfred street, is charged by the police with an attempt at assault. He is alleged to have brandished a pistol in his home, forcing his wife and eight children to flee.

Two young men, brothers, giving the names of Harry Hall, 20 years old, 1132 Four-and-a-half street, Washington, and Raymond Hall, of Four-Mile Run, Va., were arrested yesterday afternoon on complaint of Walter S. Smith, charged with the theft of an automobile from Smith on August 19, 1927, and will be given a hearing in police court this morning.

Mrs. Marie B. Fairchild, of Rosemont, has filed suit in the corporation court against Charles King & Son and Raymond Hulfish, a salesman employed by the firm, for $20,000 each. She alleges in her petition that on July 6, 1928, while near Holmes Run, on the Little River turnpike, west of Alexandria, her automobile was struck by one driven by Hulfish and she was seriously and permanently injured.

The summer school will be open today to make up for the loss of time from studies on July 4, and all pupils are expected to make payment today for tuition.

Dr. W. Clyde West, captain of the Medical Corps of the 116th Virginia Infantry, will leave today for camp at Virginia Beach with his outfit.

The Police Sergt. McClary relief fund total has reached $3,471.86, and it is expected the returns from the baseball games of last Saturday and today will bring the total to $5,000 by Monday.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Doyle, who died on Thursday at her home at 504 Queen street, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Wheatley's Chapel, conducted by the Rev. Ernest M. Delaney, of the Second Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Bethel Cemetery.

Funeral services for Miss Emma Lee Pattie, who died Wednesday, were held yesterday afternoon at Wheatley's Chapel, conducted by the Rev. Dr. W. S. Hammond, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. The body was sent to her former home, Warrenton, for burial.

Charles Fletcher and Robert Arnold, of this city, left last week for Fort Eustis, Va., to attend training camp for a month.

Man Shot in Error As Burglar Dies

Police Allow Assailant His Liberty as Protector of Home.

Harry Mauch, 27 years old, of Fountain, Va., died at Providence Hospital yesterday from shotgun wounds suffered earlier in the day when he was mistaken for a burglar.

Mauch was shot near Croome, Md., by Thomas Butler, colored, 30 years old. Police made no effort to arrest Butler, and he remained at liberty during the day. The police said he would be questioned later at Upper Marlboro.

Constable John Wilson, of Croome, after investigating the shooting, said that Mauch was shot as he started climbing through a window at Butler's home. Mauch, the constable said, had spent the Fourth at the home of Charles Mouldin, at Croome, and at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, he, Mouldin and two other men started to drive to Virginia. When about 100 yards from Butler's home their automobile ran out of gas, and Mauch left the party to seek gasoline at the nearest house. Constable Wilson said that his investigation revealed that Mauch was intoxicated at the time of the shooting. He expressed the belief that Mauch had failed to arouse Butler by knocking on the door, and had then attempted to enter the house through the window.

School Principal Quits After 47 Years' Service

Special to The Washington Post.

Eckhart, Md., July 5.—After 47 years of continuous service in the schools of Allegheny County, Professor Dennis Boyle has resigned as principal of the Eckhart school. In all these years Professor Boyle holds the unique record of having missed only one and one-half days of school. For 41 years he directed the activities of the school. His decision to retire has occasioned many expressions of regret.

Miss Julia Heilman, of Frostburg, a graduate of the University of Maryland and a former principal of the Flintstone school, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Boyle. The assistant teachers in the Eckhart school are Misses Anna O'Rourke, Margaret Lyons, Julia Jack, Alice Lewis and Eliza Wright.

FIGHT IN AIR PRECEDED CRASH OF STULTZ PLANE, SIX TESTIFY

tween the pilot and two men in the rear of the ship.

These two were Edward Harwood and Pasquale Castelluccio, Roslyn young men, who had begged their fatal ride when Stultz said he was going to try out a new propeller on his speed plane. The accident occurred Monday, and they were buried Wednesday without the formality of autopsies.

Holecek said that when he saw the plane one of the two men in the rear seat had partly risen and the other was standing erect. Both, he said, were trying to reach the pilot forward.

One of the two was a "broad-shouldered man," Holecek said, and he and Stultz appeared to be grappling at times, with Stultz pushing the broad-shouldered man away.

"Each time he pushed him away the engine sputtered," said Holecek.

Fight Is Described.

Department of Commerce inspectors found five others who saw the same happenings as Holecek. They reduced their story to a statement, which all signed. The others are Charles Jugloski, 11-year-old helper at the gasoline station; Mrs. Stella Machinski, wife of the owner of a nearby grocery store; Nellie Bruck, 14; Mrs. Pauline Krywicki and her daughter, Helen, 14. The two latter were hanging out clothes on the roof above the store and had grand stand vantage.

"We were standing in the yard and saw a ship coming downward with the motor roaring," said the statement, "so we watched him and finally saw him making a barrel roll, nearly hitting the corner of a house. So we ran to see what was going on and we saw the two passengers trying to reach Stultz, the pilot.

"He was pushing them away with his right hand and was pulling and pushing something with his left hand. We sure thought they would fall back of our house. He was about 25 feet in the air.

"Then he finally got his ship higher, to about 350 feet. The motor stalled. He glided to the spot, rocking from side to side and then rolling over once more and then coming into a nose dive with a terrific crash.

Ugly Rumors Verified.

"We then ran over to help them, I, Anton Holecek with two or three others. We took them out of the plane, laying Castelluccio and Harwood on the ground and putting Stultz into a carriage body car, rushing him to the hospital. He was the only one living."

It was only a little more than a year after he was internationally hailed for his feat in reaching Wales safely in the Fokker seaplane Friendship that Stultz's stomach was slit and his skull sawed open in an effort by authorities to allay public apprehension as to the safety of flying. His crash was the third fatal landing in the vicinity of America's flying center within less than a week.

Ugly rumors were afloat that Stultz had been drinking before he decided to test his racing plane's new "prop" and the autopsy was decided upon by authorities. As reported by Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, New York toxicologist, early today, they handsomely verified early theories.

Friends Object to Autopsy.

"The amount of alcohol in the brain indicates that Stultz was in an intoxicated condition at the time of death," said the report. In precise terms Dr. Gettler set down the amount as 0.42 per cent or "three plus" of ethyl (grain) alcohol. Dr. Gettler also found alcohol in Stultz's heart, which was sent along to be sampled, and in his kidneys and liver.

Assistant District Attorney Huntington at once announced an investigation to determine "where Stultz obtained his whisky."

But pilots who had known the flier for years were inclined, perhaps perversely, to regret that his body had been violated, even in the interests of aviation. They said they liked him, pointed out that Stultz had been honorary pallbearer only two days before his death at the funeral of Jack Ashcraft, "hard luck" pilot and one of his best friends, and asserted that he had risked his neck without alcohol many times to serve his country and advance aviation.

Entered War at 17.

Stultz was only 17 years old when he joined the Army air service and served two years during the war. Then he spent three years in the Navy, and then he became known as the man to send for when there was a particularly skillful and dangerous bit of experimental flying to be done to test new ideas.

But pilots believe that he accepted the greatest test of his personal dignity and courage before he successfully set Miss Amelia Earhart down across the Atlantic and faded quietly from the picture of her triumph. It was when he started for Europe as chief pilot of Mrs. Frances Grayson's plane The Dawn.

On that flight his keen ear detected something wrong with the port motor which was not apparent to his companions. Risking their bitter disapproval, he turned the plane about without their knowledge and made a safe landing on Old Orchard Beach, Me. The motor verified his decision by quitting dead long before the beach was

BERLIN-BOUND PLANE LANDS IN FAR NORTH

Untin Bowler Is to Fly Next From Great Whale to Port Burwell.

AWAITS FAIR WEATHER

Ottawa, Ontario, July 5 (U.P.).—The Chicago Tribune amphibian plane, Untin Bowler, landed at Great Whale, on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay, the Government radio station at Port Burwell reported this afternoon.

The Untin Bowler is attempting a flight to Berlin by the far northern route—over Greenland and Iceland. It started from Chicago Wednesday, carrying Parker D. Cramer and Robert Gast as pilots and Robert Wood as historian of the trip.

Port Burwell is the next scheduled stop on the flier's route and also the point whence they will take off on their first water jump. They will have to fly over the Davis Strait, which at that point is 425 miles wide. The men expect to land at Mount Evans, Greenland.

One unconfirmed report said the amphibian already had started for Port Burwell after landing at Great Whale, but it was discounted by the reports of bad weather ahead of the fliers and the fact that they have been instructed to wait at Great Whale until conditions improve.

The trip from Great Whale to Port Burwell, which lies at the tip of Cape Chidley, is 570 miles.

Montreal, Quebec, July 5 (U.P.).—The Montreal Star this afternoon received a dispatch saying that the Dominion government radio station at Port Burwell, on Cape Chidley, was broadcasting weather reports every hour in hope they could be received by the amphibian plane Untin Bowler.

The station reported that rain and fog prevail along the Hudson Straits and that conditions are bad elsewhere along the route from Great Whale to Port Burwell.

Atlanta; E. E. Schwarztrauber, of Portland, Ore., and H. R. Linville, of New York.

Declaring that "the power trust of America is seeking to use the public schools in order to spread propaganda against public ownership of public utilities," the federation went on record as "being unalterably opposed to all such efforts of the power trust to propagandize in the public schools or to censor texts to its advantage."

The resolution cited what is termed the "insidious efforts of the National Electric Light Association and other agencies," which, the resolution claimed, had been subsidizing professors to further their propaganda.

The only resolution turned down was one dealing with sex education. This resolution, which expressed disapproval of the New York courts for condemnation of the pamphlet prepared by Mrs. Mary Ware Bennett, was rejected because the federation was not familiar with the pamphlet.

HOOVER SEEKS RAISE IN U. S. BUILDING FUND

smaller bids than would otherwise be the case.

Back of it all and of paramount importance to the future of the building program is Mr. Hoover's determination that it shall be well on the way to completion before he leaves office. It would be the contribution of an engineer's administration to the country.

The city was conceived by another engineer, Washington, and it is for Mr. Hoover to make it the most beautiful city in the world. Such a beautiful city is what the building program envisages. Its adoption by Congress was due largely to the untiring efforts of Senator Reed Smoot and Chairman Elliott, of the House committee on public buildings and grounds.

Mr. Hoover will be the one, however, to see that the program now adopted does not falter in the decade that lies before it. The definite word that he is to have the $50,000,000 authorization extended to $75,000,000 is assurance that he does not intend to let it do so.

The bill authorizing the $50,000,000 provided that not more than $10,000,000 could be expended in any one year. The President would have this increased to $12,500,000 a year, and of course, to the limitation on annual expenditures, accruals from previous years may be added.

land, two of Labor's other important foreign problems, Mr. Henderson made more definite and pertinent statements.

He sprung a surprise on the House with regard to the Russian question by informing it that legal experts of the British foreign office considered that diplomatic relations with Russia had never been severed at all.

These experts maintained that, since recognition never had been withdrawn, diplomatic relations had really continued. Mr. Henderson said that the Labor government was seeking only resumption of normal trade and commercial relations, broken off by the Conservatives after their raid on Arcos House, London seat of the Russian trade delegation, in May, 1927.

"If diplomatic relations have not been broken, then what has happened," queried Lief Jones, Liberal member for Camborne.

Mr. Henderson could only repeat that he was giving the opinion of legal advisers of the foreign office, and promised to consult them further.

The foreign secretary displayed a sympathetic attitude toward Germany's desire for further evacuation of the Rhineland. He said that speedy evacuation was only fair to Germany who, so far as he could see, had carried out all the conditions imposed by the treaty of Versailles.

Great Britain, he said, should try to persuade the French and Belgian governments to take the step of evacuation simultaneously with England and he did not anticipate any serious difficulty from those governments.

Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, declared that no representation had been made to the United States to the effect that American tariff increases would add to the difficulty of paying the British debt to the United States. He also said that no representations had been made to France regarding payment of France's debt to England.

Throughout the debate on foreign affairs today, the government constantly insisted on its intention to consult the dominions on such important affairs as signature of the optional clause of the World Court statutes and resumption of relations with Russia.

Mr. Henderson said, however, with reference to the optional clause, signature of which would compel placing of international legal questions before the permanent court of international justice at The Hague, that he had not committed the British government to abandoning its position if a single dominion should decline to sign the clause.

WHO'ZIT?

("Whozit?" is a test of your knowledge of history and current events. The statements below describe a character whom you should be able to identify. Match your knowledge and memory against those of your friends and then look in tomorrow's paper to see who wins.)

1. He was an American.
2. He lived before the Civil War.
3. He was a President of the United States.
4. He was a member of the United States Senate.
5. He served in the House of Representatives.
6. He served in the House after his term as President.

left arm. His condition was pronounced critical by the hospital physicians. Jones turned himself over to the police at the Ninth Precinct police station house and was detained for action of the Maryland authorities. He told police he was on his way to Chesapeake Beach to take a job.

R. G. Daniel, 26 years old, of Riverdale, Md., was injured seriously early last night when the automobile in which he was riding with Roscoe Garrett, address unknown, was struck by another automobile on the Baltimore boulevard between Berwyn and Beltsville. Daniel was brought to Casualty Hospital, where physicians said he has a possible skull fracture and other injuries. The driver of the other automobile left the scene immediately after the crash and his identity had not been determined at a late hour.

Family of Four Injured.

Returning from a Fourth of July trip yesterday, four members of the same family were injured, three seriously, when their automobile crashed into a power pole on Central avenue, near Seat Pleasant, Md., early yesterday. The car caught fire and was completely demolished.

Warren Clardy, sr., 44 years old, a lawyer in the Internal Revenue Bureau, the driver of the car, told State Policeman L. E. Dutrow that he was driving toward Washington when another car shot in front of his automobile and that he turned aside to avoid a collision. The Clardy car crashed into the power pole, knocking the pole down and causing a short circuit in the wires strung on the pole. The wires fell across the automobile, ignited it and charged it with electricity. The wires carried 2,400 volts.

The injured were pulled from the electrically charged wreck by Thomas E. Cook, of Capital Heights, Md., who took them to the Casualty Hospital.

Man's Back May Be Broken.

The father was found to have an injury to his back and shock. It is believed that his back is broken. Mrs. Elsie Clardy, 43 years old, the mother, had an injury to the neck, which may be a fracture, and Warren Clardy, jr., 16 years old, had lacerations on the scalp and a possible fracture of the skull. All three are in a serious condition.

William Clardy, 6 years old, escaped with slight injuries. All of the fingers on both hands were lacerated. All four suffered from extreme electric shock, physicians say. The injured were treated by Dr. Louis Jimal and other hospital physicians.

The Clardys live at 1716 Euclid street northwest. Mr. Clardy originally came from South Carolina and has lived in Washington for about 20 years. The family had been away over the Fourth and were returning to Washington early so that the father and son could get to work on time. The son is an employe in a store at Fourteenth street and Columbia road.

Young Man Hurt in Crash.

Horace L. Heyck, 20 years old, of 229 Bates street northwest, suffered lacerations about the body and cuts on the right arm when the automobile in which he was riding collided with another machine operated by an unidentified motorist at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, about two miles west of Chesapeake Beach, Md. His condition was reported as not serious at Casualty Hospital, where he was treated by Dr. H. A. Parker.

Two women were bruised and shocked yesterday morning when they were struck and knocked down by an automobile while boarding a Montgomery Bus Lines bus near the Rockville Fair Grounds on the Rockville pike.

The bus had stopped to take on passengers and the two women, Mrs. Mae Burrias and Miss Julia Molden, both of Rockville, started from the curb to board the bus. An automobile driven by Wayne Bond, of Morrisdale, Pa., cut around the right side of the bus and struck the two women.

The women were taken to their homes, suffering from bruises and shock. The driver of the automobile was arrested, charged with reckless driving, by County Policeman Robert Howes and Corpl. Roy Bodmer, of the Rockville station. The owner of the car, S. I. Forsht, of Altoona, Pa., was charged with failing to provide adequate brakes. Both put up collateral.

Cockerville Is Urged For Scoutmaster's Key

Assistant Deputy Commissioner Paul Cockerville is the first District of Columbia scout official to fulfill the five-year progressive training program requirements leading to the award of the scoutmaster's key, and has been recommended for this highest award for scout training.

Cockerville started his scouting career in 1922 by organizing Troop 77 of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Rock Creek Parish, which he served as scoutmaster for five years. Since 1927 he has served as first aid specialist, assistant deputy commissioner and Indian sign language man.

CURTIS BACK HOME ON FIRST VACATION

Vice President Tells Kansans Duties Are Exacting and Official Life Busy.

TRAVELS WEST AS CITIZEN

Topeka, Kas., July 5 (A.P.).—Home for a rest for the first time since his inauguration, Vice President Charles Curtis today visited with his neighbors in the same genial way that won him warm friendships during his service of nearly a quarter of a century as United States Senator from Kansas.

At an informal meeting with newspaper men in the red brick house he shares here with his sister, Mrs. Rome Colvin, and her husband, Mr. Curtis reviewed his experiences as presiding officer of the Senate and said his duties as Vice President gave him plenty to do, despite the belief in some quarters that the office was not an exacting one.

Traveling from the East as an ordinary citizen, the Vice President occupied a lower berth in a sleeping car. He was surprised that this should occasion comment.

Should Ride With People.

"Why shouldn't the Vice President ride in lower five?" he asked. "He is nothing but the people's servant. Why shouldn't he ride with the people?"

Mr. Curtis said there was an erroneous impression abroad as to the duties of a Vice President.

"His duties are just what he wants to make them," he continued. "He may be idle if he chooses, or he may be a public servant. I try to be a servant."

Many old friends in Kansas, he said felt he still was their senator and called upon him for various favors. "So I have the correspondence of a senator plus the correspondence of a Vice President," he added.

Has More Freedom Now.

One thing he has learned: He can leave the Senate chamber with much more frequency than he could during the days he was the majority leader but he can not get too far away from the scene of action as he must always be ready to step into the chair to settle a question of parliamentary procedure or a tie vote.

"We must always be careful not to decide a question in a way that would embarrass the Senate later," he said. "Two of my decisions have been appealed, and I have been sustained both times, so I guess I'm getting along all right."

Referring briefly to the "social war" which centered about his sister and official hostess, Mrs. Edward Gann, Mr. Curtis said there no longer was any issue, as the matter had been settled "long ago."

As official "diner out" for the administration, Vice President Curtis said he had found a tendency on the part of a number of hosts and hostesses in Washington to show a spirit of observance of the liquor laws by dispensing with the serving of liquors.

Hains' Point Sea Wall Sidewalk Work to Begin

Preliminary work for putting down the sidewalk along the sea wall, from Hains Point to the engineer's wharf, will be begun next week, it was announced yesterday by Col. U. S. Grant 3d, director of public buildings and public parks.

This work was provided for in the appropriations which became available July 1. It will be necessary to dig a drain before the sidewalk can be put down. An iron railing will be erected along the sidewalk. The piping to be used for the rail is being cut now.

Queen Entertains For Spanish Fliers

Mechanic Is Not Present at Luncheon as Formal Functions End.

Madrid, July 5 (A.P.).—Formal functions in honor of Maj. Franco and his three comrades and their British rescuers from the aircraft carrier Eagle ended today with a luncheon at the royal palace given by Queen Victoria.

The Infantes Don Jaime, Dona Beatriz Dona Maria Cristina, Don Alfonso de Orleans and high army and navy officers and court officials were present at the luncheon.

All the British officers and all the Spanish airmen, except Sergt. Pedro Madriaga, Maj. Franco's mechanic, were guests of honor. Sergt. Madriaga did not appear at the last moment. No formal explanation was made, but it was understood that officials in charge of court functions had objected to violation of the rule that only members of the nobility or persons of high official rank should attend such affairs.

Probate Asked on Will.

Petition for probate of the will of Mary M. McKinstry, who died March 31, was made yesterday at the District Supreme Court. The document directed payment of $1,000 each to Jerome P. Seaton, Helen M. Seaton, Elizabeth M. Vierling, Barbara Vierling and Harold M. Morgan. The remaining estate was left to a grandniece, Dorothy S. Garner, who was also named executrix.

WAR ON TARIFF BILL PLAN OF DEMOCRATS

Change Would Make Board Pawns of President, Committee Says.

SLIDING SCALE FOR SUGAR

(Associated Press.)

The Democratic national committee announced yesterday that Democrats and progressives in the Senate intend an entire transformation of the flexible tariff provision embodied in the House bill. Declaring the Democratic program to be a restoration of the nonpartisan or bipartisan character of the tariff commission, the statement asserted that "under the measure as it passed the House the tariff commission is to be changed from its present complexion, which by statutory regulation compels that three members of the tariff board shall be of the majority party and two of the minority party."

Bill Means Partisan Board.

"The Hawley bill proposes," it continued, "that the President should have the appointment of this board without reference to party, which, of course, means a partisan board, which will recommend to the President only such changes as he may desire up to 50 per cent and gives to the President the absolute right to make such changes." The Democratic program would have the board report to Congress instead of to the President.

Charging that the change is unconstitutional, the statement said "the obvious purpose of the move is to avoid such a political situation as now exists in the Senate, where a coalition of the Democrats and progressive Republicans may be able to force a revision of the unconscionable schedules the tariff lobby succeeded in getting from the Republican ways and means committee of the House."

Lower tariff rates for sugar than those provided in the House bill would be provided under a new sliding scale drafted by Chairman Smoot, of the Senate finance committee.

In making the announcement yesterday, after completing the tentative draft, Senator Smoot declined to amplify. The plan probably will be made public next week before the entire finance committee, which is studying the tariff measure passed by the House.

The sugar schedule is one of the most controverted sections of the House tariff measure. Discussion over it has drawn the attention of President Hoover with a statement that he hoped to see both the consumer and producers protected under the new tariff bill.

Expects Presidential Approval.

Senator Smoot believes his sliding scale proposal will meet with presidential favor. Under that system the tariff on sugar would be regulated up or down according to immediate conditions in the sugar market.

The sugar schedule probably will be reconsidered next week along with the new sliding scale proposal of the Utah senator.

Ferdinand Veverka, Czechoslovakian Minister, delivered to the State Department today a note formally outlining the position of his government on the proposals now before the Senate finance committee to revise import duties on certain Czechoslovakian goods.

While the note was not in the form of a protest against the proposed rates, it stressed the effect which the proposed changes might have on trade between Czechoslovakia and the United States.

More than a score of nations have made representations formally to the American Government on the tariff.

Mae V. Estler Will Aids Four Charities

Two Trust Funds Are Established of $3,000 Each for Sisters' Benefit.

Four local charitable institutions were named beneficiaries in the will of Mrs. Mae V. Estler, who died June 13. Petition for probate of the will was made yesterday at the District Supreme Court.

Mrs. Estler left $2,000 to her husband, Theodore W. Estler. The will directed founding of two trust funds of $3,000 each at the Washington Loan & Trust Co., one for the benefit of her sister, Margaret A. McElvare, for her life and then for her daughter, Ina McCarthy, and the other fund for another sister, Emma L. Ellis, and at her death for a niece, Alice N. Quinn.

A diamond ring and pin was left to Mrs. Jane Neagle and other personal effects were distributed among relatives.

Bequests of $500 each were provided for the St. Ann's Infant Asylum, the St. Joseph's Male Orphan Asylum, the Little Sisters of the Poor, the Washington Home for Incurables, and St. Paul's Catholic Church.

The two sisters are to divide the remaining estate. The Washington Loan & Trust Co. was named executor.

Washington Man to Wed.

Milton Davis, 25 years old, of 606 H street northwest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis, and Miss Lillian Honig, 23 years old, of 56 Broome street, New York City, yesterday obtained a license in New York to wed, anouncing they would be married in that city Sunday.

KLAN HEADQUARTERS TO QUIT CAPITAL FOR ATLANTA RETURN

auditor and about 30 employes. All are now back in Atlanta.

Imperial Wizard Hiram Wesley Evans, however, will remain in Washington, maintaining his home at 2500 Massachusetts avenue and his office on the sixth floor of the Southern Building. The legal office of the klan also will remain here.

As a matter of fact, in view of what Wizard Evans once told reporters, it may not be entirely correct to say that the national headquarters has moved back to Atlanta, even though klan officials themselves say so.

At the time of Evans' remark, there was talk of the Klan moving its headquarters from Atlanta to Washington. The Wizard was asked about the report.

"The headquarters of the Klan," he said, "is wherever I am."

The meeting under the auspices of the Washington klan will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock. It has been called to celebrate the consolidation and reorganization of the local organization and is the opening gun in what will be an intensive drive for members.

It is expected that several thousand Klansmen will attend the meeting as well as a large crowd of curiosity seekers as the meeting will be open to the public. Klansmen from Maryland and Virginia will attend, although the affair is a Washington meeting. The Ballston, Va., Klan Band will furnish music.

Dr. Evans, Imperial Wizard, and Judge John H. Connaughton, of Washington, will be the principal speakers, with short addresses by lesser lights in the order. It is expected that the recent DePriest incident will be the main topic of discussion by the speakers.

Flaming Cross Ready.

Following the addresses a naturalization ceremony will be held beneath the light of an 80-foot flaming cross which has been erected for the occasion. The general public will be permitted to view this ceremony. Special details of pickets will be on hand to handle the automobile traffic and preserve order.

This is the first public demonstration of the Washington branch of the order since the order directing the unmasking of the klan.

Because of difficulties with their leaders, the local branch for a while was in a rundown condition, but an effort now is being made to rejuvenate the order here and a new imperial representative has been appointed whose identity will be revealed at the mass meeting.

The new representative is an aggressive organizer with a large fund of fraternal organization knowledge, and it is believed that under his leadership the local organization will become much more powerful. There are about 6,000 klansmen in the District at present, but it is hoped to double this number.

The six local klaverns have been consolidated into one large group in the interest of economy in administration and for facility in direction.

Pastors Arrange Sermons To Draw Summer Worshiper

"Spiritual Rewards" and "Christian Living" Topics of Rev. W. A. Lambeth; "Adventure" Illustrates Text at Covenant Church; Dr. Briggs to Preach on Peace.

Sermons of sufficient appeal to attract Washingtonians to spend an hour of a summer Sabbath in church have been planned by pastors of Protestant churches of the city for tomorrow.

The Rev. W. A. Lambeth, pastor of the Mount Vernon Place Church, will preach at the morning service on "Spiritual Renewals." His subject for the evening service will be "Christian Living." The Rev. H. R. Deal, junior preacher, will speak to the junior congregation on "Our Father's Kingdom," in the Sunday school auditorium at 11 o'clock.

A study of modern and Christian adventure will form the basis of the sermons for tomorrow and next Sunday of the Rev. John D. Gregory at the Church of the Covenant. The subject of the sermon tomorrow will be "Christian Adventure of Yesterday."

"The Commandment of God" will be the subject at the morning service of the Rev. Harold E. Beatty at the Georgetown Lutheran Church. A service and communion will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the National Lutheran Home for the Aged. Dr. Beatty's subject at the evening service will be "The Bible and Electric Lights Jubilee."

The Rev. John E. Briggs, pastor of the Fifth Baptist Church, who has returned from the dedication of the new Baptist Church at Colonial Beach, will preach at the morning service on "Peace, Perfect Peace." His evening subject will be "Why Paul Was Not Ashamed of the Gospel."

The Rev. Alvin C. Sawtelle, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Paterson, N. J., will preach at the morning service at 11 o'clock in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, minister of All Souls' Church, will preach at the union service at 11 o'clock in the All Souls' Church. His subject will be "The Man Who Forsook Himself." Two other churches are cooperating in the union service, the Mount Pleasant Congregational and the Universalist National Memorial.

"July Talks to Christians Who Like to Think" will be the subject of the evening sermon of the Rev. E. Hez Swem at the Centennial Baptist Church. His sermon subject at the morning service will be "Appraisers of God's Best."

The Rev. James H. Taylor, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, will preach at both services tomorrow. He is expected to tell of some of the experiences as a delegate to the Pan-Presbyterian Council in Boston.

The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the Chevy Chase Baptist Church at the morning service. The pastor, the Rev. Edward O. Clark, will give a brief communion meditation on the subject of "What Paul Received." New members will be welcomed into church membership.

The Rev. J. Hillman Hollister will be the speaker at the vesper service at 7 o'clock tomorrow night on the lawn of the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. William E. La Rue, pastor of the Takoma Park Baptist Church, will preach on "The Orthodoxy of Character" tomorrow morning.

The Rev. B. P. Robertson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hyattsville, will lead his congregation tomorrow morning in meditation on "The Appeal of the Cross of Christ." He will speak in the evening on "Ahab and Micaiah."

NATIONALLY KNOWN PREACHERS COMING

Dr. Halliday Will Be 2 Weeks at First Congregational Church Services.

"HALT" HIS EVENING TOPIC

The First Congregational Church tomorrow will introduce its annual custom of bringing a group of nationally known preachers to Washington.

The first of the visiting ministers, the Rev. Ernest M. Halliday, general secretary of the Congregational Church Extension Boards, will preach at both services of the church tomorrow. He will remain in the city for two weeks, responding to the regular duties of a pastor. On July 21 he will be succeeded by the Rev. Horace F. Holton, minister of Porter Church, Brockton, Mass., a member of the prudential committee of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

The other preachers who will complete the visiting group are the Rev. Oscar Edward Maurer, minister of Center Church, New Haven, Conn., chairman of the commission on missions, August 4 to 15; the Rev. J. Percival Huget, minister of Tompkins Avenue Church, Brooklyn, N. Y.; the Rev. C. Rexford Raymond, minister of the Pilgrim Church, of Chattanooga, Tenn., September 1 to 8. Each of these preachers will carry out the regular duties of the pastor of the church during their visits.

The subject of Dr. Halliday's sermon tomorrow morning will be "God's Criterion." At the 8 o'clock service he will speak on "Halt." His evening sermon will be illustrated by the motion picture "Happiness Ahead," featuring Colleen Moore.

On Thursday night at 8 o'clock Dr. Halliday will speak on "Wanted—Strong Men." His sermon will be illustrated by the motion picture "The Gaucho," featuring Douglas Fairbanks.

Motion pictures will be used each Sunday evening and Thursday by the visiting preachers to illustrate their sermons.

Baptist Pastor Preaches On 'The High Cost of Sin'

The Rev. Charles B. Austin, pastor of the West Washington Baptist Church, announced yesterday that he will preach a special series of sermons during July. The first of the sermons will be delivered tomorrow night. The subjects and the dates follow: "The High Cost of Sin," tomorrow; "The High Cost of Discipilnship, July 14; "The High Cost of Neglect," July 21; "The High Cost of Loving," July 28.

The Rev. Walt N. Johnson, of North Carolina, will address the Baptist ministers of the District at the Calvary Baptist Church at 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Rev. J. C. Copenhaver Lincoln Park Preacher

The Rev. Dr. John C. Copenhaver, pastor of the Epworth Episcopal Church South, will be the speaker at the outdoor service in Lincoln Park at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, under auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Copenhaver's church is one of 26 churches cooperating with the Y. M. C. A. in holding a series of services in Lincoln Park during the summer. John L. Bateman, of the Ninth Street Christian Church, will preside at tomorrow afternoon's service and will lead the singing. Mrs. Margaret R. Moffat will be the organist.

CANON TO CONDUCT CATHEDRAL SERVICE

Rev. A. P. Stokes Will Preach at Open-Air Evensong Near Peace Cross.

COMMUNION IN BETHESDA

The second of a series of sermons on "The Many-Sided Christ and His Messages for Today" will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Anson Phelps Stokes, canon of Washington Cathedral, at the people's open air evensong at the peace cross in Washington Cathedral close at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The title of tomorrow's sermon by Dr. Stokes will be "Christ as Example and Leader."

The series of sermons will continue until July 27, when Canon Stokes will leave Washington for South America for a vacation of several months. The open air evensong services will last until September 29, when the feast of St. Michael and All Angels will be celebrated.

Canon Edward S. Dunlap will be the preacher at the celebration of holy communion at 11 o'clock in Bethlehem Chapel. Other services in Bethlehem Chapel tomorrow will be holy communion at 7:30 o'clock and morning prayer and litany at 10 o'clock.

The rector of St. John's Church, Bethesda, the Rev. Clarence Prentice Parker, will preach at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow. He also will preach at the young people's service at 10 o'clock. The vesper service on the lawn will be held at 4 o'clock. Dr. Parker also will officiate at a holy communion service at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Schedule for Central Mission Is Announced

Services at the Central Union Mission will be conducted tomorrow night by Prof. H. Culver McNeil, of George Washington University, with James L. Bates assisting as soloist.

Six of the Washington churches represented by the Central Union Mission will conduct the 8 o'clock services next week in the following order: Columbia Heights Christian Church Christian Endeavor, Monday; the B. Y. P. U. of Bethany, Baptist Church, Tuesday; the Hoge class of St. Paul's M. E. Church South, Wednesday; the Luther League of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Thursday; the men's class of the Eastern Presbyterian Church, Friday; and the Vaughn class of Valvary Baptist Church, Saturday.

Massachusetts Avenue Maryland Unit Asked

The Park and Planning Commission of the National Capital has received a copy of a resolution passed by the Cabin John Park Citizens' Association asking that Massachusetts avenue be extended into Maryland and connected with Conduit road. The commission has been making a study of the matter for some time and will consider the resolution at its next meeting.

Massachusetts avenue already extends to the District Line. To connect with Conduit road it would be necessary to run it around the Delcarlia Reservoir and through the reservoir grounds if the Government would permit this.

GROUP PREACHING IS FOUND POPULAR

Rev. A. F. Elmes Will Begin Series Tomorrow Upon "Hill of the Lord."

"JESUS' PROBLEMS" TOPIC

Services in colored churches of Washington tomorrow will be featured by the start and continuation, in some churches, of groups of sermons. Colored pastors declare that they are finding sermons delivered in this form popular with their congregations and effective.

The first of a special summer series of messages will be delivered at the morning service tomorrow by the Rev. A. F. Elmes at the People's Congregational Church. His first message will be "The Hill of the Lord." The services at 8 o'clock will be under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society. Dr. Elmes will preach on "What Doest Thou Here?" The theme for the young people's hour will be "What Has Made Our Nation What It Is?"

A series of sermons on "Jesus and the Problems of Life" will be begun tomorrow morning by the Rev. R. W. Brooks at the Lincoln Congregational Temple. The first of the series will be "Jesus and the Race Prejudice." The senior choir will render special music. The Christian Endeavor Society will present a musical and literary program at 6:45 o'clock.

The third of a series of sermons on "The Seven Seals" will be delivered tomorrow morning by the Rev. J. L. S. Holloman at the Second Baptist Church. The subject of the sermon will be "The Aftermath of War." At the evening service, Dr. Holloman will preach on "Some Lessons From the Book of Esther."

Special services are announced for both morning and evening at the Shiloh Baptist Institutional Church. The pastor, the Rev. J. Milton Waldron, will preach on "The Constraining Power of the Love of Christ" at the morning service. At the 8 o'clock service he will deliver a 20 minute sermon on "God's Way to Heaven—Are You Walking in It?" New members will be welcomed and the Lord's Supper celebrated. The choir and the male quartet will render special music at each service.

Booker T. Medford, the son of the Rev. H. T. Medford, foreign missions secretary and former pastor of the John Wesley A. M. E. Zion Church, will preach at the evening service at 7:45 o'clock at this church. The present pastor, the Rev. Henry D. Tillman will preach at 10:45 o'clock. The junior choir will sing at both services.

The Rev. William D. Jarvis will preach on "The Open Window" at the morning service of the New Bethel Church. He will preach a special sermon at the evening service, the subject of which has not been announced.

The Rev. George O. Bullock, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, will preach at the morning service on "Obedient to the Heavenly Vision." His topic at the evening service will be "Men of the Bible."

Cuban Educators Will Visit Capital

300 to Leave Havana This Morning for Tour of Cities in U. S.

A group of educators from Cuba will arrive in Washington Monday morning for a two-day visit as part of their program of visits to large American cities on the Eastern seacoast. Approximately 300 will be in the party, which will leave Havana this morning for Key West, where they will entrain for Jacksonville.

The educators will arrive here about 7:30 o'clock Monday morning and expect to call on President Hoover. They will pass most of the time sightseeing and expect to visit local educators for a short conference on American methods of education.

Tuesday evening the party will go to New York City, later visiting Albany and Niagara Falls. At the falls one of the party, Senorita Dalia Iniguez, will recite the poem, "Al Niagara," by the famous Cuban poet, Jose Heredia.

The excursion was arranged by the Cuban department of public instruction, with the cooperation of President Machado. The committee in charge is headed by Dr. Rene Perez Abreu, president of the board of education of Havana; Senor Osvaldo Valdes de la Paz, secretary of the board, and Senor Lisandro Otero, technical inspector of the public instruction department.

Building for the Future

A short time ago I was sitting in the office of a great architecht in New York City. From the window on the twenty-fifth floor we could see the massive buildings towering above the city.

"In each of those great buildings," said the architect, "you can see the character and soul of the artist." This is unquestionably true in life. We see the soul and character of the parents in the children.

Those great buildings would not stand if the foundation was not perfect; neither will the child win in life's struggle if the foundation of moral education is neglected.

How many parents of today are neglecting to give their children the proper moral foundation? Are we honest with ourselves and with our children when we keep from them this most necessary preparation to fit them to reach the top and be one of the builders of America?

If the parents will stop and consider this greatest of all responsibilities that rest upon them, the much talked of crime wave will soon disappear.

AS THE PARENTS SOW, WILL THEIR CHILDREN REAP

FOR THE HONOR OF FRANCE.

Premier Poincare is having trouble with French politicians who are trying to capitalize the national reluctance to pay the debt to America. They know, as well as M. Poincare knows, that unless the Mellon-Berenger debt agreement is ratified before August 1 the United States will demand payment of the French bonds falling due on that date, amounting to $400,000,000, with interest. These bonds are an obligation that can not be repudiated or defaulted without incurring the penalty of a collapse of national credit and an internal paroxysm resulting from depreciation of the franc. The cost of default by France would be much more than the amount due to the United States.

The finance commission of the Chamber of Deputies has adopted a reservation to the Mellon-Berenger agreement, providing that France shall not pay if Germany defaults in reparation payments. This reservation is, of course, an attempt to force the United States to accept the condition that France's debt payments shall be contingent upon the action of Germany. The United States can not accept such a condition. Mr. Hoover has no authority to change the French debt into a contingent agreement. By its action on the Mellon-Berenger agreement Congress virtually directed the President to demand payment of the French bonds on August 1 in case of nonratification of the agreement by that date.

Premier Poincare, if he should remain in office until August 1, will undoubtedly ratify the Mellon-Berenger agreement by executive decree. But he can not do this if Parliament in the meantime has attached reservations to the resolution of ratification. A showdown is necessary in Parliament, and debate is expected to begin on the 16th instant. The politicians who are currying favor with the popular majority that insists upon making debt payments contingent upon German reparation payments will do their best to defeat M. Poincare. Their object in part is to bring into existence an administration that will be in sympathy with the British Labor government in its socialistic aims. The socialists, however, are not the only antagonists of Premier Poincare. He is faced with an insurrection among more conservative followers, who share the almost universal conviction that France can not safely bind itself to pay the debt to America in disregard of the possibility of Germany's default on reparations.

France's agreement with Great Britain requires her to pay as much pro rata to Britain as is paid to America. If the $400,000,000 due on August 1 should be paid to the United States, France must pay about $300,000,000 to Great Britain on debt account. Thus, if the Mellon-Berenger agreement be not ratified this month, France must pay out $700,000,000 or suffer the consequences that befall a nation that repudiates its most solemn obligations.

The debate in the Chamber of Deputies will bring out these facts. The United States Government can not change the situation, in the absence of Congress. Premier Poincare is manfully trying to persuade Parliament to meet the national obligations. Politics may defeat him before August 1, but if he should go down it will have been in a good cause, and his successor will not have any other course than to follow his policy, if the honor of France is to be preserved.

DON'T SACRIFICE AIR DEFENSE.

The $185,000,000 Treasury surplus has started a lot of tax reduction talk. Whether or not, in view of the large expenditures for public improvements that are in prospect, a tax cut will be found possible remains to be seen.

Among the suggestions that have been made is that the $300,000,000 five-year military aviation program, now midway in course of execution, be modified. Money that could be saved by not building airplanes, it is suggested, could be applied to flood control, Black Canyon Dam and other projects. Civilian aviation is expanding by leaps and bounds, and it is suggested that every plane that is put into commercial operation could be commandeered and converted to military use in time of war.

Commercial aircraft, however, are adaptable to wartime use only in severely limited channels. The Army must have highly specialized fighting planes. Moreover, in case of war, full service will be demanded of the merchantmen of the air. Just as the railroads were taken over in the last war and operated by the Government, so will the commercial air network be taken over in the next war and operated as an integral part of the national machine. Every commercial plane will be needed on its usual route; there will be no surplus that can be commandeered for combat operation. It is highly important that the Government build up and maintain in a high state of operating efficiency its service fleet, and if tax reduction can be had only by neglecting plane building it would be better that there should be no tax reduction.

EXECUTIVE REORGANIZATION.

President Hoover spent the morning of the Fourth of July holiday considering reorganization and coordination of executive bureaus. It was a foregone conclusion during the recent campaign that if he were elected Federal reorganization would be brought to the fore.

Proper reorganization would promote efficiency and result in large economies. The possibility of transferring the activities of the Shipping Board, now that the United States Lines have been sold, to the Department of Commerce will be considered. Agitation for combining the Veterans' and Pension Bureaus and the Soldiers' Home Board will not fall on deaf ears. All in all, it is estimated that between 40 and 50 boards and bureaus doing related work in different departments can be abolished or consolidated.

But, although the benefits of reorganization may be generally admitted, accomplishment will not be easy. Every governmental agency naturally has a host of friends upon whom it will call for formal protest if it appears that its existence may be threatened. No member of the personnel of a bureau or board wants to lose his job and the pressure to continue the agency's existence will be very strong. In addition, Congress has not been inclined to look with favor upon reductions in personnel and the resulting decrease in patronage. Governmental reorganization is very well, provided jobs are not destroyed or friends, political or personal, are not affected.

Although the administration intends to simplify governmental agencies, its record thus far has been in the opposite direction. President Hoover has held office four months. Since March 4 four new governmental agencies have been advocated or have come into being. A national law enforcement commission has been created. The Farm Board is in process of completion. A special message to Congress has called for the appointment of a joint congressional committee to cooperate with the law enforcement commission. It has been announced that a child welfare conference will be held at the White House, and a Federal commission will be appointed to make studies of that subject. The child welfare conference will be financed by a private donation of $500,000. But all these agencies will need office personnel, and the net result must be an increase in Government expenses.

President Hoover faces one of the largest tasks of his career in attempting to bring about a reorganization of commissions, bureaus and departments.

"STUNTS" WITH PASSENGERS.

Investigation has cleared up the mystery that surrounded the cause of the airplane crash in which Wilbur Stultz and his two passengers were killed. Searchers found the shoes of the passengers wedged under the rudder bar in the cockpit in which they were seated, and it is deduced that the passengers became frightened and "froze" the controls so that Stultz could not maneuver the plane. Such cases are far from rare. The story is told of instructors, during the war, who always carried a sawed-off billiard cue in the cockpit with which to knock students into insensibility when they became frightened and "froze" to the controls.

"Stunting" is a necessary part of flying training. Pilots must know how to handle their ships under unusual circumstances, and the only way they can learn is by being put through a course in acrobatics. But passengers should not be carried during such trials. The regulations against acrobatic flying with passengers should be rigorously enforced.

ORATORY, ANCIENT AND MODERN.

The tentative definition of oratory as "speech regarded as an art" seems to square sufficiently well with what Bacon lays down regarding it in his "Advancement of Learning." "If the thing be well considered," he says, "the office and use of this art is but to apply and recommend the dictates of reason to the imagination in order to excite the affection and will." The implications contained in that much-embracing statement come down to this, in the last analysis, that the language employed by the orator must not only serve as the transmitter of his thoughts but must also have a beauty of its own.

Of this concept the ancient Greeks and Romans were keenly aware. With them oratory was a fine art, to be cultivated with the same care and in the same spirit as poetry, painting, sculpture, or music. The orator of old was expected to give meticulous attention to the art of composition, as well as to the art of delivery, and there is abundant evidence to show that his hearers tested fastidiously the form no less than the matter of the oration. Isocrates is speaking of what from experience he knew well to be true when he tells us of "the antitheses, the symmetrical clauses and other figures which lend brilliancy to oratorical displays, compelling the listeners to give clamorous applause."

Among modern English-speaking peoples the art of the orator has become somewhat suspect, which may appear strange when one remembers the great delight taken in the eloquent performances—in the pulpit, at the bar, in the forum, or before an assembly of the people—of which the English language has been the vehicle of transmission. The recorded speeches of Burke, Sheridan, Grattan, O'Connell, Webster, Lincoln, Gladstone and Rosebery—to name only a few—still charm us. The fact, however, remains that the combined efforts of Burke and Sheridan, with all their thunderous eloquence and their apparently irrefragable proofs, failed to convict Warren Hastings of the high crimes and misdemeanors with which he was charged, and that Burke, with all the logic and all the facts on his side, pleaded in vain with the British Parliament in favor of conciliation with the American colonies. It is true that even in ancient Greece there were symptoms of a distrust of "set speaking." Thus, we find Euripides expressing the wish that facts might be allowed to speak for themselves and that "clever speeches might be of no avail." Similarly, it is with no note of approval that Plato, in the "Republic," makes Adeimantos declare that "there are professors of rhetoric who teach the art of persuading courts and assemblies," and that elsewhere he represents oratory as "the art of making the worse reason appear the better." Plato knew full well that oratory can make the good reason or the good cause appear to be what it really is, and he is at pains to demonstrate what a masterpiece of eloquence ought to be; but he evidently was alive to the abuse, as well as the legitimate use, to which the orator may turn his art.

The Latin races do not appear to share that distrust of the oratorical art to which speakers of English are so prone. With the former, care in preparation is by no means regarded as proof of insincerity. On the contrary, they expect flawless workmanship, which can come only from whatever is the equivalent of the old practice of burning the midnight oil. In this attitude they are unquestionably right, for it is not readiness in extemporaneous speaking, but character, that makes for sincerity; and the man who is sincere will be none the less so because he has given time and thought to the form as well as to the content of his address; and he will have the further merit of avoiding the claptrap and the boresomeness into which very many of the spur-of-the-moment speakers are liable to fall.

FISKE'S TORPEDO PLANE

New York Times Special.

Jamestown R. I., July 4.—Laughed at for years by Navy officials as an impractical dreamer, Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, retired, sat back on the veranda of a hotel here today and told the story of his invention of the torpedo plane.

He laughed when he cited the decision handed down last week by the District of Columbia Supreme Court awarding him $198,500 from Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics, because the Government used his patent on torpedo planes.

"This is not a test case," Admiral Fiske said, "because when Maj. Sibley developed the Army tent at his own expense and the Government claimed the right to the patent because the major was on active service the Supreme Court ruled some years ago that an officer on duty could patent any invention of his and the Government could not confiscate it.

"Back in 1911 I foresaw the value of the airplane in war and suggested dropping torpedoes from Navy planes to circumvent landing parties and to destroy enemy ships. I was laughed at and accused of wildcat schemes. The Navy Department refused to listen to my ideas, but I went along on my own, and in 1912 took out a patent on a torpedo plane.

"The idea came to me that torpedoes could be dropped from a plane if a mechanism for directing them when they landed in the water could be developed, as before that they had been shot from tubes. I finally worked out an apparatus for carrying them on planes and for dropping them, as well as a mechanism for steering them in the water.

"I tried to secure the cooperation of the Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels, but he would not listen. At that time I was a captain and due for my admiralship and so I did not push my idea.

"In 1916 I retired as a rear admiral and when the World War started I again tried to get Secretary Daniels interested in my scheme, pointing out the fact that the British had developed a torpedo plane which was used successfully on May 1, 1917, when they sank the Jena by torpedoes from two planes.

"Finally, on May 20, 1918, after some correspondence, Secretary Daniels wrote me that the idea was no good. Soon after the war I dropped the matter."

Admiral Fiske at this point stated that Secretary Daniels ruled that every invention patented by a naval officer belonged to the Government.

"This was unlawful," Admiral Fiske said, "as it was in direct contradiction to the Sibley decision, but the men in the Navy had to bear it.

"I thought nothing more about my invention until Christmas, 1921, when I received a greeting from the first naval torpedo plane squadron, showing a plane dropping a torpedo. I recognized the picture as the embodiment of my patent and it was clear to me that the Government had deliberately taken my patent for its own use.

"The Government contended that the patent was developed at the expense of the Government, inasmuch as I had been educated at the Naval Academy and was on active duty at the time the patent was taken out, but the court ruled that I had done the work entirely on my own, following which the Government had taken it out of my hands.

"The Government also contended that the patent as drawn up, together with the accompanying diagrams, was not practical and had to be further developed to be of use. Against this the court ruled that mine was a pioneer invention in a similar status to the sewing machine and telephone and that any further developments as were made by the Government were in the nature of improvements, for I had conceived the idea of a torpedo plane, and its working apparatus as far as the discharge of torpedoes was concerned."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

AN INCIDENT.

I saw a pale-faced woman peer
The long street, up and down,
And passing by, "she waits," thought I,
"For one who comes from town.

"She watches at the window there
For one she longs to see.
Perhaps he's late, that she must wait
For him so anxiously."

But further down the road I met
A drunken thing and grim,
Her glance of pain I saw again
And knew she looked for him.

I understand that frightened face
Which had so strange appeared,
I plainly read, that look of dread,
This was the thing she feared.

Oh, bitter tragedy of life,
To peer into the gloam,
To search the street and wait to meet
A drunkard reeling home!

By ROBERT QUILLEN.

PERSONAL property rights are acquired by discovery, purchase or labor.

But the rights of a race depend on its ability to exercise them.

No one will contend that the American Indian had a right to hold the vast resources of this continent.

Some portions of the land were his by right of occupation and use, but the portions he did not and could not use were the property of all mankind.

No one will contend that the naked savages of Africa have a right to hold the mineral, timber and water-power resources of that continent. What they can not use, they may not hold.

Since the dog can not eat hay, he has no moral right to lie in the manger and drive away the ox.

There is sufficient answer to the charge that great nations wrongfully exploit the resources of the weak.

An "undeveloped" people that is sufficiently civilized to know the worth of its resources and to use them, and yet lacks the wit, the desire, the energy or the capital to develop them, has a right to hold its properties against invaders; but when it grants concessions to aliens it assumes the obligation to protect these aliens in the rights granted them.

If you have oil land and your neighbor has money, and if you two form a partnership to drill for oil, and if, oil having been discovered, you and your sons quarrel and threaten to destroy the well machinery, your neighbor has a right to call on the police to protect his property.

And when a citizen of the United States acquires a concession and spends his money to develop the resources of a backward country, he is entitled to protection if his property is endangered.

Men form governments for mutual protection, and the first business of a government is to protect its citizens—whether at home or abroad.

To talk of "imperialism" and the "rights of the weak" is nonsense if the weak have bargained to give the strong concessions.

Weakness is not a virtue, nor does it confer any rights not enjoyed by strength.

The earth belongs to those who can use it; and though the weak have rights, they must not muzzle the ox that treads out the corn.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS.

RADIOS AND COWS.

Dairy cows like radio programs. There is nothing better than a good rousing ginger ale, baking soda, automobile, canned soup or salad oil hour to make them contented. Western dairymen have been experimenting with radios in the cowsheds and they report that the bovines seem happy, calm and more efficient when being sprayed with tenor solos, jazz melodies, bedtime stories, et cetera.

• • • •

The cows no longer have to be driven home by a shepherd dog. They come in when they hear "Heigh-ho Everybody, Heigh-ho!" "You Wouldn't Fool Me, Would You?" or "Button Up Your Overcoats."

• • • •

If the milk doesn't taste right these days, don't blame the cow; it may be static.

• • • •

Extensive tests are now being conducted from coast to coast by nearly every farmer with one or more cows. "Tune in on your favorite station and get more milk!" is becoming a broadcasting slogan. "You're the Cream in My Coffee" has produced the best results to date, according to returns from 26 States, with 187 cowbarns missing.

• • • •

There is only one number the dairy farmers won't allow played to the cows under any circumstances. That's "Hold Everything."

• • • •

Elmer Twitchell is among those experimenting. He is always trying new stunts with his radio set, and when he read about this he immediately went out and bought himself a cow. He says the radio has worked wonders with her. "The cow," says Elmer, "has taste. She likes classical stuff. I got three quarts more milk than her schedule calls for the other evening by tuning in on the Goldman Band playing Rachmaninoff's prelude. She likes Chopin and Mozart, too.

• • • •

"She don't mind mammy songs and will even listen contentedly to beauty talks, Rotary Club speeches and the baseball scores, but she rebels at radio setting-up exercises, international Kiwanis messages, the stock market prices and talks on dog breeding.

• • • •

"Toscanini is one of her favorites, and she will come galloping out of a brook any time to hear something by Tschaikowsky. The only time I ever knew her to rebel at any radio number was night before last, when a quartet sang 'The Old Oaken Bucket.' She's a good cow, and gives honest milk."

• • • •

Mr. Twitchell is thinking of swapping the cow for a bull. He wants to determine how it will react to the "Toreador" song.

EPITAPHS FOR BORDER TOURISTS.

An anonymous contrib suggests that some of the golfers who played in the open championship during the rain acted as if their motto was "Any old putt in a storm."

Talking pictures of weddings are now being taken. They will be of great benefit to the bridegroom, as they will constitute the last record of his ever getting a 50-50 break in the dialogue.

The revolt will come when an attempt is made to take a talkie of her mother.

AUTOMATIC RECEIVERS.

Uncle Sam is by way of following John Bull's lead in ordering the introduction on American shipping of automatic devices for picking up radio S O S signals, says the new Orleans Times-Picayune. It was the Vestris' disaster that forced the hands of our bureau chiefs and caused the introduction into Congress of the legislation to make mandatory the installation of such a device.

It appears that there were ships close enough to the Vestris to have given complete rescue to passengers and crew had the help call been read. It was, however, overlooked, through human fallibility. By means of the automatic invention the S O S would have been received by tireless ears and automatically transformed into an alarm that would have stirred the ship to instant action. British vessels already are required by law to carry such a mechanism.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

All Battleships Should Be Sunk, Says W. J. Dwyer, Who Reminds the World That Bryan Made Peace Treaties.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The ideas one gets from reading different newspapers are certainly conflicting. In one paper, I think it was The Post, I read this: "The doctrine of parity in my opinion is of very great importance as a means of determining not how two great nations are to shoot at each other, but as a means of helping them not to shot at each other. The first step which people take when they are going to shoot at each other is to try to outbuild each other in the shape of navies. The minute they agree not to outbuild each other they are taking the longest step possible toward not having war."

No, this was not a statement or speech by William Jennings Bryan back in 1913 when he was Secretary of State and negotiated 29 peace treaties with foreign nations, but by the present Secretary of State, Mr. Stimson.

Then on the editorial page of another paper there is a reference to the "next war." The writer of that editorial might be excused on the ground of force of habit, since we are all victims of it—it was just natural to prepare for the "next war"—but doesn't he know "that there aint going to be no next war?" It has been outlawed by 40 nations of the earth in ratified peace agreements—29 of them negotiated by Bryan and 9 by Mr. Kellogg.

It is up to the nations, which Ramsay MacDonald's visit to the United States in August will accentuate, not to quibble over parity, but to sink every battleship to the bottom of the sea, thereby insuring the peace of the world for posterity and saving civilization from annihilation.

American Film Producers Faced With Strong Competition in Talkies.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It may be that the advent of the "talkies" spells the doom of American domination of the world film market. The nations of Europe, fretting of their inability to establish domestic film industries because of the great popularity of American productions, have been quick to seize upon the "talkies" as throwing up a language barrier that will bar the way to world circulation of any film. In Germany and England huge combines have been engineered for the production of "talkies," and recently it was intimated that the two most important groups, namely, British Talking Pictures, Ltd., and the German Klangfilms Tobis group which, in turn, is a joint subsidiary of Siemens & Halske and Aeg, were about to pool their interest forming a virtual European monopoly with more than $300,000,000 capital. This new group is to fight American "talkie" interests.

How can American producers fight back? Now that dialogue has become an indispensable part of the motion picture film playing an important part in developing the story, American vocal films can not hope to command the interest of European audiences. American producers realize as much and they talk of synchronizing dialogue, through voice doubles, in several languages. But that would be an expensive process, in many respects unsatisfactory, nor does it seem probable that silent versions of American "talkies" which they also suggest, would prove popular. American producers will fight to retain the world market in every conceivable way, but it seems apparent that they face great odds.

Reader Calls Attention to Acquittal of Dr. Shuler on Charge of Libel.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In your issue of Saturday, June 7, there occurred a statement that shows the difficulty of getting facts straight. It also put Mr. Luke E. Hart in a wrong light; for, of course, he knew the facts. The fair supposition is that your informant misunderstood Mr. Hart. I quote: "Hart, who is supreme advocate of the order," (of the K. of C.) "will report that he and other K. of C. attorneys have brought about the conviction of six persons in various sections of the country on libel charges and expect to get two more convictions. In no case was there an acquittal."

Of course the supreme advocate could not forget the acquittal of Rev. Dr. Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church in Los Angeles, and editor of Bob Shuler's Magazine, one of the most pungent and fearless monthlies published. Dr. Shuler had copied in his magazine the bogus K. of C. "oath," but with emphatic statement that he did not believe any K. of C. or any other Romanist in this country had ever taken such an oath. In spite of this, and though he merely quoted from the Congressional Record which made no such denial of belief, he was sued for libel. The first trial stood ten for acquittal. The second trial began Monday, April 29, and ended the next Saturday night with a verdict of acquittal. The case was most eagerly followed over large sections of the country, for Dr. Shuler is not a man whose light is hidden under a bushel, as Mr. Hart would promptly testify.

FACTS.

Glorious Sight in Eastern Heavens Before Dawn—Mercury Visible.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Possibly there are those of your readers who would appreciate the reminder that the eastern heavens have been presenting an unusual splendor for several mornings. Thus on this Fourth I was up at 3:15 to see again a perfect crescent moon, with brilliant Lucifer (Venus), and, especially, what I suppose to be Mercury, so generally enveloped in the sun's radiance as to be invisible: this being the third time in a long life when I have seen that planet. A day or two ago Venus was directly under the crescent, as though hung upon it.

Insulting Charge That Dry Agents Stole Whisky May Lead to Reprisals.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: My blood boils when I read that 300 prohibition agents are suspected of guilty knowledge of the theft of $1,842,000 worth of whisky from the Government's warehouse in Chicago.

This insult must be wiped out in blood.

Only the murder of four or five innocent automobilists, preferably accompanied by wives and children, can efface the memory.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

New Secretary At White House In Summer Job

Miss Braddock Will Fill in During Vacations for Regular Aids.

By GENE ELIOT.

THE flurry of interest aroused by publication of a picture of "Miss Roberta Braddock, of Los Angeles, to be social secretary to Mrs. Hoover," may now subside, for it develops that Miss Braddock has only been imported to substitute for Mrs. Hoover's other secretaries when they go on their vacations, that she is not to succeed either of the three present secretaries, Miss Mary Randolph, Miss Ruth Fesler and Miss Mildred Hall, nor to augment their number permanently.

Miss Braddock is an old friend of the President and Mrs. Hoover and worked under Mr. Hoover in the food administration in the days of the war. She is assistant to the dean of women of the University of Southern California and will resume her connection with the university when the school year begins in the autumn. Meanwhile she is finding recreation in a change of scene and a change of activity. She expects to remain in Washington through July and August and now is the guest of the President and Mrs. Hoover at the White House.

The ever-growing demands that are made on the time and attention of the mistress of the White House and the variety and importance of Mrs. Hoover's personal interests and enthusiasms made it necessary early in the administration to increase her secretarial staff, just as President Hoover was conceded three "secretaries to the President," instead of one and a personal secretary, who has sufficed for all former Presidents.

Miss Fesler and Miss Hall, who had been with Mrs. Hoover for several years before she became mistress of the White House, deal with Mrs. Hoover's enormous correspondence and handle those extra-social demands which are constantly made upon her time, while the social secretary's work is mainly concentrated in Miss Randolph's hands.

She brought considerable experience to the post, for she was Mrs. Coolidge's social secretary when Mr. Coolidge was Vice President, went with Mrs. Coolidge to the White House to be broken in under the expert guidance of Miss Laura Harlan and succeeded Miss Harlan in the role of White House social secretary when the latter retired—or was retired—to go into the real estate business, in which she has achieved tremendous success.

"Polly" Randolph's sister, Miss Anne Randolph, is also of the group of social secretaries who have an influential role in directing the destinies of society in Washington. Among those she serves are Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, and Senator and Mrs. David Aiken Reed. The Misses Randolph are not of "the Randolphs of Virginia," but are the daughters of a distinguished Army officer, whose home was in Pennsylvania. They have lived in Washington for several years.

Minister of Roumania To Pass Summer Abroad.

The Minister of Roumania, Mr. George Cretziano, and Miss Jeanne Cretziano expect to sail for Europe on the S. S. Ile de France July 26 to pass the summer.

Mr. Frederick Nano, who has arrived to serve as First Secretary of the Roumanian Legation, is living at the Montgomery Country Club until Mme. Nano arrives in the late summer. They then will look for a house. Mr. Nano served at the legation several years ago and Mme. Nano was famous as one of the beauties of the corps.

Senator and Mrs. David Aiken Reed are at Hot Springs, Va., for a few days, having made the trip by motor.

Senator Robert F. Wagner and his son, Robert Wagner, jr., returned to New York today from Lake Placid, N. Y.

Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Francis White, jr., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harris Brewster, jr., at Scrooby Manor in the Green Spring Valley and will remain over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Brewster will entertain at dinner tonight for their guests.

The Bishop of Washington, the Right Rev. James E. Freeman, has been passing several days here, having come to the Capital from Sorrento, Me., to take charge of duties connected with the cathedral. He will return to Maine today, joining his family there for the remainder of the summer. Bishop and Mrs. Freeman were recently guests of his sister, Mrs. C. Irving Lattin, of Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. Arthur Lambert has gone to Barnstable, Cape Cod, where she will pass several months. Mr. Lambert will remain on the South Shore over the week-end, returning here on Monday. Later in the season, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert will go to Wyoming.

Mrs. Charles F. Hughes, wife of the chief of naval operations, and her daughter, Mrs. Otto Nimitz, started last Monday for Maine by motor. Mrs. Nimitz will remain for the summer, but Mrs. Hughes will return soon.

Mrs. C. B. King, who, with Mr. King, makes her home at the Wardman Park Hotel, went yesterday to New York, where she will pass several weeks before joining Mr. King again at the hotel.

Mr. Charles M. Breeden has announced the marriage of his sister, Miss Ann Gertrude Breeden, to Mr. William Hester Chew, of Glen Carlyn, Va., on July 3, the Rev. J. J. Dimon, of St. Andrew's Church, officiating.

Surgeon General Riggs Takes Chevy Chase House.

Surg. Gen. Charles Edward Riggs, of the Navy, and Mrs. Riggs have gone to Chevy Chase for the summer and will be at 30 East Bradley lane.

Mr. Howard Sutherland, alien property custodian, and his daughter, Miss Katherine Sutherland, will spend the week-end at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. Mr. Sutherland has recently returned after spending several weeks in Europe. Mrs. Sutherland, who went abroad with him, is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Bleecker Dunckel, in Paris.

Mrs. John Baldwin Cochran has opened her cottage at Hull's Cove near Bar Harbor, Me., for the summer. Mr. Cochran will join her there soon.

Dr. Charles Noble Gregory will leave Washington Monday for Hot Springs, Va., and will be at the Homestead until October.

Mrs. Green Clay Goodloe left Washington Thursday for Colorado Springs, where she will spend July and August in connection with the Friends School pupils' Western trip. Mr. Green Clay Goodloe, jr., has gone to Camp Red Cloud, near Binghamton, N. Y., for the summer.

Col. and Mrs. Luke Lea, of Nashville, Tenn., are passing a few days in Washington at the Mayflower, having arrived here yesterday from Asheville, N. C. Col. Lea is owner of the Nashville Tennessean, Memphis Commercial Appeal and Knoxville Journal. He attended the meeting of Southern newspaper men held in Asheville the first of this week.

Miss Madeline McCandless will sail July 10 on the S. S. Majestic for England. She will spend the summer at Oxford, continuing the study of English architecture.

Senor Gonzalo de Arango will leave today for Jacksonville, Fla., to meet his mother, Senora Julia Montejo de Arango, and his sisters, Senorita Juliette de Arango, and Senorita Elisa de Arango, who are arriving from their home in Cuba. After a short visit in Washington, they will go to New Jersey.

Miss Cecile Pocock, of Shanghai, is at the Grace Dodge Hotel.

Maj. Brookings Engaged to Wed in Late Summer

Official of U. S. Chamber Will Marry Legislator of Bay State.

Mr. and Mrs. Addison Gott Brooks, of Gloucester, Mass., have announced the engagement of their sister, Miss Martha Nutting Brooks, to Maj. Walter DuBois Brookings.

Miss Brooks, a daughter of the late Reuben and Martha A. Brooks, of Gloucester, is a graduate of Wellesley, and is now serving her second term as representative of the Sixteenth Essex District in the Massachusetts Legislature. She served as alderman of Gloucester for two years and has been active in business and social and religious work of her community.

Maj. Brookins, son of Mrs. John E. Brookings and the late Mr. Brookings, of Hollywood, Calif., is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School, 1898. He was a major in the Twentieth Engineers during the World War, serving in France. He was also active in the American Relief Association following the war, being stationed at Warsaw, Poland, and Riga, Latvia. He is now manager of the natural resources production department of the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington. He has been active in lumber business on the Pacific Coast.

The wedding will be some time in the late summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig Peacock have left by motor for the Lake Placid Club in the Adirondacks, where they will remain through July.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. M. Johnston will close their apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel the first of the month and go to the St. Lawrence River region for the remainder of the summer.

Capt. and Mrs. J. K. Kintner, of Fort Sill, Okla., are the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. M. K. Turner, at her apartment in the North Cathedral Mansions. Mrs. Hoffman entertained at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Kintner.

YOUTH KILLS WIFE AND BLAMES RIVAL

DOCTOR TO BE QUIZZED

Jackson, Mich., July 5 (U.P.).—Blaming a third person for family quarrels, J Howard Shorney, 24, a minister's son, confessed he killed his 22-year-o'd wife, Chief of Police Charles Phelps announced today.

Shorney did not identify the man he said was responsible for the condition of his wife, who was an expectant mother, Phelps said. The couple quarreled as they were preparing for a Fourth of July outing.

The body of Mrs. Shorney was found on the floor in their home, with the head crushed and a furnace shaker nearby. The ends of both of her little fingers had been cut off, indicating a fierce struggle.

Shorney's first story, according to the police chief, was that he had gone to a drug store to cash a $3 check before he, his wife and their 15-month-old son were to leave on a picnic. Returning, he said, he found his wife's body.

The confession, Phelps said, was in the form of a verbal statement, and Shorney refused to amplify it. The chief said details of the confession might be divulged after the arrival of Rev. J. D Shorney, of Fairbury, Ill., young Shorney's father, who is expected here tonight.

The young husband has a good reputation here in Jackson. He was employed by the Consumers Power Co., and earned $115 a month. His wife, who was a graduate of the University of Michigan Nurses Training School earned $135 a month as a nurse for Dr. J. E. Ludwick.

Dr. Ludwick will be questioned by police to learn what he knew of the affairs of the young couple.

Chief Phelps first announced that Shorney had identified the man who was responsible for the slain woman's condition, but later said this announcement was premature.

Liner's Cat Is Rescued From Drowning at Sea

New York, July 5 (A.P.).—There are cats and cats, but to the wholly plebian Olaf, mascot of the liner Sud Americano, belongs the distinction of having had all nine of his lives saved at once, so to speak.

The Sud Americano, on its maiden voyage, was 800 miles out from New York and plowing her way through a high sea last Tuesday morning when the lookout cried:

"Cat overboard!"

"It's Olaf!" quoth the captain. He was right. Although the ship was making 17 knots, he ordered her hove to. A lifeboat was lowered away with Chief Officer S. Anderson and six oarsmen aboard. Through high waves they cruised about until Olaf, swimming for dear life, was hauled aboard.

SUITOR KILLS GIRL, 16; SLAIN BY HER FATHER

AVENGING PARENT FREED

Kewanee, Mo., July 5 (A.P.).—Because she refused to marry him, Honas Mayberry, 19, of Fort Wayne, Ind., shot and killed Irma Hendershott, 16, at the Hendershott farm home near here late yesterday and then was shot and killed by the girl's father as he attempted to commit suicide.

The girl was shot five times, Mayberry saving one bullet from his revolver for himself, sent the bullet into his head but had not died when the father, William Hendershott, prominent New Madrid County farmer, rushed up with a shotgun and discharged it into his head. He died immediately.

The shooting occurred about 6:30 o'clock in the yard of the farm home soon after Mayberry had arrived from Fort Wayne. He formerly resided at Sikeston, Mo., a neighboring town, and was a boyhood suitor of Irma.

In letters to Irma, authorities were informed, Mayberry had demanded that she meet him as he arrived by bus yesterday in order that they might be married. When she failed to appear he went to the Hendershott farm, where he found her in a field.

After a short quarrel they started for the house and as they reached the yard Mayberry drew a revolver and shot her. Her father, in a wheat binder in a nearby field, saw the shooting. Picking up a shotgun he carried for use in killing rabbits, he rushed toward the youth as Mayberry shot himself and fired as he reached him.

Hendershott was not held but a further investigation was being made today.

Mexico Bares Execution Of Revolutionary Priest

Mexico City, July 5 (A.P.).—The war department today officially announced the execution of Aristeo Pedroza, described as a priest, at Arandas, Jalisco, after his capture near there on Tuesday, in a fight with federal troops. Pedroza, alleged to be one of the foremost Cristero leaders, was captured, according to the government announcement, with arms in his hands.

Press dispatches from Guadalajara on Wednesday reported the execution, but official confirmation was not forthcoming until today.

movies. Two groups have been shown at the Fox and others will follow each week until every one has had his or her presentation before the public. Among those who will be seen on the screen this week at each performance are Lorraine Brown, Paul McCoon, Adolph Turner, Betty Fifer, John Rogers, Anton Farrah, Winifred Canty, Edward Enright, Mary Kaldenbach, Edward Ajello, Harry Lubar, Jimmy Hellmuth, Jay Johansen, Renoux Jamison, Mary Hoy, Edna Parker, Howard Smith, Theodore Tiller, John McGuire, Ruth Rabbitt, John Roper and Fillis Speich.

Each of the contestants who has a movie test made will be eligible for the selection of the best ten, to be offered to the Fox Film Corporation which is cooperating with The Post and the Fox Washington Theater because it desires new faces and new types for the pictures which it has planned to make during next year.

These ten will receive also a six-month pass to the Fox Theater and each of the contestants will receive the strip of film on which the screen test is recorded.

Names of the persons whose tests are to be shown at the Fox Theater in the next few weeks will be announced in the columns of The Washington Post each week before their showing. Watch for your favorite and then see how he or she looks in the pictures.

NEW CONSTITUTION PROPOSED IN SPAIN

will act as coordinator between the courts and other government bodies.

The new constitution guarantees that "no one shall be molested in Spanish territory because of his religious opinion, nor for the exercise of his own cult, unless it is harmful to Christian morals."

Public religious ceremonials and other public religious manifestations, however, are limited to the Roman Catholic faith.

Spanish citizenship rests in those persons born in Spain, in the sons of Spanish fathers even though born on foreign soil, and in those who acquire it by naturalization.

Spaniards Given Advantage.

Naturalization is the gift of the State, but citizens or subjects of States in which Spanish is spoken are given a privileged position in seeking naturalization.

Foreigners enjoy most of the rights of citizenship except the vote and participation in the Government, the States and municipalities.

The constitution guarantees to citizens and foreigners alike that they shall not be imprisoned except by due course of law and that their domiciles can not be invaded except by a competent judge.

Persons arrested or detained by the authorities will have free correspondence with the outside world. The laws can only be retroactive when in favor of the defendant, unless he is an habitual delinquent.

There is no limitation upon the right of any Spaniard to emigrate to foreign countries. The penalty of confiscation of property can not be applied by the courts.

The constitution guarantees to each citizen the right to elect his profession and to learn it as seems to him most fit. Every Spaniard, within the forms prescribed by law, has a right to found and maintain establishments of instruction. Education becomes one of the most important and fundamental cares of the State.

The right to strike is recognized, but the government reserves the right to intervene when the welfare of a large part of the population or the public services are endangered.

MAKE IT SAFE TO BE HUNGRY!

TODAY, leading medical authorities are constantly advising better care of food—earnestly urging you to adopt scientific refrigeration. For, they have discovered that perishable foods must be kept at a temperature below 50 degrees always. At higher temperatures harmful germs thrive and multiply at an alarming rate. Foods become unsafe. Many a fit of temper, many an illness can be truthfully blamed on food that has been improperly refrigerated.

For the sake of your family's health, for the sake of your own health, you should investigate the new all-steel General Electric Refrigerator. Automatically, without the slightest attention, this refrigerator keeps foods at a temperature safely below 50 degrees. It relieves you of every worry concerning the purity of the children's milk, the wholesomeness of meats and vegetables. It enables you to prepare and preserve the most delicious cold dishes and frozen desserts for warm summer days.

There are now more than 300,000 users of General Electric Refrigerators and not one has ever spent a single dollar for repairs. That was our guarantee, justified by the remarkable reliability of our refrigerator. Put the General Electric Refrigerator on the job in your home as guardian of your family's health. Visit our display rooms and examine this refrigerator.

Let us explain these 14 superiorities.

2 . . . an all-steel, warp-proof cabinet, built like a safe.
3 . . . an easily accessible temperature control.
4 . . . a mechanism that requires no oiling.
5 . . . all troublesome machinery eliminated.
6 . . . a new standard of quiet operation.
7 . . . cabinets on legs with broom-room underneath.
8 . . . no installation problem whatever.
9 . . . a sanitary, porcelain chilling chamber.
10 . . . the entire mechanism mounted on top.
11 . . . maximum food storage space in the cabinet.
12 . . . absolutely no radio interference.
13 . . . an unqualified two-year service guarantee.
14 . . . conveniently arranged easy payments.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Saturday evening 8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time, over the N.B.C. network of 42 stations.

EMPLOYES BLAMED IN BIG RUM THEFT

Government Officials Claim Prohibition Agents Are Not Involved.

INVESTORS FACING LOSS

Chicago, July 5 (A.P.).—Looting of the Sibley Warehouse of $2,000,000 of prewar whisky may be traced to warehouse employes in conspiracy with bootleggers, Government officials said today.

The officials, who asked that their names be withheld, declared Prohibition Administrator E. C. Yellowley's inquiry had failed to involve prohibition agents, inspectors or other Government employes.

The inquiry, under way since last fall, has shown that 482 barrels and 1,955 cases of whisky were tampered with and replaced with colored water.

Government officials moved to libel the tampered barrels after they discovered that the original contents of the barrels had been withdrawn. This will prevent any diluted whisky being sold for medicinal purposes. The liquor is to be destroyed as soon as the court grants the libel action.

Persons whose names appear as certificate holders of liquor in the warehouse will stand a loss if the liquor is destroyed, Walter E. Wiles, assistant United States district attorney, said. The certificates are negotiable documents and are known to change hands frequently.

Certificate holders of liquor at the warehouse include John H. Mewme, 212 First National Bank Building, Covington, Ky., approximately 200 barrels; Francis Hughes, Traverse City, Mich., 11 barrels; Ohio Brokerage Co., 71 Blymer Building, Cincinnati, 4 barrels and 28 cases; L. F. Westenfelder, Hammond, Ind., 15 barrels.

A grand jury investigation of the affair has been ordered by the Commissioner of Prohibition at Washnigton, D. C.

Cause of 3 Deaths Remains Mystery

Guinea Pigs Thrive on Milk Suspected of Poison, Doctor Declares.

Trenton, N. J., July 5 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—The malady which caused the deaths of 3 children and the illness of 20 other people, who recovered, remains unidentified, even after a pathological examination of the children's bodies Dr. Alton S. Fell, health officer of Trenton, announced today.

"Although the examination has not been officially completed," Dr. Fell said, "it has progressed far enough so that I feel safe in saying that it has revealed nothing that would explain the deaths. Samples of the milk used by the dead children have been fed to rabbits and guinea pigs and they are thriving on it.

"There is still the coincidence that all of the dead and all of those who were ill used the milk from the same dairy. But we haven't been able to find a scrap of medical evidence that the milk caused the illness. As nearly as I can estimate, the matter will be closed as a medical mystery."

He denied the rumor that another death from symptoms similar to those displayed by the first three victims had occurred.

Lord Cecil's Niece Gets Prison Term for Arson

Malone, N. Y., July 5 (A.P.).—Mrs. Mary Fitzhugh Thomas Cecil, said by police to be a niece by marriage of Lord Cecil, Viscount Chelwood of England, today was sentenced to not less than one and one-half and not more than three years in Auburn prison for arson.

The arson charge was placed against her after a summer camp in the Adirondacks was destroyed by fire. The camp was owned by Sidney Colgate, of Orange, N. J., and was rented from him by Mrs. Cecil. Witnesses testified that at the time the fire was discovered Mrs. Cecil was fully dressed and had her bags packed. Her chauffeur testified that she refused to allow him to enter the cabin to extinguish the fire but asked him to bring out her grips.

Yeggmen Hammer Open Bank Vault; Get $2,000

Spartanburg, S. C., July 5 (A.P.).—Spartanburg County officers were seeking clues today to the identity of yeggmen who hammered open a vault at the Farmers Bank of Gramling Wednesday night and escaped with cash and paper valued at more than $2,000.

Ben M. Gramling, a bank official, discovered the robbery, he said, when he entered the building early yesterday to get keys to a warehouse. Locks of the vault and safe were broken without the use of explosives.

PROFIT TAKING CUTS MANY EARLY GAINS

Score of Stocks Record New Highs, Despite Cautious Trading Near Close.

CALL FUNDS 7 PER CENT

New York, July 5 (A.P.).—The stock market encountered heavy profit-taking today, but bullish operations were continued in several sections of the list, and more than a score of issues were again sent into new high territory.

The pace of trading fell off somewhat from that of the preceding sessions this week, as many traders extended the Independence Day holiday to include the week-end. The day's transactions fell below 4,000,000 shares for the first full session since last Friday. The Associated Press price indicators of 50 leading industrials and 20 rails, however, were again raised to new record levels.

Profit-taking was particularly heavy in the closing transactions, and many earlier gains were sharply reduced. Traders were inclined to caution, realizing that four times this year price indices have been carried to new high ground, only to fall back sharply. It was also felt that the technical position of the market had been weakened by the persistent advances of recent sessions.

Call Funds Hold at 7 Per Cent.

Call money held at 7 per cent all day, compared to renewals of 12 per cent and a closing rate of 6 on Wednesday. Sentiment regarding credit has turned rather more cheerful than for several months past. While it is indicated that the return of the July 1 checks for payment may hold money firm for a few days next week, more stable conditions are expected for the rest of the summer.

The Federal Reserve weekly brokerage loan compilation, released after the close of the market, showed one of the largest gains since this compilation has been kept, amounting to $227,000,000, which carried the total to $5,769,000,000, or within $24,000,000 of the record total reached on March 20.

This showing was not surprising in view of the rise of more than $400,000,000 to an unprecedented total $7,400,000,000 in stock exchange member loans during June. Traders generally are not inclined, for the present, to view rising loans with the alarm of the past, as the Federal Reserve is not expected to take further action to tighten credit with the crop moving season in the offing.

Day's News Favorable.

The day's news was generally favorable, including several pleasing sales reports for June, the taking of $5,000,000 in gold in London, and further advances in grain prices. The weekly business and trade reviews reported that the seasonal summer recession was still extraordinarily moderate.

A feature of the day's trading was the achieving of the 200 mark by U. S. Steel, marking the first time that this stock, traditionally known as the bell weather of the list, has become eligible for the "double century club." The stock closed 197¾, however, up but about a point. It was at first reported that it had gone over 200 in London yesterday, during the holiday here, but calculated on present Sterling exchange the London price was only about 198½.

Auburn Auto was again highly mercurial, shooting up 24½ points to 388½, falling back to 370, and closing at 380. DuPont and National Biscuit rose 17 and 15 points to new peaks, and Allied Chemical, Coca Cola, Fleishmann, Union Pacific and Sun Oil reached new peaks in substantial gains.

General Electric jumped nearly 5 points to a new top at 360, but closed at 354. Westinghouse Electric also reached record territory, only to react.

Motors Better Supported.

Motors were supported more strongly than for several weeks, Chrysler selling up more than 4 points and Nash making a similar gain. Western Union made an extreme gain of about 9 points in response to rumors of favorable dividend developments, and Simmons jumped 6 points to equal its previous high on reports of heavily increased half year sales and expansion plans.

Adams Express had one of its wide movements, dropping 19 points, and Otis Elevator, which had advanced rapidly of late, lost more than 9. Allis Chalmers fell 7, Radio, reaching a new high for the movement at 92¼, fell back to 88½, off 1½ points. Utilities were again under pressure. Commonwealth Power dropping 7 points, Dunhill International sagged more than 5 points to a new low for the year.

In the commodities, wheat mounted about 3 cents a bushel on reports of severe crop damage in Canada and bullish crop reports from Argentine. Corn sold 2 to 3 cents higher on bullish weather reports. Cotton, however, sagged a little in selling attributed to larger private acreage figures.

Foreign exchanges were steady, sterling cables holding at 84.85⅞, and the Canadian dollar rallying to 99¼ cents. The Japanese yen mounted 1-5 of a cent to 44.60 cents on statement of the new finance minister. Innouye, indicating that the gold embargo will be lifted within a year.

HIGH-GRADE CARRIER BONDS WIN SUPPORT

FOREIGN LIST IRREGULAR

New York, July 5 (A.P.).—The bond market gave liberal support today to the first grade rails and the average price of ten representative carriers' obligations in this group made the best advance in several weeks. Other sections of the list, however, were mixed, secondary rails and utilities showing a nominal decline while the industrials rose moderately. Time money, at 7½ per cent for all maturities, was slightly firmer.

Trading in several stock feature rails proceeded at a brisk pace throughout the session, particularly in the Southern Pacific 4½s, with warrants, which made a net gain of 1⅛ on the day. The issue, touching a high of 96, closed at 95⅞, also a peak. Missouri Pacific 5s equalled their peak of 117½, but Atchison 4½s, on a sharply diminished turnover, yielded a large fraction. The two 5 per cent convertibles debentures of the Allegheny Corporation, holding company for Van Sweringen railroad stocks, traded in large volume, but quotations at the close showed unimportant variations.

The best supported standard rails included many of the pivotal obligations. Gains ranged from a small fraction to about 1½ points in Atchison General 4s and Transcontinental Short Line 4s, Baltimore & Ohio refunding 5s, New York Central general 3½s, Consolidated 4s and refunding 5s, Northern Pacific prior lien 4s and St. Louis & San Francisco 4½s. Advances of about the same proportions appeared in St. Paul adjustment 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s and Seaboard 5s.

Moderately active demand brought gains of as much as 2 points to Bethlehem Steel 5s and 6s, Crown Cork & Seals 6s, Illinois Steel debenture 4½s, Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron and Wheeling Steel 4½s. North American Cement 5½s jumped 5 points on a small transaction.

Utilities that suffered from selling pressure included Ohio River Edison 6s, Pacific Telephone 5s, Columbia Gas & Electric 5s, New York Telephone general 4½s and Laclede Gas Light 5½s. American Telephone convertible 4½s, opening above Wednesday's close, were unable to hold the gain and for a time were freely sold at lower levels. Resistance developed late in the session, however, and the closing quotation of 146⅝ was above the day's low, although it represented a net loss of 1⅝.

United States Government securities developed some irregularity when only slight support was given the Liberty's and the Treasury issues. British United Kingdom 5½s dropped to within ¼ of the year's low in the generally firm foreign list, while French Republic 7s sold at 109½, a 1929 high, closing ¼ below that figure to equal the year's top.

HELEN WILLS WINS THIRD WIMBLEDON NET CROWN

NEW YORKERS —In Baseball— CITY SLICKED

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, July 5.—The principal trouble with the two New York ball clubs this year has been their general disposition to give a sucker an even break or better. In this sense I do not regard Brooklyn as New York nor the Dodgers as a ball club, but refer to the Yankees and the Giants, who have been frittering away their opportunities in meeting with the popover teams and now have to compete for victories which might have been gifts.

Business conditions, evolution and a benevolent Providence, which seem to provide suckers for the convenience of the leaders in all lines of endeavor, have set up a group of feeble and obvious victims in each of the major leagues. The championships are being decided not so much by head-on meetings between the contenders as by their use of their opportunities when matched with the docile members. It is true that the other contending firms have frittered a bit themselves, but the Yankees and Giants have outfrittered their respective fields thus far.

Nats Listed Among Three Doormats of League.

The set-ups in the American League are the Red Sox, White Sox and Washington, named in the order of their submissiveness, and those in the National League are the Reds, Braves, Phillies and Dodgers, in the same order.

The Yankees have played 38 games with their natural prey and lost 11, whereas the Athletics have lost only 6 out of 41 to the same three troupes of melancholy flops.

The Giants have just divided a series of double headers with the Phillies and Braves and have won 30 games from the clubs appointed as victims while losing 23. The Pirates have won 21 and lost a dozen against the same teams, and the Cubs, much more alert to trim a sucker, have lost only 8 of 29 such meetings.

However, three of the four sucker troupes are based in the East and the Pirates and Cubs have not yet had the same opportunity that the Giants have squandered to nourish their prestige. Arriving in the East today and addressing themselves to these inviting chances in a fortnight's stand, beginning Saturday, they should be able to improve their standings considerably and without undue straining.

West Still Has Many Calls to Make on Sucker Trade.

The Giants have played 47 games of ball against the Braves, Phillies and Dodgers, losing nineteen, whereas the Western leaders still have many more calls to make on the sucker trade around here. The Pirates have played only seventeen games against the soft touches of the Eastern coast, and the Cubs eighteen, of which they lost only four. This means that while the Giants were doing nothing much in competition with teams that should have tipped over like so many Joe McCanns in so many main events against Jack Dempsey, the Pirates and Cubs were playing an equal number of games head-on, and fighting with the Cardinals, who may be regarded as respectable opponents, notwithstanding their current slump.

The Pirates and the Cubs have played to a tie in their sixteen games together, but when I endeavor to show an even balance between the Giants and these two Western firms my own statistics begin to annoy. Mr. McGraw's delegation, wobbly as they have been in their dealings with the tank-men of the national game, have a bit of an edge over the Pirates and Cubs in their dealings to date, winning seven out of thirteen. But shall one statistic disqualify the whole idea?

Macks Used to Lose Pennant Out of Respect for Yanks.

Old Mr. Mack's Athletics have won seven out of the twelve games they have played with the Yankees and that margin may seem larger than it seems to seem. There had been a theory in the baseball business that the A's would lose the pennant again this year, out of awe and respect for the Yankees. They did so last season and came to the end of the schedule in second place like a timid beginner in a large car who is afraid to pass an elderly truck. The Yankees were so forlorn on their last Western trip of the 1928 season that they simply relied on the A's to lose the pennant, which the A's respectfully did.

But with Ty Cobb off the ball club this year Mr. Mack's young men have felt a lift in their morale and they won the current series with the Yankees with a good deal of audacity and nerve. The contrast showed there. They lost the corresponding series in 1928 and one of their boys even jabbed his glove in his pants pocket and walked off in the midst of a ball game, so meek were

Doherty Holds Decathlon Honors

Paddock on Record-Breaking Coast Relay Sprint Team.

By FRANK H. FRAWLEY.

DENVER UNIVERSITY STADIUM, July 5 (A.P.).—The forty-first running of the national A. A. U. track and field games came to a close today, with the Los Angeles Athletic Club taking home the relay championships and Kenneth Doherty, of the Cadillac Athletic Club, of Detroit, Mich., retaining the decathlon championship with 7,784.68 points, a new American record.

The Los Angeles Club's 440-yard team of Milton Maurer, Charley Paddock, Maurice Guyer and Frank Wykoff, created a new world's record for that event on a track with two turns, the time being 41 9-10 seconds. The old record was 42 4-10 seconds.

A new A. A. U. meet record of one minute 26 4-10 seconds for the half-mile relay was set by the Los Angeles Team, the personnel of which was the same as that in the 440. The old record of 1 minute 27 4-10 seconds, held by the New York Athletic Club, had stood since 1921.

New York A. C. Sets New Relay Mark.

The New York A. C.'s 1-mile quartet clipped 6-10 second from the former A. A. U. mark of 3 minutes 17 6-10 seconds, made in 1926 by the Illinois A. C. In the winning team were Jackson Scholz, Johnny Kerr, Howard Jones and Frank Cuhel.

Doherty's decathlon point total was the highest ever made in this country. The highest total previously scored was 7,574.42, made in 1927 at Lincoln, Nebr., by Fait Elkins, of the University of Nebraska.

Doherty had trailed Wilson Charles, Haskell Indian, for the first half of the decathlon, but Charles, suffering with an ankle injury received in the high jump, could not maintain the gruelling pace in the afternoon and dropped to third position in the final standing.

V Kennedy, Warrensburg (Mo.) Teachers College, was second, with 7,362.003 points, and Charles had 7,240.035. Other contenders finished in this order:

Wert Engleman, South Dakota State College, 7,158.568; James Grant, Haskell Institute, 6,959.545; Harry Frieda, Illinois Athletic Club, 6,886.060; A. D. Breneman, Southern Pacific Club, Fort Collins, Colo., 6,685.085; Leo D. Dodd, Haskell, 6,363.26; Dan Beattie, Denver Athletic Club, 6,226.750, and John Anderson, Olympic Athletic Club, 4,636.465.

Doherty's Performances In Various Tests.

Here is Doherty's record-breaking performance that make him the all-around champion athlete of the year.

100 meters run, 11.1 seconds; broad jump, 6.65 meters; shotput, 11.87 meters; high jump, 1.81 meters; 400 meters run, 54 seconds; 110 meters high hurdles, 16.1 seconds; discus throw, 38.23 meters; pole vault, 3.53 meters; javelin throw, 58.42 meters, and the 1,500 meters run, 5 minutes 48 seconds.

Herman Brix, of the Los Angeles Club, set a new world's record in the 8-pound shot, throwing the ball 67 feet 11 inches in the medley event of 8, 12 and 16 pound shots. Ralph Rose made the old mark in 1907.

Los Angeles scored 16 points in the relays. The Denver and New York Clubs tied for second place with 8 points, the Illinois Athletic Club had 7 points and the Boston and Newark Clubs 5 each.

The Boston Club won the 2-mile relay title in 1 minute 54 seconds, E. B. Blake, Arnold Noyes, S. H. Martin and Leo Lermond being the runners.

The Illinois Club won the 4-mile title in 18 minutes 37 seconds, with Harry Grubb, Dave Abbott, Ray Conger and Harold White doing the running.

Claude Bracey led a picked field of sprinters across the line in a special 80-yard dash, but in doing the distance in 8.1 seconds failed by the fraction to equal the world's record.

Martha Norelius, Suspended, to Enter Wrigley Race.

NEW YORK, July 5 (A.P.).—Martha Norelius, New York woman swimmer who holds most of the world records from 100 yards to 500 yards, announced here today that she had turned professional and would compete in the Wrigley marathon for women at Toronto, August 23.

Miss Norelius' decision, she said, was influenced by the recent suspension meted out to her by the Amateur Athletic Union, which set her down indefinitely along with Helen Meany, champion diver, for unauthorized exhibitions with professionals in Florida. Miss Norelius won championships in the Olympic games of 1924 and 1928. Miss Meany won the diving title in 1928.

Miss Norelius is the third amateur swimming champion to turn professional within the past year, following the steps of Johnny Weissmuller, greatest of American male swimmers, and Ethel Lackie, Olympic 100 meters champion.

Feared Loss of Speed During Suspension.

Miss Norelius was suspended indefinitely on the same grounds by the A. A. U. sometime before the national indoor championships at Chicago in February this year but was reinstated in time to enter and set up several more new world records.

Although Miss Norelius has sought reinstatement by the A. A. U., she told the Associated Press today, their failure to consider her case in time for entry in the outdoor championships at Honolulu in August of this year influenced her to turn professional.

"If reinstated I could not have competed again until the indoor championships next February," she said. "The action of the A. A. U. in forcing me from the game for almost a year was unfair. No swimmer could be expected to stay out of competition that long and retain her speed and ability."

Cliff Woodbury Retires From Automobile Racing

Altoona, Pa., July 5 (U.P.).—Cliff Woodbury, noted racing driver, announced his retirement from the racing game today.

Woodbury made the announcement as he was discharged from Mercy Hospital, where he had been recovering from severe injuries received at the Altoona speedway in the same crash that killed Ray Keech, holder of the American Automobile speed record.

Although "through" as a driver, Woodbury will stay in the motor car field, he said, doing promotion work.

Columbia Lightweights Bow to British Crew

Henley, England, July 5 (A.P.).—One American team, the Columbia University lightweights, went down to defeat in the Royal Henly Regatta today, but the Browne Nichols School, from Boston, was more successful.

Columbia lost to the Trinity College Eight from Cambridge by the crushing margin of four lengths. The Boston crew won from Sidney Sussex College with ease.

The Browne Nichols boys will meet the conquerors of Columbia in the semifinals tomorrow. Apparently they will have to pick up a few seconds time somewhere if they are to be victorious, as Trinity won from Columbia in 8m. 28s. for the mile and five-sixteenths, which is 5 seconds faster than the schoolboys registered. Browne Nichols was not extended, however, and may be able to achieve the feat.

Columbia's scrappy lightweights, victorious in all their previous starts in England, were beaten in a gruelling race that was rowed in the face of a stiff gale over the whole course. The wind, blowing dead against the crews, proved a bigger handicap to the Americans, who average only 150 pounds per man, than to their heavier rivals, and Trinity led almost from the start.

Nats in West With Outlook Dreary

Open Invasion Today at Detroit After 5 Losses in 3 Days.

Are 16 Games Below .500 Pace; Pitching Is Weakness.

Special to The Washington Post.

DETROIT, July 5.—The Nats are in the West again with pennant prospects punctured and their ambition reduced to the hope of gaining only a respectable place in the league standing. Tomomrrow they encounter the Tigers in the first of a four-game series, then moving on to Cleveland, thence to Chicago and St. Louis.

Their final whirl in the East, in which they succeeded in losing five games to the Athletics and the Yankees in the space of three days, has not served to bolster the hopes of the Nats as far as a first division berth is concerned, and their loftiest goal appears to be the attainment of a .500 percentage in the league standings. To date they have lost sixteen more games than they have won and are presented with a task that shapes up as Herculean if they are to gain an even keel.

Three Clubs in West Playing Better Ball Than Nats.

The West offers little more chance of consolation for Johnson's men than did the East, where they were soundly spanked by both the Red Sox and the Athletics. The Tigers, Browns and Indians have been playing at a vastly better speed than the Nats, with the White Sox offering the only stepping stone to greater deeds.

The outlook for the Nats is indeed dark with the most recent collapse of Walter Johnson's pitching staff. Fred Marberry, elieved the only consistent winner, was heavily thumped by the Yankees on Thursday and Ad Liska has failed to justify his only promise. Braxton has not yet rounded to form and Brown and Burke are unreliable. The apparent return to form of Sad Sam Jones is the only bright note of the pitching department. Hadley's work has been pitiful and Myles Thomas has yet to show he is a winner.

Goslin Likely to Reappear In Line-Up Today.

Johnson has threatened to shake up the team, but is cofired little opportunity for anything drastic, with the exception of the pitching sta ffin which he is helpless to remedy unless he decides to stage a comeback of his own. Goslin was cnched for weak hitting, but he is liable to be back in the line-up tomorrow. There is a feeling that the Nats can't aoffrd to keep Goslin on the bench if he is sound of limb and wind and he is both, although his batting has een dismal. He could fall off 50 points in his regular average and then outhit Barnes and West, he has proven.

Bucky Harris' Tigers threaten to make capital of the Nats' pitching weakness. The Detroit Club is hammering the ball for an average of better than .300, ranking second to the Macks in that respect.

Nats Erase 6-Run Lead To Defeat Dodgers, 8-6

Special to The Washington Post.

Olean, N. Y., July 5.—The Washington Club overcame a six-run lead piled up by the Brooklyn Robins in an exhibition game here today and took an 8-6 decision. The detonation of the Dodgers' bats in the first frame threatened to drive the Nats from the park, the National Leaguers scoring all their runs then on the strength of three singles combined with three home runs by Frederick, Herman and Henline.

Howley to Quit Browns, Says St. Louis Paper

St. Louis, July 5 (A.P.).—The Globe Democrat says today that Dan Howley, manager of the St. Louis Browns, in third place in the American League pennant chase, will not be back next year. The paper says a squabble between Howley and L. C. McEvoy, vice president of the club, is responsible.

According to Howley, the newspaper says, McEvoy has been giving orders as to what players should be used, and Howley claims Phil Ball, president of the club, is the only one to give orders, and that it was so understood when he signed a three-year contract which began with the 1927 season.

Ball is said by the paper to take the blame, and that McEvoy, in ordering player shifts, was merely acting for him.

Women Must Pay Way To Pacific Coast Games

Syracuse, N. Y., July 5 (A.P.).—John H. Farrell, of Auburn, announced tonight that the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, of which he is secretary, had upheld President Harry Williams, President of the Pacific Coast League, in his decision that women be required to pay regular admission at all parks in the league.

The Pacific Coast League turned the case over to the national board after Owner Wrigley of the Los Angeles Club had declared he would refuse to abide by the league rule and would continue to admit women free to all games.

Zahniser to Toronto For Outfielder Ruble

Toledo, July 5 (A.P.).—Paul Zahniser, pitcher, has been traded to the Toronto Club of the International League for Arthur Ruble, outfielder, Manager Casey Stengel, of the Toledo American Club, announced today.

Wilson Victim of Attack, Not Kolp, Says Manager

CINCINNATI, July 5 (A.P.).—Jack Hendricks, manager of the Reds, returned here today, instead of going to Pittsburgh with his team, and told C. J. McDiarmid, club president, that "Hack" Wilson, Cub outfielder, did not hit Ray Kolp, Red pitcher, in Cincinnati's dugout at Chicago yesterday. Wilson, and not Kolp, Hendricks said, was the player pounded by fists.

Hendricks declared that when Wilson rushed to the Red bench to obtain satisfaction for some cutting remarks made by Kolp many Red players were waiting for him. As Wilson plunged into the dugout, the Cincinnati manager said, some of his players "took healthy swings on Wilson's jaw" and that Kolp was not touched. The tusle ended when other Cub players pulled Wilson from the dugout.

Ill Feeling Started With Spiking of Critz.

The squabble Wilson had with Pete Donohue at the Chicago station was not witnessed by Hendricks, who said he would receive a report on that when he joins his club at Pittsburgh tomorrow.

"The ill feeling between the two clubs started over the spiking of Hugh Critz by Riggs Stephenson last Tuesday," Hendricks reported. The Red manager previously wired McDiarmid from Chicago that Stephenson deliberately jumped into the Red captain to prevent him from pivoting a double play.

Critz will be out of the game for three weeks due to Stephenson's spikes.

Wilson Justified in Attack, Says President of Cubs.

Chicago, July 5 (A.P.).—Hack Wilson, Cub outfielder, was justified in attacking Ray Kolp of the Cincinnati Reds during yesterday afternoon's baseball game and the Cubs will back him to the limit, President William L. Veeck said tonight.

"We caution our players against unmanly tactics on the playing field, but in Wilson's case, it was an exception," Veeck said. "Kolp called him vile names and Hack just couldn't stand them. He jumped off the field and went into the Cincinnati dugout to stop it. Any man would have done the same thing.

"Wilson, like the rest of the baseball players, takes plenty of insults, but there is a limit to what any human being must or can endure. We are back of him and intend to fight his case to the limit, if necessary. He is a gentleman and a conscientious baseball player and has enough red blood in him to resent vile insults such as Kolp hurled at him yesterday."

CARDS DEALT 10TH DEFEAT IN ROW

Klein Wins 10-9 Game for Phils With Home Run in Ninth.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5 (A.P.).—Jess Haines tried to slip a fast ball past Chuck Klein, first Philadelphia batter, in the ninth inning. But Klein sent the sphere over the right-field barrier for his twentieth home run of the season, and the Phillies nosed out the Cardinals by 10 to 9. It was the tenth straight defeat for the league champions, and left them only three games ahead of the fifth place Brooklyn Team.

The game was a free hitting affair, punctuated frequently by homers Chick Hafey, of the Cardinals, got his twentieth, while Bottomley got his sixteenth and Whitney, of the Phils, his sixth. Haines went the route for the Cards, but the Philadelphia pitching was divided among "Sad" Dailey. Des Moines recruit, Phil Collins and the veteran Bob McGraw, with McGraw winning.

Kessler Named Coach Of Landon School Teams

Gordon A. Kessler, prominent Washington athlete, has been appointed athletic director of the Landon School, a newly established preparatory school at 2131 Massachusetts avenue, northwest. P. L. Banfield, headmaster, has announced. Kessler, former Tech High School star athlete and recent graduate of Maryland University, will take over his new duties at the beginning of the fall term.

Kessler is widely known in sports hereabout, having gained wide fame while at Maryland University, where he played baseball and football. He played three years of varsity baseball and captained the team this year. In football Kessler played quarter back.

Landon contemplates teams in many sports. According to Banfield, the Massachusetts avenue institution will engage in lacrosse, fencing, boxing and wrestling, in addition to the three major sports—football, basket ball and baseball. Kessler also will teach mathematics and chemistry while at Landon.

Chisox Make 20 Hits; Lose to Indians, 11-10

Cleveland, July 5 (A.P.).—A five-run rally in the seventh, the largest factor in which was Bib Falk's home run, gave the Indians an 11-to-10 victory over the White Sox in the final game of the series today and a 4-to-2 edge for the set.

Though the White Sox knocked Jimmy Zimm and Willis Hudlin for twenty hits, they failed to bunch them as effectively as did the Indians, who made only twelve.

Athletics Are Erecting World Series Seats

Philadelphia, July 5 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—John H. Shibe, vice president of the Athletics, evidently in preparation for this year's world series, has contracted for the construction of 700 additional box seats at Shibe Park. They will be a sort of mezzanine section midway between the main lower stand and upper tier, and will extend toward first and third base. The boxes are to be ready in September. At present there are only 2,500 box seats at the park out of a seating capacity of 35,000.

Helen Jacobs Bows Before 15,000

Wills-Hunter Reach Finals in Mixed Doubles Play.

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5 (A.P.).—Conquering Miss Helen Jacobs by scores of 6—1, 6—2, in Wimbledon's first all-American final in women's singles, Miss Helen Wills won her third straight British championship on the famous Center Course today.

These two American girls who live in the same California city, traveled more than 5,000 miles to enter the Wimbledon tournament, played their way through opposite halves of the draw without losing a set and met in a title match which was no more exciting or doubtful than if it had been played on a club court in Berkeley instead of on the most famous patch of tennis turf in the world, with 15,000 persons looking on.

It was Miss Wills' match all the way after the opening game, which Miss Jacobs took on her strong service. The challenger never had the lead again nor did she ever appear to threaten, but against the genius of Miss Wills' racquet, her strong right arm and unequaled court strategy the sturdy Miss Jacobs fought a good fight.

Miss Jacobs Fought A Gallant Battle.

The bare score fails to reveal the prolonged rallies that featured the match. For an hour the shorter and [illegible] Helen staved off defeat and during five of the seven games of the first set, she gave the champion a battle.

Winning the first game Miss Jacobs dropped the next two quickly, but the next four were long advantage affairs. Back and forth across the net the girls hammered the ball. Miss Wills, with the precision of artillery fire, pounding first one and then the other far corner of Miss Jacobs' court. Her courageous opponent raced after the ball and made beautiful returns, but the physical demand was too great and after a dozen perfect forehand and backhand drives she would fall into error and hit the ball down into the net, hit it beyond the baseline or pop it into the air where Miss Wills, always alert, was ready to smash it for a sure point winner.

Although defeat was inevitable, Miss Jacobs never gave up. With set point against her, she fought off the decisive stroke half a dozen times in the opening session and she also carried the final game of the match to deuce twice.

Miss Wills Captured Title Without Loss of Set.

Miss Wills again captured the Wimbledon title without losing a set. Incidentally, she dropped only sixteen games in six matches, so that the three games Miss Jacobs was able to get made a showing a little better than the average. As in other years the great American player clearly demonstrated her world supremacy in a representative international field, for she defeated English, German, Belgian, South African and American girls to retain her title.

Miss Jacobs had almost as good a record as Miss Wills until the final. Up to that point she played six matches to Miss Wills' five and lost 12 games, no sets. Although apparently improved over last year, Miss Jacobs seems no nearer the throne of queen. In the final for the 1928 American championship she lost the same number of games, Miss Wills winning at 6—2, 6—1.

Wills and Hunter Enter Mixed Doubles Finals.

Not content with her one-sided success in singles, Miss Wills took the court later with Frank Hunter and reached the final in mixed doubles by a victory at 6—8, 6—2, 6—3, over Miss "Bobbie" Heine and N. G. Parquharson, a South African combination. In one of the championship battles scheduled for tomorrow Miss Wills and Hunter will oppose a powerful English team comprising Miss Joan Fry and J. C. Collins.

The all-French singles final between Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra is down for settlement tomorrow, while the Anglo-American battle for the doubles championship between Gregory and J. G Collins and Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn promises to be a big feature match of the program with interest running high among British fans. The women's doubles final brings together two British teams—Mrs. Phoebe Watson and Mrs. Peggy Saunders Mitchell, the present champions, and Mrs. Phyllis Covell and Mrs. Dorothy Shepherd-Barron. With these four matches, on each of which a championship depends, the tournament will come to an end.

District Women Defeat Frederick Golf Team

The women golfers of Frederick, Md., who came to Washington yesterday to play in a team match on the Columbia Club course against their golfing sisters of this city, returned home last night a defeated aggregation, despite the fact that they were given full handicap allowance, which, in one case, at least, amounted to 34 strokes. The Washington Team, in which no player had a handicap over 8, was victorious with 22½ points, as against 10½ points scored by the visitors.

FAVORITES AGAIN ADVANCE IN DISTRICT TENNIS PLAY

Maj. Van Vliet Gains Third Round

Army Star Will Meet Phillips Today in First Test.

Mitchell, Newby, Rathgeber Win; Doubles Start Tomorrow.

MAJ. ROBERT C. VAN VLIET, defending singles champion, faces his first test in the District tennis tournament today when he meets Larry Phillips, George Washington University star, in a third-round match on the Edgemoor Club courts. Van Vliet and Phillips passed the second round rather easily yesterday, the former beating Frank Taylor, 6—2, 6—0, and the latter eliminating John F. Simmons, 6—4, 6—0.

The Van Vliet-Phillips tussle, scheduled for 3 p. m., is expected to provide the feature of today's play, with the third-round match between Maj. Thomas D. Finley and Cadet John Helms, West Point tennis captain, offering support. Helms disposed of Alan M. Staubley, of George Washington, in a second-round encounter yesterday by 6—3, 6—1.

Rain shortened yesterday's schedule and caused a setback which likely will delay the conclusion of the tournament until next Saturday. Seven second-round matches listed yesterday were postponed until today.

Army and Navy Players Fare Well in Matches.

Army and Navy players enjoyed a better day on the whole than on Thursday. Maj. J. Huntington Hills and Lieut. S. K. Robinson, of the Army Leech Cup Team, and Ensigns C. R. Fenton and Bill Howard, Navy Leech Cup players, were all successful in addition to Van Vliet and Helms.

Howard, who starred at the nets for Central High six or seven years ago, registered somewhat of an upset when he defeated Fred Doyle, Columbia Country Club leader, by the overwhelming count of 6—0, 6—1. Maj. Hills eliminated the youthful Barney Welsh, of Western High, 6—1, 5—7, 6—3, although the schoolboy made the service veteran show everything he had in the way of good tennis.

Newby, Rathgeber and Parsons Advance.

Bob Newby, former Central and George Washington player; Mortimer D. Rathgeber, prominent public parks figure, and Frank Parsons also advanced to the third round.

Dooley Mitchell, seeded No. 5, strengthened his bid for the crown now worn by Van Vliet by trouncing Robert H. James, of the Navy Leech Cup Team, in the third round, 6—1, 6—2. Mitchell was in fine form, being accurate at the base line and driving steadily.

Play in the doubles will open tomorrow at 10 a. m. instead of today, tournament officials announced. The number of teams desiring to enter was so large that the deadline for entries was extended to 6 o'clock today in order that all could come under the wire. More than 40 teams had signed up last night, it is officials said.

Following are yesterday's results and today's schedule:

SECOND ROUND—Frank Parsons defeated Richard Willis, 2—6, 6—3, 6—2; John Helms defeated Alan M. Staubley, 6—3, 6—1; Maj. R. C. Van Vliet defeated Frank Taylor, 6—2, 6—0; Larry Phillips defeated John F. Simmons, 6—4, 6—0; Lieut. S. K. Robinson defeated Allan E. COLLYER'S COMMENT on the SPORT of KINGS

BY BERT P. COLLYER

ATOP O' THE WORLD!

That's where the followers are sitting, made possible by the grist of long shots supplied of late. Specifically, how did you all like Miss Rosedale on which I tipped you off being shipped from Fairmount Park for a killing. Yea, bo, and delivered at telephone figures.

For today I am going to hand you CHARLEY BERGIN out at Arlington Park and which showed a private trial of 0:46 and 5 furlongs in 0:59. Fellows, that's flying. CHAS. goes in the third spasm and I don't believe the issue will be even close. CAYUGA and GREENOCK are sure to be right bang up. The latter possibly the best claim of the season showed a corking effort last time; even better than cold dope would indicate.

JEAN VALJEAN, from the Keene stable, is taken to trim the Three D's entry, DOUBLE HEART and VOLTEAR. The latter's race in the Ohio Derby was excellent.

For the first past the post club, I am stringing with MA YERKES. I think her early speed will choke this field. On the other hand, it's a tough race, not less than seven figuring so close together that only racing luck will separate them.

Down at aLtonia they tell me Romeo Respess is going to cut another melon with SHANNON ROSE. Now all of you Hibernians better gather the two simoleons and plaster it on her beezer. Has worked extra well. WILD OLIVE is the logical favorite and probable contender.

For the Latonia Oaks, ROSE OF SHARON, the best filly in the country, is a stand out. BEN MACHREE as easily holds the others safe.

SMOLDERING in the sixth has a five point call.

And here comes the devil, DOUGHERTY, over at Windsor. From the information at hand Ryan is to have the leg up and every post will be a winning one. Now I can not, or rather I am in duty bound not to tell all that I know, suffice to say today is the day.

For the closing dash, the overnight commission horse was MIDHOUR, a winner over at the other track. This hide is right at the top of his very best form. More anon.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—BOYS PREFERRED, $3.98, $2.66, $2.16; FLASHING GEM, $40.40, $15.60; PETER DIXON, $5.06.

BOYS PREFERRED was hustled into a good early lead, increased her advantage on the turn and, continuing well, was never in danger. FLASHING GEM moved up fast after reaching far turn, saved ground all through stretch and lasted to outstay PETER DIXON, a stout mudder, who, forcing an early pace, came again at the end and was always strongly. TICMER went well. LOW SHOES refused to break and was practically left. JIMMALEE stopped after three-eighths.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For maiden 2-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 2:33. Off at 2:35. Winner, D. E. Stewart's ch. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—ULVERSTON, $73.28, $22.10, $7.88; GIBBY'S CHOICE, $6.06, $3.32; ROYAL BEAUTY, $2.96.

ULVERSTON, fast to begin and racing under restraint to the turn, began drawing far out when shaken up and won as rider pleased. GIBBY'S CHOICE, forward for entire trip and saving all possible ground, easily held others safe. ROYAL BEAUTY was forced wide on the stretch turn and closed gamely when straightened out to outfinish MISS ELIZABETH, never far back and responding well through stretch. closed gamely to outstay RED KNOBS had no mishaps. LUCKY DREAM dropped back soon after start and was never a factor.

THIRD RACE—One and one-eighth miles. (Substitute for original third declared off.) Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 2-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:01. * Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—MOUNT LOGAN, $13.50, $10.40, $6.98; BLACK THUNDER, $5.12, $4.10; BILLIE BASIL, $4.80.

MOUNT LOGAN, hard hustled from start and lucky to get through on inside rounding far turn to take the lead and opening up a good gap midway of the stretch, won with something in reserve. BLACK THUNDER, far back to the stretch turn, came with a belated rush through stretch and, although closing stoutly, could not menace winner. BILLIE BASIL also closed strongly from a slow beginning. FLAGELLATE, used up racing to the turn, was weakly handled thereafter and faltered badly in final eighth. TOMMY began tiring after reaching main stretch.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 2-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:35. Off at 3:36. Winner, L. Young's b. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MUTUAL FRIEND, $13.70, $6.14, $5.04; WINGO, $3.66, $2.86; SOUTHLAND PAL $6.02.

MUTUAL FRIEND, hard hustled and showing a distinct liking for the footing, assumed the lead immediately after the start and, saving all possible ground, was never seriously threatened. WINGO, always in nearest pursuit of the winner, made a game bid midway in the stretch, but was overmatched. SOUTHLAND PAL, outpaced first half mile, closed with a rush last eighth and was going strongly at the end. BOBBY DUNCAN tired. LA GOLONDRINA could never reach a contending position.

FIFTH RACE—One mile. Purse, $1,400. The Walnut Hills. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start fair. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:58. Off at 4:03. Winner, J. W. Parrish's blk. g. Two-dollar mutuels paid—DOCTOR PARRISH, $6.46, $3.68, $2.98; UPTIME, $3.58, $3.04; VIRADO, $3.96.

DOCTOR PARRISH, fast to begin and rated in front, shook off repeated challenges from UPTIME after drawing clear on the turn, was never in danger thereafter, UPTIME, fractious at the gate, broke sidewise, but recovering quickly, raced courageously for entire trip, but was overmatched. VIRADO lost ground most of the trip and closed well through the stretch. HEDEMORA began tiring after five-eighths. GEORGE M'CRANN, pinched back soon after start, never reach a contending position. LANCER sulked.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:27. Off at 4:28. Winner, H. J. Kelly's br. c. Two-dollar mutuels paid—LITTLE COLONEL, $6.94, $4.96, $4.46; ZURICH, $5.04, $3.92; FUSS AND FEATHERS, $6.78.

LITTLE COLONEL, favored in the muddy footing, took command at once, shook off PRINCE BULBO first quarter and, drawing into a good lead on the turn, easily maintained advantage to the end. ZURICH, far back, but saving ground first three-eighths, moved up stoutly when clear and, continuing well, easily held others safe. FUSS AND FEATHERS, never far back, but forced wide into the stretch, closed gamely to outstay PRINCE BULBO. Latter went well until well in the stretch, where he faltered badly when called upon. THE SHOW OFF raced as if he disliked the going.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:56. Off at 4:58. Winner, R. L. Silvers' ch. f. Two-dollar mutuels paid—LADY VIOLA, $9.98, $5.02, $4.86; EAGER PLAY, $3.92, $3.86; BLIND HILLS, $5.44.

LADY VIOLA, forward under steadying restraint, responded well when shaken up and, getting on even terms with EAGER PLAY at head of the stretch, outlasted latter in a long drive. EAGER PLAY, reserved behind the pace until approaching the turn, disposed of WINGING with a rush and, although holding on stubbornly, faltered slightly final strides. BLIND HILLS, outrun first part, came with belated rush on extreme outside through stretch and finished fastest of all. ILLUSTRIOUS, also far back most of the trip, closed gamely through stretch. DELIGHTFUL had no mishaps. WINGING stopped suddenly after reaching far turn.

PUBLIC GAINS USE OF HIGH STADIUM

'Athletic Facilities at Central in Charge of Sullivan.

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL STADIUM now is open for the use of men, women and children seeking physical exercise and the benefits of fresh air and sunshine. Supervision has been placed in the hands of Thomas "Zube" Sullivan, coach of St. John's Prep School, by the Community Center, which operates the stadium and Central swimming pool during the summer vacation period.

In announcing the opening, Sullivan last night pointed out that local athletes now have the opportunity of keeping in good condition at a place centrally located and which offers the convenience of shower baths and lockers.

For the time being, Sullivan said, the stadium will be open from 1 to 7 p. m., but when and if the demand is great enough it will be kept open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Free Coaching for Local Athletes.

Sullivan stated he will be glad to help any one desiring coaching in the various sports. No charge will be made for this service, he added.

The availability of the stadium and its facilities was hailed by Ernest J. Spitzer, District A. A. U. commissioner, as a boon to the development of amateur track and field athletics here. Members of the organization seeking to form a District of Columbia branch of the A. A. U., which fosters track and field more than any other sport, can commence now preparing for competition which eventually will be staged by the local association, Spitzer said.

Sullivan expressed the hope that an informal meet can be held for children and grownups late in the summer after the athletes have had sufficient time in which to get into proper physical condition.

Crabtree Is Suspended For Abusing Umpire

Chicago, July 5 (A.P.).—Estel Crabtree, Columbus centerfielder, today was indefinitely suspended by President Tom Hickey of the American Association for abusing Umpire McGrew during the second game of a doubleheader between the Senators and Toledo yesterday.

CLOVERS ON FIELD AGAIN.

The Clover A. C., one of the topnotchers in unlimited ranks a season or so ago, has reorganized and will play its first game today against the Miller Aztecs, leaders of the Capital City League, on Diamond No. 4 of the Monument Grounds at 3 o'clock.

The Clovers' line-up is comprised of mostly all of its old members, including Quinn, Long, Adkins, H. Smith, W. Smith, Connell, Alden, Dean, Lilly, Wood, McVean, McCullough, Kiefer and Canavin. James Cowhig is manager, and requests the above men to meet at Second and Pennsylvania avenue southeast at 2 o'clock for the game.

GIANTS AND YANKEES LET PREY SLIP AWAY

Connie Mack's A's in the presence of greatness.

The Yanks have broken just even in a dozen games with the Nats, while the A's won 16 out of 18 from Walter Johnson's deserving poor. And the Giants have taken 16 lickings out of 28 decisions with the Dodgers and the Braves.

There may be some excuse for Mr. Huggins of the Yankees. He comes from Cincinnati. But the Giants are led by Mr. New York himself. He knows what to do to suckers.

Lionels	2	2	.500	Corinthians	0	1	.000
Sam Wests.	2	2	.500	Milans	0	4	.000

Four Capital City League Insect Nines will see action today. The Clyde Milan and Eastern All-Star teams will clash at 11 o'clock on No. 3 Monument diamond and the Brookland Boys Club Nine will engage the Corinthians at 1 o'clock on the same diamond. The Gallagher A. C.-Sam West game has been postponed until tomorrow.

The Corinthians, who dropped the first start last week, hope to halt the winning streak of the Brookland Boys Club. The Eastern All-Stars have bagged the decision in their last two starts and hope to mete out another loss to the Milans, who have been defeated in their four starts to date.

A change has been made in the Capital City League schedule for tomorrow. The important Montrose-Roamer senior section fray will be played at 3 o'clock on the No. 4 Monument diamond. The Miller Aztec-Auth engagement will be played on the West Ellipse diamond at 3 o'clock.

Grid and Court Games Scheduled for Emerson

Ten football games and 30 basket ball games will keep Emerson Institute athletes busy this fall and winter, according to Irving Sanborn, coach at the school this year. Neither schedule is complete as yet, but will be by the time the respective seasons roll around.

Eight games are on the football list at present with two pending, while fifteen make up the basket ball collection at this time. The feature of the football year will be a trip to Wenonah, N. J., on November 28 for a game with the Wenonah Military Academy Eleven.

In the collection of fifteen games so far arranged for the basket ball season, the annual trip through Virginia is included. The team will enter the Washington and Lee court tournament at the end of the season.

The scheduled for the two sports, as they now stand, follow:

FOOTBALL.

September 28, Woodberry Forest, Orange, Va.

October 1, Business; 11, open; 18, George Washington University (pending); 25, Episcopal High, at Alexandria.

November 2, Massanutten Military Academy, at Woodstock, Va.; 9, St. John's; 15, Eastern; 22, open; 28, Wenonah Military Academy, at Wenonah, N. J.

BASKET BALL.

Royal Insects want games. Teams interested phone Lincoln 4218.

DELANOS MEET TODAY.

The Delano Post Nine will hold a meeting today at the Peabody School at 9:15 o'clock. All members are requested to report.

HESS NINE BOKED.

Hess Athletic Club meets the Plaza All Stars today on the Plaza at 3:30 o'clock. Tomorrow the Chapel Pint Nine will be met at Chapel Point. Hess players will leave Virginia avenue playgrounds at 11:30 o'clock for the trip.

SOX NINE BUSY.

Washington Red Sox meet the White Oak Nine today at 4 o'clock, while tomorrow the Elkridge A. C. is listed at Elkridge, Md., in a double-header at 2 o'clock. Sox will leave tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

ISHERWOODS NEED GAME.

The Isherwoods nosed out the Mechanics Nine, 8 to 7, in a thriller on the Rosedale Playgrounds. Flannagan's double with the bases loaded decided for the Isherwoods. Due to a cancellation, the Isherwoods are without a game for tomorrow. Any unlimited team interested, phone Lincoln 5233.

Safety Talk Is Scheduled Over Radio

Secretary Davis to Speak on WRC—Dr. Klein Will Be Heard in Business Review—Jazz Classic at 8—French Music at 2:30.

Static rolled in from all points last night. Even so, it was possible to pick up distant stations with considerable volume. One of these was WQAM, at Miami, Fla.

James L. Davis, Secretary of Labor, will be the principal speaker tonight at 6:15 o'clock in the Nation-wide broadcast of the "Universal Safety Series" over WRC and the National Broadcasting Co. chain. His topic will be "Safety and the Worker."

Another Government official, Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, will follow 30 minutes later, at 6:45 o'clock, in his regular business review called "A Week of the World's Business." These talks have become an important event in the average business man's schedule and are widely quoted from by trade and news journals.

The outstanding musical program tonight will doubtless be presented by Nathaniel Shilkret and his orchestra in the General Electric hour at 8 o'clock. Jazz classics of the modern trend by American ultramodern composers will be heard in what promises to be a colorful broadcast of "serious jazz." Among the numbers on the program are "Rhapsody in Blue" by Grofe's "Nocturne;" "Jazz Study," by Hill; "Mardi Gras," by Grofe; "Sidewalks of New York," by Lawlor, and "Metropolitan," by Grofe.

Announcement is made by the Columbia Broadcasting System that the widely known "Mr. and Mrs." of the Clare Briggs cartoon strip, are to step before the microphone in a specially prepared script on the night of September 7, beginning a seventeen-week engagement sponsored by the Graybar Electric Co.

Dorsey Bryon, of the Doc West program, will be heard tonight at 9:30 o'clock in two specialty songs over WMAL. They are "Then My Castles Came Tumbling Down" and "Speaking of the Devil." The Doc West Quartet will contribute special harmonies, consisting of "I'm Satisfied," "I Wanna Meander in the Meadows," "When My Dreams Come True" and "Some Sweet Day."

A program of French music, interpreted by stars from popular NBC evening presentations, will be available over WRC at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Oliver Smith, a tenor of "A Night in Paris;" Erva Giles, soprano, and Merke Johnston, saxophonist, will be among the soloists. Gustave Haenschen will direct the Little Symphony and Salon Orchestra in excerpts from Debussy, Saint-Saens, and other French composers.

Smart Women's Trousers

© VOGUE

During the war it became expedient for women to don trousers, but today it is more than that—it is delightful, for the present interpretation of trousers is imaginatively feminine.

The place for pajamas has, until recently, been in the home. Now, following the custom started at the Lido, smart women are appearing on the beach in them. They are playing varied roles—sometimes quite nautical, sometimes piratical, sometimes modernistic. (It might be well, however, to add here that the wise woman will not appear on public beaches in a costume suggestive of a masquerade.) In the illustration is shown a beach ensemble that is nautical in practice as well as appearance. Its foundation is a white, firmly knit bathing suit with a deep decolletage in back. Over this are worn loose trousers of navy-blue shantung and a trim double-breasted jacket. A brilliant tri-colored tie finishes the neck-line.

For dinner at home, the chic hostess may again wear pajamas. For dining, pajamas must have the grace and dignity of a dinner gown and, although they are strictly informal, must not suggest the beach or the boudoir. Here we show a simple but distinguished model of pale green satin with a separate jacket of darker green panne velvet. Evening slippers should be worn with such a costume.

TODAY'S WOMEN

By EARL HENDERMAN

JULY 6.

KATHERINE TINGLEY, the American theosophist, founcer of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society was born this day, 1852. She was for years an assistant to W. Q. Judge who with Helen Blavatsky was active in establishing theosophy as a philosophy and a religion.

The Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society which Miss Tingley founded, has branches in many cities and countries. For a number of years she edited "The Century Path." Her works include "The Mysteries of the Heart Doctrine," "Nosegay of Everlastings," and "Theosophy and Some of the Vital Problems of the Day."

Catherine Maria Cunshaw, English poet, was born this day, 1765. She was widely admired in her day for her lively wit, sound sense and personal charm.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS.

GROWTH OF VIOLENT DEATHS.

IN the Michigan study of the relative importance of the ten principal diseases at different age periods, the role of violence is found to be of an importance not generally suspected. Automobile accidents rank seventh among the causes of death in age period 1 to 4 years. Thereafter the rank is as follows: 5-9, second; 10-14, third; 15-19, second; 20-24, third; 25-29, fourth; 30-35, fifth; 35-54, seventh; 55-64, ninth; 65-74, tenth. Drowning, age 5-9, seventh; 10-14, sixth; 15-19, fourth; 20-24, sixth. After this age period it drops out of the list of top-notchers.

The importance of homicide and suicide, especially in the early age periods, surprised the writer. At age 10-14, homicide ranked tenth. It was not in the list at age 15-19. At age 20-24 it was seventh; age 25-29, fifth; age 30-34, seventh; age 35-39, tenth. After this age period that risk lessened. Suicide appeared among the important causes with a rank of tenth at age 25-29; disappeared from the group at age 30-34; ranked sixth at age 35-39; eighth at age 40-49, after which it was not again found in the list of ten leading causes.

Health departments and all other agencies engaged in the protection of human lives must give more thought to methods of prevention of automobile accidents, of drowning, and of homicide and suicide.

In this study of the relative importance of the ten different important causes of death at different age periods, typhoid fever is found entered but once. In age group 15-19 years typhoid has a rank of nine. Had a similar study been made, say, 30 years ago, typhoid would have ranked near the head of the list. As typhoid wanes in importance the automobile waxes.

Tuberculosis first enters the list of important causes at age 1 to 4, in which period it ranks fifth. It then rises, being fourth in ages 5-9 second in ages 10-14, first in ages 15-44. After that it declines in importance, being second in age group 40-44, third in 45-49, fifth in group 50-54, sixth in 55-59, seventh in 60-64, ninth in 65-69. After age 70 it becomes of minor importance and is not again found in the list of ten important causes.

It is fairer to group together the several kinds of pneumonias and to add what in 1927 was called influenza to them. This group of lung infections had an age importance that differed markedly from that of tuberculosis. In infancy they ranked second, surpassing the diarrheas. In age 1 to 4 they ranked first. Then came a marked drop. In age group 5-9 they ranked fifth. Other ranks were: Ages 10-14, ninth; 15-19, fifth; 20-24, fourth; 25-39, third; 40-44, fourth; 45-54, sixth; 55-69, fifth; 70-89, sixth.

As compared with tuberculosis, pneumonia is more important in childhood and in maturer years, tuberculosis in early manhood.

HEAVY WATER DRINKER.

E. L. Y. writes:

1. I drink an enormous lot of water. Is this harmful.

2. Does hot water act on the bowels?

3. I believe the lime in the city water is giving me kidney trouble. Is this possible?

REPLY.

1. It may be. Why do you do it? Have you diabetes?

2. Yes, to some extent.

3. Probably not. Hard waters are harmless, as a rule.

ROACHES HATE BORIC ACID.

Mrs. R. F. writes. What is the name of that acid that is used to get rid of roaches?

REPLY.

Boric acid.

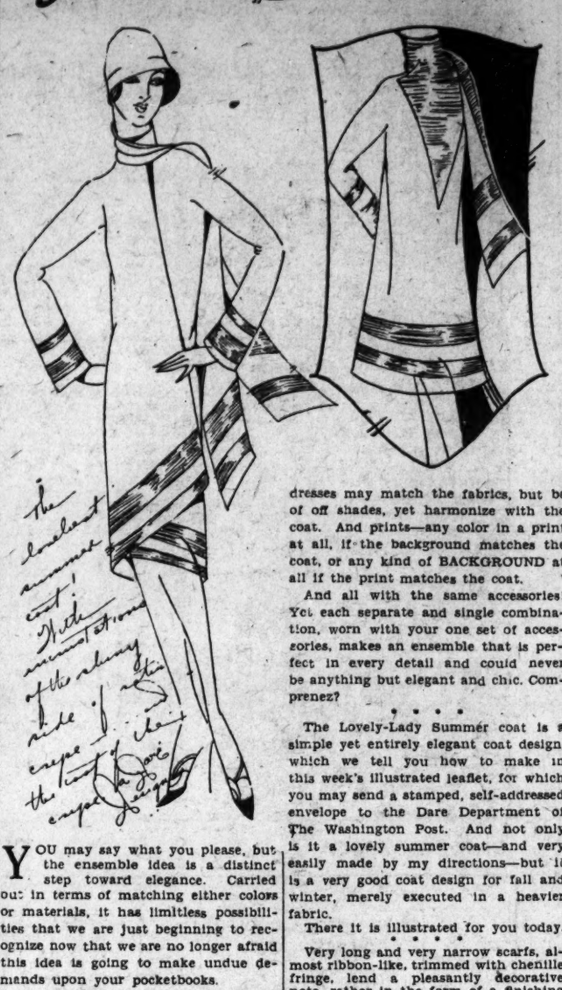
Jane Claire INTERPRETS the MODE



YOU may say what you please, but the ensemble idea is a distinct step toward elegance. Carried out in terms of matching either colors or materials, it has limitless possibilities that we are just beginning to recognize now that we are no longer afraid this idea is going to make undue demands upon your pocketbooks.

Au contraire, the ensemble has real economical possibilities! The while it absolute assures one of painless elegance, as it were—a sartorial harmony that does not have to be thought out every time one dresses.

• • • •

Base an ensemble, for example, on one coat. Suppose that this coat is like the one we illustrated for you today, of reversible satin crepe, using the crepe for the body and the satin for the incrustations, and lined in georgette. In any one color, such as gray, beige, green, yellow, or even black, think of the possibilities in dresses and hats! One dress may be of satin, one of crepe, one of the georgette—matching the coat in color. Then three other dresses may match the fabrics, but be of off shades, yet harmonize with the coat. And prints—any color in a print at all, if the background matches the coat, or any kind of BACKGROUND at all if the print matches the coat.

And all with the same accessories! Yet each separate and single combination, worn with your one set of accessories, makes an ensemble that is perfect in every detail and could never be anything but elegant and chic. Comprenez?

• • • •

The Lovely-Lady Summer coat is a simple yet entirely elegant coat design, which we tell you how to make in this week's illustrated leaflet, for which you may send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post. And not only is it a lovely summer coat—and very easily made by my directions—but it is a very good coat design for fall and winter, merely executed in a heavier fabric.

There it is illustrated for you today.

• • • •

Very long and very narrow scarfs, almost ribbon-like, trimmed with chenille fringe, lend a pleasantly decorative note, rather in the form of a finishing touch to summer dresses.

• • • •

Venetian Stockings.

Venetian stockings! Glamorous as a Venetian night, fascinating as a Venetian belle, made of gold or silver tulle with lace insertions reembroidered and beaded. Doesn't the picture of them just take your breath away? And your sheckles, too, I assure you!

• • • •

Just today in which to send your stamped, self-addressed envelope for the Lovely-Lady dress leaflet. You can make this garment up as a street dress, an afternoon gown or a party frock. We tell you how to make the variations.

• • • •

By all means look for the weekly Dare fashion letter in The Post each Sunday. You will enjoy it.

A Little Saturday Talk.

HOT OR COLD?

ANOTHER month has come along a month which is one of the warmest in the year. Except for August it has no rival for heat, and sometimes it beats August in that respect.

Speaking of heat makes me think of the difference in the way people of various parts of the world regard extreme heat and extreme cold. People in hot climates can stand hot days, but they protest when it grows hotter than usual—on such days they think they would like a winter day. People in cold climates feel much the same way about days which are colder than usual—they want the opposite.

It is interesting to think of the different punishments which people of early times spoke about for the wicked after death. Those who lived around the Mediterranean sea said that the wicked would suffer from intense heat or burning. The Norsemen, on the other hand, spoke of a bitterly cold place for men who did not die "like heroes" in battle. I fancy that if you had told a Norseman that he would go to a hot place if he did not die like a hero, he would have said, "Lead me to it!"

"The fact is, however, that people from a very cold climate suffer when they come to a warm climate. Eskimos, for example, have sometimes ventured as far south as the United States, but before long they have turned around in order to get back to their nice, cold weather.

Several years ago I read a poem about a negro who went far to the North in search of gold, I believe. He suffered from the cold, and one day he was found frozen. His comrades grieved over his death, for he had been a good fellow. In accordance with his wish, his body was taken to a settlement for cremation: Into a furnace the negro was shoved. Some time later one of his friends looked into the furnace to see whether the cremation was complete. Wonder of wonders! The black man had come back to life! But instead of trying to scramble out of the furnace, he shouted, "Close dat door!"

BEHIND THE SCREENS

With NELSON B. BELL.

It is to Miss Elisabeth E. Poe, a helpful associate on The Post and a cousin of the principal in the story, that I am indebted for the following item:

Washington friends of Johnny Poe, Princeton football star and soldier of fortune, are recalling in connection with the presentation here of the talking motion picture, "The Black Watch," that Poe died while fighting with the Black Watch regiment in France during the World War.

Johnny Poe had fought in many wars in Central and South America, always ready when a scrap began in any part of the world to join in it. So, when the World War broke out, he joined up with a Canadian regiment first. Then on his arrival in England he wished to transfer to the famous Black Watch because of his Scotch ancestry. The Black Watch always dressed in kilts, winning thereby the nickname from the German soldiers of "The Ladies from Hell."

Poe, when brought before the recruiting officer of the Black Watch, was asked the place of his birth. "Baltimore, Maryland," he replied.

"Poe," said the officer, "there is a long hall outside this room. You go out there, walk up and down it for a long time, think hard and then return and answer my question."

Poe followed instructions, and upon reappearing was again asked his place of birth.

"Dover," he replied.

Thus Johnny Poe, Princeton athlete and soldier, and third cousin of Edgar Allen Poe, the poet, entered the Black Watch. He entered its long list of heroes at the battle of Loss, September 25, 1915, true to the end to its patriotic traditions. As he fell, he said: "Never mind me. Go ahead."

Frederick B. Warde, noted Shakespearian actor for half a century, recently expressed some thoughts on the theater for the benefit of Mr. Hubbard Keavy, Pacific Coast representative who frequently composes pungent pieces for these columns, somewhat to wit:

"The theater today lacks the romance, ideality, imagination and poetry of the theater of 50 years ago, and the change is due to the public taste, which is a reflex of modern conditions.

"Today the drama is presenting life with great accuracy and detail, with very matter-of-fact dialogue, in contrast to yesterday's theater, which was highly romantic and imaginative. Nevertheless, the theater always will be the popular form of entertainment because it is the most human of all entertainments.

"The line of demarcation between the talkies and the speaking stage is that man has perfected one and God the other, so to speak. The stage has the God-given gift of actual voice trained and cultivated by the individual, and the other is a reproduction."

Though Warde, who retired a few years ago after 61 years in the theater, never has heard a talking picture, he does not condemn the new medium of expression, for, he says, it is bringing the drama to everyone at a reasonable cost, something the speaking stage could not do.

But he believes the talkies never can replace the stage for the reason that they lack the personal magnetism that comes from actual sight of an individual performing.

Warde, who is 87, has been studying Shakespeare since he ran away from home at nine. He has written several books on Shakespeare and on the theater, and since his retirement has given much of his time to lectures before high school and university assemblies. His best known book is "Fifty Years of Make Believe."

I am happy to have my views recently expounded in a Sabbath issue of The Post corroborated by so distinguished a Thespian as Mr. Warde, when he professes the belief that the talking never can supplant a human actor in the matter of audience appeal. They are a fine substitute but not a duplication.

Marilyn Miller, Irene Bordoni, Pearl Eaton, Lola Lane, Charlotte Greenwood, Belle Baker, the Fairbanks twins, the Brox Sisters, Peggy Wood, Sophie Tucker, Winnie Lightner, Ann Pennington, Babe Kane, Mary Eaton and Fannie Brice.

These are the names of some of the girls who warbled and hoofed in Gotham or around the vode routes, but who are in Hollywood or on their way to be starred or featured in the talkies.

It is rumored that some of the boys from Broadway are on the West Coast, too.

One of the most distinctive personalities of the screen, Mabel Normand, never will be seen in pictures again. Her friends say she is making a great fight agianst tuberculosis and at last repost was regaining a little strength.

Miss Normand, who in private life is Mrs. Lew Cody, now 34, first worked before the camera in 1910 for D. W. Griffith at Biograph. Previously she had been an artist's model for Charles Dana Gibson.

Lew, also, so I am told, is making a valiant fight on his own account out on the edge of the desert. They don't always get the breaks, these movie people.

Droll gellows, these real estate men.

My office mate, Mr. Daly, has been shopping about a bit for a suitable homestead, and recently was offered a river frontage where, it was pointed out, a fine irrigation project could be put under way by a little judicious tampering with the Potomac. The price quoted was $80,000.

Mr. Daly informs me that he was much struck with the homesite, but not at that price by a damsite!

What Today Means to You

JULY 6.

"CANCER."

IF JULY 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this day are from 8:30 a. m. to 9:30 a. m., from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m., and from 10 p. m. to 11 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m.

This date will prove to be a vivid link with the past, as old associations will be revived. The important events of the day will be in connection with the home and home ties, and little interest will be taken in outside affairs.

The child born July 5 will be cursed by the habit of procrastination. It will forever be in search for lost time. It will have a cautious nature, and a very frugal one. An even temper, and a placid nature will, however, make its personality attractive.

You have a fastidious, very reserved, and very independent character. You are a stickler for form and formalities—your manners are perfect. It is expected that you will do the right thing at the right time. Life interests and amuses you, and your admirers are legion, but few ever feel that they really know you, or are near to you. Your aloofness is a guard against familiarity.

You dislike gossip and backslapping human beings. If you are not a warm friend, you are a sincere one, and you never betray a confidence. Your magnetism and fascinating charm has the power to kindle the inward emotions of love in others but you will never be scorched by these fires yourself. You are not willing to take the bitter with the sweet, and it is doubtful if you will ever allow yourself to really love any one. Your fear of pain has made you shut the doors against the sweetest thing in life. You will never throw your whole heart and soul into anything, and your attitude toward your work will be too superficial to bring about the results which could be expected from one of your ability. You will never take off your mask and the world will never know whether you are happy or successful or not.

Successful people born July 6:

John Paul Jones—Naval officer.

John L. Beveridge—U. S. senator.

Randolph Rogers—Sculptor.

Benjamin F. Underwood—Author and lecturer.

Emperor Maximilian of Mexico.

Cecil Rhodes—Empire builder.

HOLDINGS INCREASE IN DISCOUNTED BILLS

Banks Also Report Expansion of $36,400,000 in Reserve Deposits.

STOCK TRADING IS HEAVY

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

An increase for the week of $38,400,000 in total bills and securities and one of $108,900,000 in holdings of discounted bills, partially offset by decreases of $8,900,000 in bills bought in open market and $8,100,000 in United States Government securities, were set forth yesterday in the consolidated statement of condition of Federal Reserve banks July 3, made public by the Federal Reserve Board.

Member bank reserve deposits increased $36,400,000 and Federal reserve note circulation $77,800,000, while cash reserves declined $31,300,000 and Government deposits $25,800,000. Holdings of discounted bills gained $107,700,000 at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, $12,600,000 at Atlanta, $9,500,000 at San Francisco and $4,500,000 at St. Louis and receded $24,000,000 at Boston, $9,100,000 at Philadelphia and $4,100,000 at Chicago.

The system's holdings of bills bought in open market declined $8,900,000, of Treasury notes $6,200,000 and of Treasury certificates $2,400,000, while holdings of United States bonds increased $500,000. Federal reserve note circulation increased during the week at all reserve banks except Cleveland, which shows a reduction of $2,300,000. The principal increases by districts were: New York, $27,200,000; Chicago, $14,800,000; San Francisco, $14,400,000; Boston, $6,500,000, and Philadelphia, $5,200,000.

Advance in Loans Reported.

A $227,000,000 advance in loans on securities to brokers and dealers over the preceding week was shown in the statement of condition of weekly reporting member banks in central reserve cities by the Federal Reserve Board yesterday, the total being $5,769,000,000, an increase of $1,462,000,000 over the week ended July 3, 1928.

Loans for own account totaled $1,355,000,000, or $217,000,000 above the previous week and $123,000,000 above the similar period a year ago. Loans for account of out-of-town banks aggregated $1,580,000,000, a gain of $44,000,000 over the week before and $88,000,000 above the corresponding period last year. Loans for account of others amounted to $2,934,000,000. This was a decrease of $35,000,000 from last week, but an increase of $263,000,000 over the same comparative period in 1928.

Commercial Transactions Decline.

Commercial transactions during the last week of June as reflected by check payments declined from the preceding week, but were larger than in the corresponding week of 1928, according to the weekly statement of the Department of Commerce.

The general level of wholesale prices showed a further fractional gain over the previous week, and was slightly lower than a year ago. Iron and steel prices continued to decline, although exceeding last year's level. Prices for wheat and copper showed no change from the week before. Activity in steel plans, while lower than during the previous week, showed a considerably higher rate of operation than for the same week of last year, and the output of bituminous coal likewise declined from the preceding week, but was greater than a year ago.

Interest rates on both time and call loans advanced sharply from last week's average, and were substantially greater than a year ago. Bond prices, reflecting the higher rates of interest, declined from the average of the previous week and continued below last year's level. Business failures were slightly less than in the previous week and only a fraction above the total for the corresponding week of 1928.

Receipts of cotton were slightly greater than during either the previous week or the comparative period a year ago. Receipts of cattle also showed a gain over both periods while hog receipts, however, were smaller than for either the preceding week or the corresponding one of last year. Wheat receipts showed a substantial gain for both prior periods.

Offer to Exchange Holdings.

An offer from the North American Co., which controls the Washington Railway & Electric Co., has been extended to local common-stock holders in the local company, giving them opportunity to exchange holdings at the rate of one share of common for five shares of common of the North American Co. The offer to the minority stockholders is good until July 31.

The North American Co., completed control of the Washington Railway & Electric Co. in March, 1928, by purchase of a large block of stock and the former company is now reported to own all but less than 10,000 shares of the local company's common. The local company's common stock listed on the Washington Stock Exchange, opened this year at 520 and later sold as high as 610, selling last at 575. Its par value is 100 and it pays 7 per cent.

Trading in the stock has been low nevertheless, only 49 shares having transferred since January 1, this indicating the willingness of holders to carry it and see if it would go higher. Common stock of the North American Co. is listed on the New York Stock Exchange and is now selling around $147 a share with a 1 per cent annual dividend in stock. Under the exchange offer at present market prices for North American, holders of Washington Railway & Electric common would receive about $735 a share.

New Stock to Be Issued.

L. O. Bolton, local branch manager of Commercial Credit Co., commercial bankers, of Baltimore, stated yesterday that announcement was made by A. E. Duncan, chairman of the board of the company, that stockholders at their special meeting adopted the recent recommendation of the directors to create an issue of 1,000,000 shares of class "A" convertible stock with par value $50 per share, which shall have preference over the common stock, leaving the dividend rate thereon, callable price and prices for conversion to be determined by the directors.

Recommendations adopted also provide for an increase of the authorized issue of common stock from 1,200,000 to 3,000,000 shares of no par value, the greater portion of which is to provide for conversion into common stock of the class "A" convertible stock, and authorization of the directors to issue from time to time all or any part of shares of the class "A" convertible stock or common stock without first offering common shares to common stockholders, although in the discretion of the directors such common stock may first be offered to common stockholders. The company will shortly announce its plans for an increase of its capital stock to provide for its steadily expanding business.

Stock Trading Is Heavy.

The largest volume of business in the stock division of the Washington Stock Exchange in three months was recorded yesterday when 2,145 shares changed hands, the aggregate representing a 1,924-share advance over Wednesday's total. Total bond transactions, $10,100, also represented an $800 gain above Wednesday's business.

The high stock volume was swelled appreciably by a 770-share sale of Real Estate Mortgage & Guaranty preferred at 7¼, fractional advance, and Capital Traction Co. sold up to 95 for the first time in weeks. There were 85 shares of this issue traded, 60 shares exchanging at the new top. Washington Railway & Electric preferred sold to the extent of 50 shares at fractional advances from 94½. The largest bond sale was a $2,000 lot of Georgetown Gas 5s at 100, last sale price.

2 STONE WITNESSES FORM NEW MYSTERY

State Refuses to Divulge the Names of Persons Expected to Talk at Trial.

WIDOW WEEPS IN CELL

Special to The Washington Post.

Belair, Md., July 5.—Identity of the two mysterious witnesses against Mrs. Hattie Stone, of Havre de Grace, Md., who is being held in the county jail at Belair on a charge of poisoning her 15-year-old son, George Stone, today constituted the chief topic of speculative interest among those following the case.

Charles J. Zeitler, former Havre de Grace druggist, is understood to have given the names of the mysterious witnesses to State's Attorney W. Worthington Hopkins, but the latter has insisted upon keeping their names secret.

Mrs. Stone wept today for the first time since her arrest on June 12, it was reported at the jail. She burst into tears and protested her innocence while talking with several tourists, it was said. Mrs. Stone emphatically denied the accusation of Zeitler, who returned from Oklahoma Wednesday to assist authorities in their investigation, that she often had tried to purchase a certain drug from him.

A eport on the chemical analysis of the stomach contents of Edward Stone, Mrs. Stone's husband, and her older son, Edgar, whose bodies were exhumed, was expected early this week, but Hopkins said that he does not expect the chemists' report for still another week.

Edward Stone died eighteen months ago and Edgar two years ago. George, chemists reported, died of strychnine poisoning, and the analysis being made of the stomach contents of his father and brother is, chiefly, to learn whether or not they died of the same cause. The death of Mrs. Emma Stone, Mrs. Hattie Stone's mother-in-law, four years ago, is also under suspicion.

Mr. Hopkins said that even if it is found that Edward Stone and Edgar died of strychnine poisoning their deaths will have no bearing on the trial of Mrs. Hattie Stone, provided the September grand jury indicts her for George's death. If poison is found, the deaths of her husband and older son will conatitute separate cases.

Mrs. Stone was visited at the jail Thursday by Mary Washburn and Helen Simpers, Salvation Army girls from Havre de Grace. Jailers said Mrs. Stone told them she "got a lot of comfort" from the visit of the Salvation Army workers.

Woman, Whose Car Hit Bus, Faces Suit

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., July 5.—Mrs. Edith Claxton, of Cleveland, Ohio, here with Mrs. E. E. Robbins, also of Cleveland, was sued today by the Eastern Public Service Corporation, which operates fleets of de luxe motor buses out of Washington over half a dozen Virginia routes, for a $50 repair bill, as a result of damages, alleged to have been done to one of the company's machines in a collision with Mrs. Claxton's touring car.

Mrs. Claxton had been arraigned in police court, where Magistrate Weems refused to impose a fine on a reckless driving charge in view of her being a visitor from another State. She returned to her apartment house to nurse numerous cuts and bruises, only to be served with the civil suit papers and have her car impounded. Mrs. Robbins, who was uninjured, returned to Cleveland tonight by train.

The women were en route to Roanoke on a sightseeing tour. Mrs. Claxton's machine is said to have figured in another accident yesterday near Hancock, Md., when it ran into an earth bank.

Sisters Become Brides At Double Ceremony

Special to The Washington Post.

Westernport, Md., July 5.—A double wedding was solemnized at the Presbyterian manse at Keyser by the Rev. John A. Wood, Miss Mary Dorris Harr becoming the bride of Emory Kitzmiller and Miss Edna Frances Harr the bride of Wade L. Ritchie. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harr, Oak View, Westernport. After graduating from Bruce High School here, they took normal courses at Potomac State College and became teachers. Mrs. Kitzmiller taught four years and Mrs. Ritchie two years. Mr. Kitzmiller is employed by the Martin Road Construction Co. and Mr. Ritchie by the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co.

VIRGINIA OBITUARY.

Heathsville, July 5.—Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Percifull Jones, who died at her home in Urbanna, Va., Saturday, were conducted by the Revs. Tucker, Riddick and H. C. Clark. Interment was in the family burying ground. Mrs. Jones was the widow of T. G. Jones, for many years Commonwealth attorney of Middlesex County. The following children survive: Mrs. Frank W. Motley, of Sharps; Mrs. Otis M. Clark, of Gloucester; T. G. Jones, of Rappahannock; Messrs. Carey and Lewis Jones and Dr. W. P. Jones, Misses Mary Lou and Blanche Jones, of Urbanna.

Petersburg, Va., July 5.—Sydney H. Harrison, 76, native of Petersburg, died yesterday at his home here. He was a son of the late Anthony and Anna Rebecca Hardy Harrison. His wife survives with the following children: H. C., R. S., Herbert and Graham Harrison; Mrs. George Chambliss, Mrs. A. J. Redmond, Mrs. George Gerow and Miss E. C. Harrison, of this city; also a brother, Martin L. Harrison, of Washington, D. C., and a sister, Mrs. James M. Vaughan, of this city.

Pierce M. Kilmartin, 57, druggist of Waverly, died early this morning at his home there. Mr. Kilmartin formerly lived in Petersburg, where he was born. He is survived by his wife, four sons, two daughters, two brothers and a sister.

Harrisonburg, July 5.—S. M. Burkholder, 81, chairman of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities in Virginia and a retired West Rockingham farmer and former public school teacher, died this morning at Dale Enterprise, near Harrisonburg. Death was due to paralysis. Funeral services will be held Sunday at Weaver's Church.

Berryville, July 5.—Mrs. Lucy Ashton Gash, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. George E. Pflaster, of Glenmeade, Loudoun County, died last night at her home at Underhill, near Brevard, N. C. She is survived by her husband, Robert L. Gash, and a son. Interment will be made in the family lot in Loudoun County tomorrow with services conducted by the Rev. Mr. Franks rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Berryville. Mrs. Gash was a sister of Mrs. A. P. Osborne, of Berryville.

CHOKING THEORY HIT IN WIFE-KILLING CASE

DIDN'T VOICE HIS DOUBTS

Chester, S. C., July 5 (A.P.).—A physician who attended the second autopsy of Faye Wilson King, at Kings Mountain, N. C., testified today that he was "satisfied" the woman was not choked to death.

Called to the witness stand by the defense of Rafe King, the woman's husband, who is charged with her murder, Dr. S. S. Royster, of Shelby, N. C., declared he did not believe the physicians performing the autopsy had made sufficient examination to determine that she died from strangulation.

Further Examination Necessary.

In response to questioning by Judge B. T. Falls, of the defense counsel, Dr. Royster said to have been "morally certain" that if her death was caused by choking it would have been necessary to cut into the muscles of her throat and examine the windpipe and other parts of the throat.

Previous testimony had brought out that the other physicians at the autopsy had decided she had been choked when they discovered the bruised condition of the blood vessels under the skin on either side of the throat.

The 62-year-old physician, however, was attacked by the prosecution on cross-examination for not having given the other physicians the benefit of his doubts.

Under the heated and almost bitter questioning of Col. Arthur L. Gaston, on cross-examination Dr. Royster became plainly angered and declared, "I have told you at least half a dozen times I was sent to look on at the autopsy and not to take charge."

Scores Physician's Silence.

"But you heard Dr. Robert E. Abell and the other doctors say they were satisfied she died by being choked. Don't you think that as a man you should have done anything you could to have proved Rafe King didn't do it?" Gaston shouted.

Dr. Royster also testified on direct examination that the injection of embalming fluid into the woman's stomach and the double washing given it might have removed any poison contained in it. He testified that no effort was made to discover if the burns on the outside of her lips extended inside her throat. He said to have done this her jawbone should have been removed and a careful examination made.

Murder 15 Years Ago Charged to Man in Jail

Special to The Washington Post.

Chatham, Va., July 5.—Ernest Williams, recently arrested at Covington and now reported to be serving a jail term for violating the liquor law, will be brought back here at the end of his term to face trial for a murder committed fifteen years ago.

According to Sheriff Charles Murphy, Williams is wanted for killing a colored youth by hitting him on the head with a piece of wood. Williams is said to have spent most of his time since then in West Virginia coal mines. The sheriff is hunting for witnesses in the case.

West Point Cadets See 2 Tank Drills

R. O. T. C. at Fort Meade in Evening Gives Dance to Visiting Class.

Special to The Washington Post.

Fort Meade, Md., July 5.—Two tank demonstrations were put on today by the members of the United States Army Tank School here for the 248 cadets and 11 officers from the United States Military Academy who were here for a two-day visit. The visiting cadets are members of the class which will graduate next June.

Forty tanks, 25 of them light and 15 heavy, together with 247 men, participated in the two demonstrations as the cadets looked on. The tank corps worked out a firing problem on range for the visitors.

Tonight the cadets were guests of the R. O. T. C. of Fort Meade at a dance given in the gymnasium of the Tank School. The West Pointers will leave for the academy tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Hoover and Party Journey to Camp

Weather to Smile on Week-End Fishing Efforts in Blue Ridge.

Criglersville, Va., July 5 (U.P.).—President Hoover and a party of friends arrived safely at their Shenandoah National Park fishing preserve late tonight after an uneventful trip from the capital.

At the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains, where the party changed to smaller cars for the trip up the tortuous mountain trails, the President was met by Mrs. Hoover and his son, Herbert, jr., who had driven down alone a few hours earlier.

Accompanying the President were his old friend and neighbor, Dr. Vernon S. Kellogg; Walter Newton, White House secretary; Lieut. Comdr. Joel T. Boone, White House physician, and Mark Sullivan and William Hard, Washington journalists. The party will remain in camp until Sunday afternoon or Monday morning.

Threatening skies which prevailed at the Capital as the party motored from the White House cleared tonight in the vicinity of the Presidential weekend camp, but the heavy roads made automobile progress slow up the mountain side.

Odd Fellows' Orchestra Buys Big Bus for Trip

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., July 5.—The Spanish Serenaders, an orchestra composed of boys and girls at the Odd Fellows home here, has bought a 15-passenger bus, which is to be used in taking the orchestra over the State for engagements.

The orchestra appears tonight at Hillsville and tomorrow night at Galax. A trip is being planned for Norfolk, Richmond and Newport News next month.

Lynchburg Boy Scouts In Camp for Fortnight

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., July 5.—Thirty Lynchburg Boy Scouts are in camp for two weeks at Camp Tye Brook, on the Tye River, Nelson County.

The camp is under direction of C. B. Woodhead, executive of the local council. It will be operated in three periods of six weeks each.

Registration Books Missing; Fairfax Repolling Ordered

Names Must Be Recorded Again to Be Able to Vote in Election for Water and Sewer Bonds; No Quiz in Disappearance.

Due to loss of registration books containing names of all qualified voters, residents of Fairfax, Va., were notified yesterday that they must register again if they desire to vote in the approaching election to determine if bonds for water and sewers are to be issued. The election is scheduled for August 6.

Loss of the registration books was discovered several days ago when the Town Council, expecting the election to be close, sought to inspect the books to determine who was eligible to vote.

While the council has not launched any investigation into the disappearance of the books, it was learned that the last registration was in 1923 when a school bond election was held, and that since then the town registrar has moved away. He is Alfred Michelson. He moved from Fairfax last year, and no one in the town knows his whereabouts, which forestalls efforts to determine the fate of the books from him.

When the loss of the books was discovered the Town Council immediately began preparations to remedy the situation. Among the steps taken was passage of a special ordinance requiring all persons to register before the date of the special bond election and the appointment of Robert D. Graham, clerk of council, as special registrar.

Graham took over his new duties yesterday, and was kept busy all day registering the voters. He announced he would be in his office in the Richardson building every week day until August 5.

WIFE FILES ACTION AGAINST W. H. HART

"Great Cruelty and Brutality" Laid to Annapolis Real Estate Operator.

PLEA MADE FOR ALIMONY

Annapolis, Md., July 5.—Charging "great cruelty and brutality" and asking alimony, Mrs. Beatrice E. Hart, wife of Walter H. Hart, wealthy real estate dealer of Annapolis, has filed action for divorce in the circuit court of Anne Arundel County. Mrs. Hart sets forth that her husband is reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in the community because of his extensive property holdings, that his annual income is approximately $35,000, and charges that his maltreatment in recent years has been so grave that it has destroyed her peace of mind and impaired her health.

Mrs. Hart asserts in the bill that she has no means of support and seeks alimony commensurate with her husband's financial standing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart were married in New York in September, 1900, but later moved to Philadelphia, where they lived until 1911, when they came to Annapolis and established their home at Eastport. Mrs. Hart charges "abandonment" four years ago, although they lived in the same house until recently.

Aside from the marital rift, Mr. Hart has come into public notice in other actions. In November, 1927, he was fined $10 for common assault by Police Justice John W. Anderson upon complaint of Mrs. Myrtle Sears, tenant of one of Mr Hart's houses in Dean street. It was alleged that Hart, while inspecting the house for possible improvements, kissed Mrs. Sears. He appealed from the magistrate's decision and Judge Robert Moss, in the local circuit court, reversed the magistrate's decision.

Hart pressed a damage claim of $25,000 against the city, former Mayor Howard and former Building Inspector Gardiner because of alleged financial losses when the city stopped work on an apartment house in Hanover street, owned by Hart, for alleged noncompliance with building regulations. This action fell through.

He was at one time fined $6.75 for driving his auto over a fire hose.

Hart, who is an Englishman, has been deeply interested in promoting the local branch of the Salvation Army. He also has been a factor of charitable and other movements.

Oldest Resident Of Hancock Dead

Mrs. Amanda Kuhn, 97, Was Hurt in Fall; Keen Judge of Politics.

Special to The Washington Post.

Hancock, Md., July 5.—Mrs. Amanda Kuhn, Hancock's oldest resident, age 97 years and 6 months, died at her home here as the result of injuries received in a fall some time ago. She retained her mental faculties until almost the last. Mrs. Kuhn was an uncompromising Democrat and could discuss politics intelligently. Her memory was sharp and she could recall events of more than 90 years ago. She voted at the last election.

Mrs. Kuhn was the mother of the late George Walter Alonzo Kuhn, Mrs. Imogene Dodson and Miss Ada Kuhn. Her immediate survivors are two granddaughters, Mrs. Verona Rouse, wife of Edgar Rouse, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Ada Dodson, who resided with her grandmother.

The body was taken to Thurmont, Md., for burial Wednesday, beside her husband, George Kuhn, who died many years ago. She was born at that place when it was known as Mechanicstown. Funeral services were conducted at her home here by the Rev. W. G. Sampson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Petersburg Man Owner Of Record-Breaking Cow

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., July 5.—Hatcher S. Seward is owner of a Holstein cow which has just broken the State record in her class. The junior 4-year-old, owned by Mr. Seward, is the champion of the four-time milking in the ten-month division, having during that time produced 558.98 pounds of butterfat, which is equivalent to 698.7 pounds of butter from 15,486.7 pounds of milk.

This record surpasses the former State mark established in 1924 and made by a cow of the same herd. Mr. Seward's cow this year produced 55 pounds more butterfat and 1,200 pounds more milk. The record-making cow has been raised at Mr. Seward's farm in Prince George County, near Petersburg.

FREDERICK PASTOR GIVEN TESTIMONIAL

Rev. Schwallenberg Is Guest at Banquet on Eve of Departure.

LEAVES FOR BALTIMORE

Special to The Washington Post.

Frederick, Md., July 5.—Concluding a pastorate of five years at St. John's Catholic Church, the Rev. Francis A. Schwallenberg was given a testimonial banquet at the Hotel Braddock, Braddock Heights, by the men of his congregation. Frank M. Payne was toastmaster, and remarks were made by the Rev. J. M. Finnerty, assistant pastor, W. Clinton McSherry, William B. Lebherz, Emery Baer and Robert Lebherz. The speakers paid a high tribute to the work of Father Schwallenberg, in this city, outstanding of which was the building of the new St. John's School and the advancement made by the institution.

Father Schwallenberg in responding expressed regret over leaving St. John's but adding that he appreciated the loyalty and cooperation extended to him during his stay in Frederick. On behalf of the congregation he was presented a purse of $600 and a sick call set.

Father Schwallenberg was recently assigned to the Church of Our Lady of Good Council, Baltimore, and will be succeeded by the Rev. J. J. Coolahan, of Rockville, who was given a similar testimonial at the latter place. Father Schwallenberg left today for Baltimore and Father Coolahan, will arrive here tomorrow.

Page County Creek Looms as Resort

U. S. and State Officials Inspect the Roads to Trout Stream.

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., July 5.—Following up the inspection trip here a few weeks ago of Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, Federal and State officials have this week been inspecting the vicinity of Jeremy's Run, famed Page County trout stream, with the view of establishing a Government recreation and fishing retreat.

During the past week members of the United States Bureau of Good Roads, accompanied by park and State officials, investigated the roads leading to and along the stream.

This stream and one running down the other side of the Blue Ridge, in Rappahannock County, are, it is said to be taken over for use by the Government officials, including probably President Hoover, who has paid one visit to this county since his inauguration. If selected, which seems probable, plans similar to those being carried out on the Rapidan, in Madison County, will probably be followed. Rights on the noted Page County stream for all fishing were secured some time ago by William E. Carson, chairman of the State Conservation and Development Commission, for Mr. Hoover.

Tariff Issue Will Be Aired At Virginia U. Public Forum

Senator David Walsh and Alfred Dennis Will Be Speakers.

Alfred P. Dennis, vice chairman of the Tariff Commission (right), and Senator David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts, will be speakers at the third Institute of Public Affairs, at the University of Virginia, August 4 to 17.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., July 5.—The tariff question will be aired from all angles during the two weeks session of the third Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia, August 4-17.

Dr. Charles G. Maphis, director of the institute, has invited Republicans and Democrats to present both sides of the important question that will be taken up as soon as Congress reassembles just two days after the institute session ends.

Alfred P. Dennis, vice chairman of the Tariff Commission, is to address the public meeting of the institute on the night of Tuesday, August 6, in the McIntire Amphitheater. His subject will be "Tariffs as Trade Barriers."

Senator David I. Walsh, of Massachusetts, has accepted an invitation to speak at the public session on Friday, August 9. He will discuss the proposed tariff legislation from the Democratic point of view, with special reference to the probable effect of its passage upon agricultural conditions.

Invitations to discuss this question have been extended to Dr. Thomas Walker Page, former chairman of the Tariff Commission, and to Cordell Hull, Democratic representative from Tennessee. Dr. Maphis is also negotiating with several Republican leaders who have assured him that one or more speakers representing the administration will have a part on the program.

The tariff will also come up for discussion in several of the round-table parleys which are to be held each morning. Senator Walsh, Mr. Dennis, and others from Washington will probably take part in these conferences.

One session of the round table on Latin American relations will be devoted to a discussion of the effect of tariff barriers upon these countries. The question will also come up for consideration in the round table on the industrial and economic development of the South.

The finance committee of the Senate is now in session in Washington working out the schedules that will be submitted to Congress when this body reassembles on August 19. Dean Maphis has invited several memoers of this committee, in addition to Senator Walsh, to participate in the sessions of the institute.

Final details of the program are now being shaped up.

Most of the open forum discussion and public addresses will be built around the eight general topics that have been made on the subject of round-table conferences. These are crime and law enforcement, Latin-American relations, industrialization of the South, country life of the Nation, problems of the country church, press and public affairs, problems of contemporary politics and democracy as operative in America.

Speakers for all these round tables have been chosen with care so as to present various points of view. These round tables will be held each morning at 9 o'clock, and will be followed by the open forum discussions in Cabell Hall at 11 o'clock. The public addresses will be given each night in the McIntire Amphitheater.

SHENANDOAH SEEKS INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

Survey Is to Be Made as First Step in Inviting Outside Investments.

WATER POWER IS AMPLE

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., July 5.—Following the lines laid down by the State Chamber of Commerce, the engineering department of the University of Virginia has been authorized to conduct an industrial survey of conditions surrounding Shenandoah, this county, with the view to opening the way in this section for possible investors in industrial development.

The industrial survey was ordered by the Shenandoah Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon held at the Y. M. C. A. and the report will embrace every advantage to be offered here, including water power, labor conditions and other technical matters.

The local chamber for some months has been working out plans to induce manufacturers seeking Southern sites to look over the prospects offered here. The industrial survey will be the one taken by Waynesboro prior to the construction of the Du Pont Rayon plant there.

Many industries are said to have been in touch with the local chamber's industrial committee as to possible location. The city is well supplied with water power from the Shenandoah River and famous Bear Lithia Spring, the latter having a supply of 3,000,000 gallons a day.

This city is the site of the central plant of the Norfolk & Western Railroad shops of the valley division, and is the terminal for the north and south ends of this division of the railroad. In addition to the railroad shops, it has a number of smaller industries.

George Smith is the new vice president. Thomas E. Gilchrist, Leo T. Downey, Leander Schaidt, Franklin H. Ankeney and Thomas W. Peters are the new members of the board of directors. The holdover members are Arthur J. Fitch, Thomas B. Finan, J. George Smith, Dr. Arthur H. Hawkins and Fulcher P. Smith.

GOVERNOR UPHOLDS FIRST LADY'S CRITICS

Moody, of Texas, Denying His Reproof Is Personal, Backs DePriest Incident Bill.

SOCIAL RECOGNITION HIT

Austin, Tex., July 5 (A.P.).—Gov. Moody today approved in part and disapproved in part the concurrent resolution passed by the Texas Legislature condemning Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the President of the United States, for entertaining the wife of a negro representative at a White House tea.

"Any part of this resolution which may be reasonably construed as a personal criticism of the wife of the President of the United States of America does not have my approval and I decline to have any part in it," he said in a statement filed with the document in the Secretary of State's office.

Referring to a section of the resolution which reminded Southern Democrats who voted for the Republican presidential nominee that they had been cautioned just such incidents as the one condemned might happen, the governor said: "Recognizing the right of every citizen to vote his own convictions, I do not assert the right to officially upbraid any because they exercise the liberty to hold and vote views different from mine, nor do I approve any attempt at official criticism of any citizen's vote."

The resolution had his "hearty approval" in so far as "it condemns customs that bring the two races into contact, upon the same social plane," he stated.

"Any mingling of the races upon a basis of social equality is intolerable and no precedent can justify it," he said. "The ill-effects of acts tending toward equal social recognition between the races are thoroughly demonstrated by the recent contemptible public utterances made before mixed audiences by the negro whose wife was the recipient of the invitation mentioned in the resolution."

Special to The Washington Post.

Lynchburg, Va., July 5.—An automobile driven by an unknown driver collided here yesterday with a taxicab. The police found a 5-gallon keg of liquor in the damaged car after the driver had fled. The car and keg were taken to headquarters for confiscation.

GIRL GIVEN 3 YEARS ON ASSAULT CHARGE

ROBBERY COUNT DROPPED

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., July 5.—A 20-year-old bobbed-haired woman was given a three-year penitentiary sentence, the most severe punishment for her sex meted out in years, by a Rockingham Circuit Court jury here today who found Miss Cora Snyder and her companion, Otis Patterson, 22, who was given a like sentence, guilty of malicious assault upon George Frye, recluse antique dealer, at his isolated woodland house on April 29 last. The jury deliberated less than 30 minutes, and the trial required only three hours. Neither showed any emotion when the verdict was returned.

Patterson sought to assume responsibility for the crime, but the State insisted that Miss Snyder was the "master mind" and should be punished equally with the man who committed the actual assault. Patterson, whose home is in Chesterfield County, Va., already has served a two-year sentence for housebreaking. He became acquainted with Miss Snyder's brother while both were serving in a convict camp and came to the home in the mountains west of Rawley Springs at the expiration of their terms.

The State maintained that robbery was the motive for the attack, asserting that Mrs. Snyder's mother, who worked as Frye's housekeeper for a time, was aware that the recluse had considerable money hidden about the house, and that the couple went there to get it. Both Patterson and Miss Snyder maintained, however, that they went to the Frye home after wine, while the man said he was intent upon beating up Frye because he claimed the latter had not paid Mrs. Snyder for her services.

Frye was attacked with stones when he responded to a knock at the door. The first barrage struck him in the breast and forehead. Although dazed, the old man was able to pick up an old musket and frighten off the invaders. A dozen rocks were hurled through the windows of the Frye home. After making sure the intruders had departed, Frye walked 3 miles to Harrisonburg for medical aid and to notify officers.

The couple was captured the morning following the attack in the star route mail truck en route to the Snyder home in the Shenandoah Mountains.

Satisfied with the three-year sentence on the assault charge, Commonwealth's Attorney Earman requested Judge H. W. Bertram to nolle pros an attempted robbery count against the couple. This was done. The court overruled a motion of defense counsel to set aside the verdict against Miss Snyder, the petition citing that there was no evidence to associate her with the attack other than that she was with Patterson at the time.

Auto Is Struck by Train At Crossing; One Dead

Lynchburg, Va., July 5.—Frank Davis, 72, a clerk in the postoffice at Reidsville, N. C., was fatally injured, and John Seamster, 18, son of Cabell Seamster, of Halifax, was painfully hurt this morning about 10 o'clock when their automobile was struck on a railroad crossing by train 37, Lynchburg to Durham, on the Norfolk & Western at Dudley, Halifax County. Davis, with his head and body badly mangled, died as he was being taken to the South Boston Hospital. Seamster suffered lacerations and bruises about his body. Davis and Seamster were going for a days fishing in the Staunton River when the accident occurred.
